

350 CAST FOR DANCE PAGEANT FRIDAY NIGHT

Friday evening, March 21, will be a big moment in the lives of some 350 boys and girls from the city elementary schools when they present the story of America at the Klamath Falls Armory. The event is the annual dance pageant produced by the physical education department of the city grade schools.

The theme of the pageant is the history of the United States, the highlights in the development of the country are portrayed by dances. The opening scene features the Indians, with the next group showing the various early settlers who came to America to make their homes. In this group were the English, Dutch, Spanish, French, Italians and Scandinavians.

The third groups portray the life of the early Americans of the late eighteenth century. Group four shows the expansion of the United States through the nineteenth century with the negro influence and the western movement and growth.

The final episode attempts to show the twentieth century attitude including the latest influence from South America and the patriotic attitude at present.

This type of program is presented each year at the close of the rhythmical activities in the physical education program of the city schools. The groups have presented "Snowwhite," "Ferdinand, the Bull," and last year "The Little Red Fox." A small charge will be made to defray expenses, with all proceeds placed in the physical education fund of the city grade schools.
