

BRITISH SAID LANDED NEAR GREEK BORDER

A new avenue for an expected German invasion of Greece. Usually reliable quarters in Belgrade said, however, that Germany would be asked to grant a transition period for Yugoslavia so that she might adhere to the axis without internal discord.

Bombing Reported
German warplanes were said to have already begun bombing Greek towns from bases in Bulgaria as Adolf Hitler completed the massing of 500,000 troops on the frontiers of Greece and Turkey.

Great Britain, meanwhile, challenged France's threat to convey her merchantmen with surviving units of the French fleet. Reports from Algiers, Spain, said British warships had intercepted another French freighter and had taken it into Gibraltar harbor.

Yugoslavia's reported capitulation to Germany came as all signs pointed to an imminent "zero hour" in the Balkan crisis. These included:

1. The steady southward movement of nazi troops through Bulgaria, under way for 10 days, suddenly dwindled to a trickle.
2. German staff officers were reported to have disappeared from Sofia, the Bulgarian capital, and headed for field headquarters at Plovdiva, 40 miles from the Greek border, 80 miles from Turkey.
3. Thousands of German and Bulgarian warplanes were placed for action, including siren-screaming nazi bombers exploited with terrorizing effect in western Europe last spring.

Soviet Speaks
British sources at Istanbul quoted a Greek army officer as saying German planes had raided the town of Dede Agach in Grecian Thrace—likely striking-point of a German attack.

Belgrade dispatches said Russia had promised Turkey she has nothing to fear from soviet red armies massed along the Danube, if she decides to fight on Greece's side.

The Yugoslavian crown council was understood to have decided to present for German approval the following proposals:

- (1) Yugoslavia to sign some sort of friendship declaration with Germany before signing the axis pact.
- (2) Then the two governments would discuss demobilization of the Yugoslav army as demanded by Germany, a "guarantee that this country will not make any military moves," and Germany's demand for passage of troops through the southeast corner of Yugoslavia into Greece.

One neutral diplomat who has followed the diplomatic jockeying for weeks said that the government was inclined to give in on the demobilization plan, but that the army leaders still were arguing against it.

The Yugoslav proposals were in response to what this source said were five major German demands, namely:

- (1) Demobilization of the Yugoslav army.
- (2) Complete German control of economy, transport and communications.
- (3) The right to ship war material through Yugoslavia, re-serving Rumania and Bulgaria for the transport of men.
- (4) The right to pass troops through Yugoslavia if necessary.
- (5) Signature of Yugoslavia to the tripartite pact.

He's the "King"

Ralph Maki, assistant manager of Sears Roebuck and company, was crowned "king for nine days" at an employees' party at the store Monday night. This is the third annual "king" event, and was originally started when the managers of all the Sears stores went to the annual company meeting in the east. The assistant managers are in complete charge of all the Sears stores throughout the nation.

HOUSE DELAYS TAX ON SALES FOR ADDITION

measure back to the taxation and revenue committee so that a clause referring the bill to the people may be attached.

The committee early this afternoon sent the bill back to the house with the referendum clause attached.

The bill originally contained the referendum clause, but the committee removed it so that it would provide immediate funds for old age pensions.

$8,000,000 Yearly
Rep. Frank J. Lonergan (R. Multnomah), author of the bill, indicated he believed the bill would have a better chance of passage if the referendum clause were attached.

The measure would raise $8,000,000 a year, with 50 per cent to be used for property tax relief, 40 per cent for pensions, and 10 per cent for elementary schools.

The delay probably will postpone adjournment of the session until the end of the week.

Cigarette Tax
House leaders hope to consider the sales tax tomorrow, along with a bill to levy two cents on each package of cigarettes, which would raise about $2,000,000 a year for pensions.

The senate passed 17 to 11 and sent to the house a bill to limit the sale of fortified wines to liquor stores. Sen. W. E. Burke (R-Yamhill), author of the bill, asserting that such wines are driving many persons insane.

The house passed and sent to the senate a bill to provide that old age assistance shall not be denied to any person because his children are able to support him, and that the first $15 of outside income shall not be considered in the granting of pensions.

Speed Law
The house highways committee amended the speed bill, shifting the burden of proof from the officer to the driver, by providing for a 55-mile speed limit, instead of 60 miles. The bill, which included the 55-mile limit when passed by the senate, will be on tomorrow's house calendar. The limit now is 45 miles an hour.

Youth Banquet Opens Mission Meeting Here and holding the interest of hundreds of church goers and especially young people of the church.

Ministers' meetings will be held at 10 o'clock Thursday and Friday mornings and the mission theme will be discussed by the speakers who have been brought here for the three-day session. At the same hour women's meetings will be held in the First Presbyterian church. Afternoon meetings at 2 o'clock in the First Christian church will be devoted to seminars conducted by members of the mission team of that church. Each evening at 7:30 o'clock there will be mass meetings in the First Methodist church.

