

SEATTLE READY FOR BLACKOUT FRIDAY NIGHT

SEATTLE, March 6 (P)—High officers of the army, navy and air corps will converge here tomorrow night for what is believed to be the first blackout of a major American city since New York doused many of its lights for a 1918 submarine scare.

From Vancouver, B. C., where war is a national reality, will come a delegation to witness the 18-minute preparedness test.

Top-ranked representatives of the nation's military will be Maj. Gen. Kenyon A. Joyce of Fort Lewis, with six officers of the ninth army corps staff; Maj. Gen. John F. Curry, commander of the northwest air district, and Rear Admiral C. S. Freeman, commandant of the 13th naval district.

Army and navy airplanes will circle the city to make a photographic record of the blackout's effectiveness. On the streets of this city of close to 400,000, even a cigarette in the dark will be a violation of regulations. Cars must be parked with lights out and only emergency traffic will be allowed.

An army of 10,000 or more volunteers has been recruited to enforce the blackout. Mayor John E. Carroll, in appealing for public cooperation, said there would be no prosecutions for houses where lights showed but there would be for any motoring violations.

While wardens patrol by land, boats will do the same by bay and lakes. The maze of arrangement details include guardians for every fire alarm box in the city to safeguard against false alarm pranks.

Traffic lights which are independent of the master switches will be doused individually. Heavy paper bags will be slipped over some.

Experts have volunteered to handle electric display signs that work by complicated time clocks. Hundreds of similar problems have been hurdled by the committee which has been planning the event for weeks.

A warning will be sounded at 10:30 throughout the city and over all radio stations. The blackout will begin 10 minutes later and continue for 15 minutes.

Union Asserts It Kept Faith

"No one will be the loser except the community of Klamath Falls. We don't want Klamath Falls to lose. A proper union function is to help the community and the public at large.

"We don't want to extend the strike to include the owners' and stockholders' other businesses. We want to sit down at the table with the employer and negotiate a contract. Any further extension of the strike will be not on the head of the union.

"The signed statements of the company and the neutral referee that was mentioned above may be examined by any union man and any other responsible citizen of Klamath Falls. If there is a demand for it and the newspapers will grant us the space, a press. If the employer can show any deadline for counting cards in the minutes of the company that was signed by the company, we are prepared to concede any point that he wants in this controversy. We challenge him. Let him bring any one that will come to look these minutes over."

Signed PERCY MULVANY, Pres. I.W.A. Local No. 9-243.

John Wheeler, international representative of the International Woodworkers of America, asked Thursday that his identification be made clear under that title. He previously was erroneously called business agent for the local.

Dorris Moulding Mill Enlarged

DORRIS—The Dorris Moulding mill has been improving its property on Fourth street with the building of a huge annex which is being rushed to completion to permit the installation of a twin ripping machine in time for the spring rush of orders. The plant has been operating continuously through the winter with two shifts at work.

DREAM COME TRUE

NEW YORK, (P)—Seven-year-old Patsy Wenzel never owned a doll all her own and she wanted to enter a doll fashion show run by a welfare agency. So she dressed herself as she would have garbed her doll and told the judges about it. They gave her a special prize—a doll.

Battlefields On Bulgarian Line Cleared

Strict military control was clamped down over all communications between Bulgaria and the outside world.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Gen. Sir John G. Dill, chief of the British imperial general staff, left Athens last night, and a communique announced that they and Greek leaders had reached complete agreement "on all aspects" of the crisis.

Diplomatic action continued apace in the nervous Balkan capitals. Britain was said to be putting heavy pressure on Yugoslavia to keep her out of the axis; Turkish government quarters were quoted as saying Turkey's policy of loyalty to Britain had not been altered by a recent message from Adolf Hitler; Premier General Ion Antonescu of Rumania summoned in emergency meeting of his cabinet after a hasty conference in Vienna with Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering.

Turkey pressed defense preparations as her officially-controlled press called on Russia to halt Germany's march ever deeper into southeast Europe.

With Adolf Hitler's armies now massed within 100 miles of the Dardanelles, Turkish newspapers declared:

"Unless Russia has decided to commit suicide, she will not let Germany come near her life-giving arteries. The Dardanelles are as important to Russia as to Turkey."

The Dardanelles, linking the Black sea to the Mediterranean, provide a Russian outlet to the western world.

Government quarters in Bucharest acknowledged that Rumania had received a communication from Moscow—a message which high diplomatic sources declared was a virtual ultimatum to Rumania to cede naval bases on the Black sea to Russia.

If true, two sharply divergent explanations arose:

1. Since Rumania is German dominated, it may have been a thinly-veiled warning to Germany to beware of jeopardizing Russia's Black sea interests.

2. Or, cession of Rumanian Black sea bases may have been Russia's "price" for giving Germany the green light in the occupation of Bulgaria.

At the time Nazi troops set off for Bulgaria, Rumania mobilized a million reservists and dispatched them to the Russian border to replace German units withdrawn.

One theory expressed then was that, in her role as "protector" of Rumania, Germany would have been embarrassed by the presence of German troops on the soviet frontier if Russia made further demands on Rumania.

Zeta Tau Alpha To Receive Visit Of High Officer

All members of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority are asked to meet at the Willard hotel at 8 o'clock Saturday night at which time Margaret Faustich of Royal Oak, Mich., national field secretary, will pay her official visit to the local Zeta group.

