Nova Ready For Baer

Ex-Collegian Has Hopes Of Meeting Louis Again

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP) Lou Nova believes his mysterious "cosmic punch" will enable him to (1) replace Billy Conn as the June heavyweight challenger, and (2) wrest the crown from Joe Louis.

Nova, who has deserted the Yoga for the cosmic, arrived in New York today to begin serious training for his contenders' battle with Maxie Baer at the Garden, April 4.

As a backwoodsman, Nova came in from Lake Wallenpaupack, Pa., where he has been conditioning for a month. While a barber removed Lou's facial foliage, the big Californian discoursed on the cosmic cloud with reporters.

These boxing Boswells had no idea of what the ex-collegian was talking about, but they paid close attention, remembering that when Nova came down from the Hudson hills back in 1939, spouting about Yoga, he was paving the way for his knockout of Maxie Baer.

Nova reported he scales 210 pounds and expects to fight at about 205, approximately five less than Madcap Maxie. For two weeks he has been boxing from five to seven rounds daily at Lake Wallenpaupack with sparman Hank Postaway, Jimmy Tucker and Joe Baski. He said he was in much better shape and punching with more dynamite than on January 10 when he pounced out an easy 10-round decision over Pat Coniskey.

Locals Forego Northern California Franchise for Seven-Team Oregon League

EUGENE, March 24 (AP)—Klamath Falls was admitted to the Oregon State Baseball league at a meeting of the league's directors here yesterday.

The league adopted the one-game-a-week plan instead of two each week as played last year. Opening games: Albany at Medford, Toledo at Eugene, Klamath Falls at Bend, and Hills Creek, Ore.

The as yet unnamed Klamath nine, by the above entrance, has foregone plans to play in the Northern California league. Frank Snyder said Monday.

First practice of the season was held Sunday and a turnout of over 20 prospective diamond men encouraged local backers.

Although it was not made certain Monday, the one game each week will probably be played on Sunday. Previous indications were for a two-game-a-week schedule calling for one contest under lights on Saturday night and another on Sunday afternoon.

By PHILIP HIRIANG

SUN VALLEY, Idaho, March 24 (AP)—Alf Engen still is the country's best all-around skier. This the husky Sun Valley rider established beyond question by retaining his national four-way ski championship, maximizing the performance with victory yesterday in the jumps, final event of the four-day tournament.

Engen's combined point total, achieved through a fifth in the downhill race, fourth in slalom and third in cross-country besides the first in jumping, was 374.9. That, as an evidence of the champ's predominance, was closer to perfection—400 points—than to Gordon Wren's second-place 340.4.

Concurrently, Gretchen Fraser of Denver, by finishing first in downhill and fourth in slalom, carried away the women's championship in the two-event Harriman cup races.

Third place in the four-way, by a fraction of a point, went to Leon Goodman of Sun Valley and McCall, Idaho, with a point total of 340.1. Barney McLean, Hot Sulphur Springs, Colo., was fourth in at 332.3; Bert Irwin, Princeton, B. C., fifth 330.9; David Bradley, Madison, Wis., sixth, 330.6; Olaf Rodegaard, Portland, Ore., seventh, 326.6.