At High Schools
The entire student body of Klamath Union high school, in two afternoon assemblies, heard one of the mission speakers, Wednesday. On Thursday speakers will visit Merrill, Malin, Tulelake, and Chiloquin high schools, and on Friday, the Henley and Keno high schools and Altamont Junior high school.

Another of the mission speakers, Dr. Ray S. Dunn, will be the guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon Friday at the Willard. Other groups will hear the speakers during the next three days.

The Christian Mission is being sponsored by the Klamath Ministerial association and the Oregon Council of Churches, with the Rev. Victor Phillips, pastor of the First Methodist church, as chairman of the local committee.

CARD OF THANKS
The Helping Hand society is appreciative of all help offered by the guild of the Tulelake Community church, the Malin Presbyterian church, Charles Duncan, janitor of the high school, the students, A. E. Street, principal, Mayor A. Kalma, Malin businessmen, other individuals or organizations and business houses in serving the annual chamber of commerce banquet.

Signed,
Mrs. Clarence Hundley,
Secretary.

Copco Heads Here—H. H. Cleveland, Copco president, and M. D. Field, treasurer of the power company, visited Klamath Falls Tuesday.

terial, including engines, spare parts and accessories."

Other categories were: $1,343,000,000 for ordnance and ordnance stores, supplies, spare parts, and materials, including armor and ammunition and their components.

$1,350,000,000 for agricultural, industrial and other commodities and articles.

$382,000,000 for tanks, armored cars, automobiles, trucks, and other automotive vehicles, with spare parts and accessories.

$629,000,000 for vessels, ships, boats and other water craft, and equipment, supplies, materials, parts and accessories.

$260,000,000 for miscellaneous military equipment, supplies and materials.

$752,000,000 for facilities and equipment for the manufacture or production of defense articles, including the construction, acquisition, maintenance and operation of these facilities, and the acquisition of land for sites.

$200,000,000 for testing, inspecting, repairing, or otherwise putting in good working order any defense articles for the government of "any country whose defense the president deems vital to the defense of the United States."

This last item presumably would be used in part to effectuate terms of the British aid law under which warships of Great Britain might be repaired in American bases.

Aid Bill Brings Nazi Threats; Greed Charged

BERLIN, March 12 (AP)—The official German attitude toward the United States aid-to-Britain bill, a Nazi spokesman said today, may be summed up with the words:

"We are not surprised, but are prepared for anything."

More solemn than usual, the spokesman declared: "Mr. Roosevelt is an unpredictable man. Let him send one convoy and . . ."

"The sentence was left hanging. 'We are determined to torpedo everything that approaches England,' the spokesman went on after a pause. 'We will see. We are ready for anything, come what may . . .'"

"As a matter of fact the law's aims have been in operation a long time. They (the British) got 50 destroyers, but the fact remains that needed materials have not arrived in desired volume and we will see they do not do so hereafter."

"The German radio declared the lease-lend bill was rushed through the congress merely to make a showing of honesty, whereas in reality the United States government is intent only upon the speediest acquisition of a maximum number of British possessions."

"The United States will appear to help England all she can," the radio continued. "But in reality she will endeavor to induce Germany to agree to a negotiated peace. After the signing of such a negotiated peace the USA then hopes to take over the inheritance of the remains of the British empire."

"However, the one big fly in the American ointment is the fact that Germany never will acquiesce to any negotiation proposals. Winners do not negotiate. They dictate, and the sooner the hypocritical American government realizes this fact, the better off she will be."

In its history, the United States has paid $102,200,000 to six foreign governments for territory purchased.

Minor Forest Fires Started In Northwest

lings were not believed in immediate danger.

A district fire warden's crew near Forest Grove, Ore., fought a small fire caused by a cigarette on the roadside of the old Wilson river road. It was the only new outbreak reported in Oregon.

Washington State Forester, T. S. Goodyear said in Olympia 400 men were fighting brush and forest fires in southwest Washington, all caused by farmers trying to burn ferns off their land.

A 100-acre fire sprang up on the Coweeman river and an 80-acre blaze on Toulie river, both in Clatsop county. Clark and Swamania counties reported five fires of about 20 acres average.

Goodyear warned that farmers would be arrested for setting fern fires without taking adequate precautions, although ordinarily the official permits for burning must not be secured before April 15.

PORTLAND, March 12 (UP)
A fire burned out of control over 800 acres of fern, stumps and new growth timber near Saddle Mountain state park in Clatsop county tonight. The weather continued warm and the fire hazard throughout Oregon was unabated.

BRITAIN SENDS THANKS TO U. S.

States have, in effect, written a new magna carta which not only has regard to the rights and laws upon which a healthy and advancing civilization can alone be erected but also proclaims by precept and example the duty of free men and free nations, wherever they may be, to share the responsibility and burden of enforcing them."

Noisy cheers marked the close of Churchill's statement. Although the floor of commons was filled there were only eight men in the gallery—members of the United States army mission here to coordinate American-British air plans. They were in uniforms.

Many sausages are named for European places where they were popularized, such as Frankfurt, Vienna, Bologna, etc.
