

'SURPRISE' JAB CIRCULATED IN GREEK REPORT

The informed newspaper Yenai Sabati said such four-power resistance might completely halt any German offensive because Adolf Hitler has counted on over-running the Balkans one by one.

Expressing confidence Yugoslavia would refuse to bow to German pressure, the newspaper said:

"The resistance and firmness which Yugoslavia thus far has shown justifies quite fair hope for the future."

"Identity of Views"

Saracoglu returned to Ankara by plane at noon today from Cyprus, accompanied by British Ambassador Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen who participated in the conference. An official communique said it "re-emphasized that complete identity of views exists between the two governments."

Following the meeting in the government house at Nicosia, capital of Cyprus, Saracoglu and Knatchbull-Hugessen took off in a Turkish military plane and five minutes later Eden boarded a British plane for Cairo.

Diplomatic circles in Istanbul heard reports that Eden, on whose initiative the meeting occurred, laid before the Turkish foreign minister proposals for cooperative "preventive action" by Britain, Greece and Turkey and one version was that the participation of Yugoslavia in the drive was envisaged as at least a possibility.

Jugoslavia, it was said in Istanbul quarters, may be considered the pivot of the Eden-Saracoglu talks and it was indicated that neither Turkey nor Britain finally had given up hope of getting Yugoslavia into some kind of a Balkan defensive bloc, alongside Britain, Turkey and Greece.

It was pointed out that if, as is reported, Yugoslavia is about to sign an agreement with Germany granting some concessions to Nazi demands but excluding passage of German troops, the way is not completely barred to some form of Yugoslav cooperation in the Anglo-Greek-Turkish bloc.

SABOTAGE IN BUILDING JOBS OF ARMY EYED

(Continued from Page One) of construction work at the fort. The paper said it learned sabotage had been directed at barracks work, the telephone system and electric power lines and that it had been "going on for several months."

"Know Their Business"

An unnamed officer at the fort was quoted as saying that the sabotage "is the work of men who know their business."

"We have proof of numerous sabotage efforts," the officer was quoted. "They have been largely unsuccessful. Yet they potentially have menaced an important part of the building and training program here."

Roofs Weakened

"Four-by-four uprights in barracks have been sawed through so that they would collapse under heavy snowfall or strong wind. Spikes have been driven through electric cables in an apparent effort to cause short circuits and start fires. Telephone lines have been spiked and cement pillars weakened."

"These do not appear to be the acts of a man or men with a grudge," the paper quoted the officer. "They give every sign of being real sabotage. They have been done skillfully and only luck has prevented serious consequences."

Federal bureau of investigation officials here said they had not been informed of the reported sabotage attempts.

The News-Post also reported the sabotage attempts had been admitted by Fort Mead authorities.

Hitlerized America Seen By Wheeler

"Today," Wheeler said, "all is changed. Where are the money changers and the economic royalists? They have been reinstated in the temples of government. They have been lured from Wall street to Washington with White House invitations. They are no longer called economic royalists—they are the dollar-a-year men who dispense billions upon billions of dollars in defense contracts. It is they who sit in the seats of the mighty. It is they who direct the policies of this government."

"It is these fugitives from Wall street accompanied and guided by royal refugees and the British propagandists who insist that the present war is a crusade against fascism."

He said that "those of us anxious to preserve civil liberties and peace" have been subjected to a "smear campaign" and "cries of pro-Nazi—Hitler agent."

"This is bigotry in its vilest form," he said. "This is a return to the monarchial concept that the king can do no wrong."

BAILEY WRECK TRIAL STARTS

(Continued From Page One) the morning of the accident is immaterial in this indictment, and that testimony of this nature would only serve to prejudice the jury.

Liquor Point Argued

The jury was ordered to retire to the jury room while the attorneys argued the point. Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg refused to allow further liquor testimony in light of the indictment.

Eloise Cole, sister-in-law of Miller, took the stand and said she was riding in the rear seat of the Bailey car. She said she remembered going out the lane "pretty fast" toward the highway, but could not recollect what happened after gaining the paved road.

Mrs. Grace Miller was the third witness. She is the daughter of Irving Breshers, who died in the accident. Mrs. Miller said she drove her car out the Kern ranch lane after Bailey passed her, and that she followed the Bailey car at a safe distance behind going about 60 miles per hour. She said Bailey's car straddled the yellow line several times before the crash. Bailey was on the center line when his car sideswiped an oncoming vehicle, then hit a second oncoming car and landed on its side in a field on the north side of the highway, she testified. She said she came to a stop, parked on a dirt roadway and went quickly to inspect the wrecked car. All four occupants were unconscious, she said.

On the jury are Charles Balin, Basil Hall, Joseph Zumpfe, Ralph Hill, E. N. Eagle, Mildred Akin, Leonard Thomas, J. M. Ezell, George B. Fife, Herbert Tipton, John Fanning and William D. Campbell.

After a previous trial of Bailey, the jury was unable to agree. District Attorney L. Orth Sisemore is handling prosecution of the case and Lamar Townsend and E. E. Driscoll are defendant's counsel.

JUGOSLAVIA IN 'SPECIAL' AXIS ACCORD

Greece to harmonize her economic policies with those of Germany and suppress all anti-axis influences. Yugoslavia will be permitted to continue all her defense measures and will not be required to undertake any demobilization, informed quarters added.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, March 20 (AP)—Italian soldiers and some of their Albanian comrades-in-arms crossed the frontier into Yugoslavia at separate points for internment late today, both groups reporting "rapid disintegration" of Italian forces in the war with Greece.

The flight of the soldiers into Yugoslav internment, rather than continue the fight, coincided with the second report of the day that Greek troops had entered Tepelen in the wake of a terrific RAF bomb attack.

The Italians, in tattered uniforms, were said to have crossed the border near Podgorica. Their story was much the same as that of the Albanians—"complete collapse of morale... heading flight toward the Adriatic coast."

LONDONERS IN FURIOUS RAID; HOMES RUINED

Raid "Greatest"

Wednesday night's raid, they said, was the "greatest of all time."

Recent air attacks, concentrated on ports such as Hull, Cardiff, Liverpool, Glasgow and London, were said to be a "logical complement" to the intensified U-boat war against British seaways.

German communiques claimed the destruction of 66,500 additional tons of British shipping and severe damage to 31,000 more. The official DNB news agency said a U-boat reported sinking 59,500 tons—including a 21,000-ton ship—and damage to 21,000 tons in a single British convoy. The high command said Nazi planes sank a 7000-ton ship and damaged two others totaling 10,000 tons.

21-Gun Salute

Bad visibility delayed arrival of the squadron by one hour and 10 minutes, but the Chicago, flying the flag of Rear Admiral Newton, tied up at Woolloomooloo at 8:45 a. m. as planes of the Royal Australian air force dipped in salute overhead and a 21-gun salute sounded over the harbor, the first here since beginning of the war.

Shortly before the arrival A. W. Fadden, acting prime minister, sent this message to Rear Admiral Newton:

"Welcome on behalf of the people of the Australian commonwealth. We have the same interests, are facing the same problems and share the mutual desire to consolidate national

He praised President Roosevelt as one "who imbued the lease-lend bill with life and spirit" and spoke of the measure as a document "as vital to us and our children as Magna Charta or as the bill of rights to the citizens of America."

Fadden later announced the squadron would visit Brisbane for three days. Besides the heavy cruiser Chicago, the cruiser Portland, flotilla leader Clark and destroyers Reid, Casin, Conynham and Downes are included in the training cruise.
