Mission Program Headed By Youth Banquet Wednesday

The program for the Christian Mission which opens in Klamath Falls on Wednesday of this week has been completed and the five speakers which will come here will speak at almost 40 meetings, according to Rev. Victor Phillips, chairman of the local committee.

The Mission will open with a youth banquet for all the young people of the city at 6 Wednesday evening in the First Methodist church. Charles Uhlig will be the local presiding officer, with Miss Catherine Lyon of Portland, and Dr. Norman K. Tully of Eugene, the speakers. The youth meeting will be followed by a public mass meeting in the sanctuary of the First Methodist church, with Rev. Arthur Charles Bates, devotions, and Dr. Ray C. Dunn, of Portland, the speaker. Thursday and Friday mornings there will be meetings in the First Presbyterian church at 10 a. m.

Meetings for women will be held in the sanctuary and meetings for ministers in the Christian Endeavor room. On Thursday and Friday afternoons there will be seminars in the First Christian church led by Dr. Norman K. Tully, of Eugene, Dr. R. S. Dunn, of Portland, and the Rev. W. R. Coleman, of Medford. Mass meetings each evening in the First Methodist church.

The speakers will appear in most of the high schools in the county, as well as before church and civic groups.

The Mission is one of several being held in different leading towns of the state as a following program of the National Christian Mission recently closed in Portland.