Miss Faustich has an interesting record of campus honors and achievement. At Ohio university, Athens, O., she became a charter member of Mortar Board, served as president of the WYCA and numerous other campus positions. She is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa, having had the highest average of all women graduating in the class of 1939.

Further information in regard to the meeting may be obtained from Mrs. Paul Foster, dial 5775.

TURKEY PLANS REJECTION OF GERMAN OFFER

While awaiting a reply to his urgent and personal message to President Inonu, Hitler was revealed to be moving detachments of his Balkan "security army" up to positions along the entire length of the Bulgarian-Turkish frontier in Thrace.

British and Jewish residents of Istanbul, 150 miles east of the frontier, were frightened by the arrival of the German troops and started a rush on banks to withdraw their funds.

The German troop movements, to positions facing 300,000 to 500,000 Turkish troops holding well-fortified positions, was accompanied by scarcely-guarded hints from German embassy quarters here as to the "terrible damage" which German planes could inflict upon either Turkey or Greece from their new Bulgarian bases.

Italy Asked Closure of Consulates

In a previous announcement, the state department said the closing of the consulates was requested "for reasons of national policy."

Phraseology of the department's announcement indicated that similar action might be taken against other foreign consulates.

In the case of Germany, however, the United States has not been forced to close any consulates in that country. Germany has required the closing of American consulates in some German-occupied countries.

Italy has more than 60 consulates or consular agent offices in the United States.

The American consulates at Naples and Palermo were ordered closed by the Italian government along with all other foreign consulates in those cities on the ground that they were within military areas.

Whether they have already been closed has not been learned here yet but it was planned to transfer the personnel to the Rome embassy.

The Italian government also has restricted the movements of American correspondents.

Weather Fine At Crater Lake

Weather at Crater Lake national park was springlike Wednesday with a maximum temperature of 43 and a minimum of 19 reported by the park service Thursday morning. A light northwest wind was reported blowing with visibility at the lake excellent. Snow depth at headquarters was checked at 118 inches.

A slight crust was reported on the snow with a three-inch covering of slightly damp snow making skiing good. Roads were in excellent shape and chains are not necessary.

Henpecked?

Arthur Pellerin, 24, stands stolidly in police headquarters at Lewiston, Me., after he was charged with killing his wife, mother-in-law, nephew and aunt. The four were found dead after Pellerin, a millhand, turned a gun over to the police and asserted he had shot them because he was "henpecked."

AFL Calls Box Meet in Eugene

A meeting for the purpose of promoting the wooden box campaign in the industry and discussing a uniform wage agreement has been called by the Northwest council of the AFL Lumber and Sawmill Workers union, for Saturday and Sunday, March 7-8, at Eugene, Joe Boyd said Thursday.

Present will be Peter Terzich, editor of Seattle's Union Register, who has just completed a survey of working conditions in northwest box factories, and Kenneth Davis, executive secretary of the council.

The Northwest council was formerly known as the Oregon-Washington Council.

Owner of Laddie Gets Another Dog

Soldier, pup and movie star posed for photos and everybody seemed to be enjoying it.

While the pictures were being taken, Lieut. Eldridge told about dogs. He said there were at least 1000 of them at Fort Ord. He said the general was a good guy who believed in treating his soldiers like human beings.

The photographers finished their work. Scott tethered his second new dog, name of Mickey, and went in to lunch. He sat by Miss Durbin.

Finally he shook hands with Miss Durbin. He said he sure did appreciate that dog.

Soldier, dog and lieutenant headed back for Fort Ord.

Weygang Home To Report on African Scene

VICHY, France, March 6 (P) General Maxime Weygang, commander of the French forces in north Africa, arrived by plane this afternoon for his first face to face consultation with Chief of State Marshal Petain in five months.

He was accompanied by two officers. All wore civilian clothes. Weygang went immediately to the Parc hotel, where Petain has his headquarters.

The government announced last night that Weygang had arrived in Vichy, but today it explained that this premature announcement was issued deliberately as a "blind" intended to cover his real movements.

An official announcement today said Weygang came "to report his inspection tour of French African possessions." He left Vichy for that trip October 5.

The wording of the announcement would seem to indicate that Weygang's stay here would be short.

Turkey Doubts German Scheme

ANKARA, Turkey, March 6 (P)—The official Turkish radio, declaring that Germany's campaign in the Balkans was aimed at control of the eastern Mediterranean and Black sea, declared tonight: "This plan will be difficult to apply, especially if Yugoslavia starts to fight."

"With German bases established on the Black sea and bases about to be established on the Aegean sea, and the (existing) Italian bases in the Dodecanese islands," said the commentator, "the axis could put a certain amount of pressure on this country."

"This glorious plan will be difficult to apply especially if Yugoslavia starts to fight."

In the average motor a temperature of between 160 and 180 degrees is regarded as ideal.

Main Points Of Indo-China Row Cleared

The present armistice in the border warfare between the French colony and Thailand is scheduled to expire tomorrow, but it probably will be extended.

Japan's mediation plan, which had been presented as her last offer and the minimum acceptable to Thailand, is supposed to have required the French to agree to cede large areas of Laos and Cambodia provinces to Thailand.

(Thai forces are fully prepared to resume the fight and continue "until a decisive victory is won" unless France accepts the mediation plan, the Bangkok radio said today. If Indo-China fights, it added, "destruction of her race and religion is inevitable.")

From Eugene—V. N. Freeman, district representative of the emergency crop and seed loan, is spending several days this week at the FSA office. Freeman is from Eugene.
