

Hec Edmundson Finds Green Material for Husky Track

By GAIL FOWLER
SEATTLE, April 4 (AP)—When lanky Assistant Track Coach Percy Egtvet turns back the Washington thunders to Uncle Hec Edmundson today, the returning mentor will have a squad consisting of 13 sophomore non-lettersmen and 12 upperclassmen, none of whom has won more than one letter.

With such a preponderance of inexperience, Egtvet is well satisfied with the squad which gathered 48 points against the California powerhouse last week. And most of the points were gleaned by newcomers.

Bob Smith of Centralia, who set a new 220 pavilion mark, is the best of the new crop and he'll probably run one-two with Bill Quale in the 100 and 200 the rest of the season.

"If we can turn up with a couple of good freshmen, we ought to have quite a track squad by next year," Egtvet predicts.

Percy was in charge of the team while Edmundson attended eastern basketball parleys.

QUESTION

Dave James of the Tacoma News-Tribune points out that Oregon has formed an Oregon intercollegiate conference similar to Washington's intercollegiate conference.

"As the Washington group is known as Winko, will they call the Oregon league Oinko?" James would like to know.

MAKES TONY LOOK GOOD

Herb Ashlock of the Spokane Chronicle relays that Tony Canoe, the Gonzaga football star, was quite happy over the showing of Washington State's Fred Spiegelberg in the national intercollegiate boxing tourney. Spiegelberg went to the 175-pound finals.

Ashlock recalls that Canoeo took a three-round decision over Spiegelberg not so long ago.

HIGH ON MATTHEWS

Dick Sharp, the Post-Intelligencer boxing writer, is high on Harry "Kid" Matthews, the handsome Emmett, Idaho, middleweight.

"He doesn't seem to have any of those phobias that plagued Freddie Steele and Al Hostak," Dick declares.

"Steele was brittle and had kidney trouble that kept him out for awhile. Then he had a sore wristbone. And Hostak has had to lay off several times with bum hands.

"But this Matthews is sound as a dollar, plenty tough, young and clever. He oughta go places."

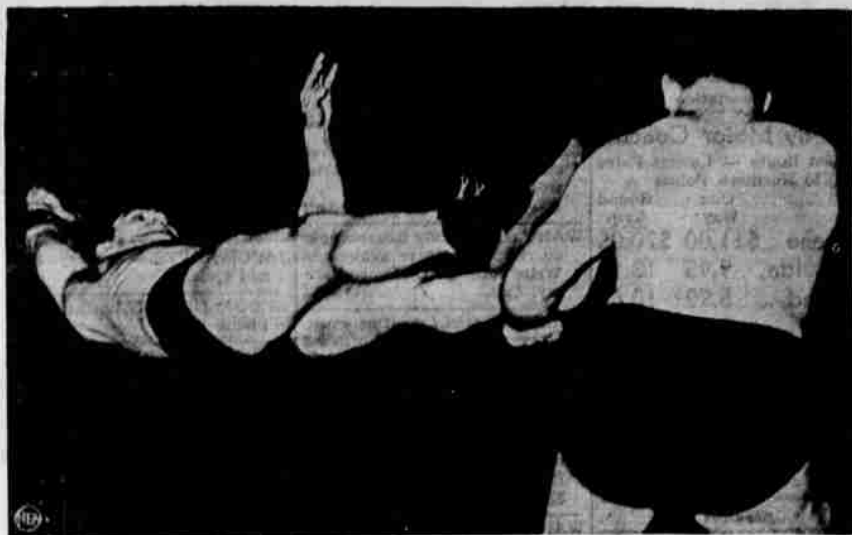

DEAN WAS LUCKY

Another handsome Idahoan, Dean McAdams, the ex-Washington spectator, was an interested spectator at the Tuesday night fight. He especially wanted a close-up glimpse of Matthews.

"Yeah, that's the guy," Dean said afterward, "and was I lucky?"

He explained that he was almost involved in a fracas outside a dance hall a few years ago between blades from Emmett and Caldwell, Dean's home town, and that Matthews was one of the Emmett boys who was trying to calm things down with words rather than fists.

Here's a real loud vote for the incomparable Sam Taub. . . . Washington is trying to get Frankie Crosetti from the Yanks, but Joe McCarthy isn't interested. Joe isn't quite so sold on Rizzuto and Priddy as a lot of folks would have you believe. So Crosetti will stay as insurance—if nothing else. . . . Warren C. Giles, general manager of the Reds, says they fear the Cardinals more than the Dodgers—and there's a tip for you plunkers.

FIGHT TIP

Lou Nova ought to whip Max Baer again tonight. . . . That is, if he isn't bullheaded and fails to follow instructions. . . . Nova is the most stubborn fighter in the game. . . . He was lucky to beat Max the last time. . . . If he'll stay in close and jab, he'll get a decision. . . . Baer needs plenty of room to wind-up. . . . Last time Nova disregarded orders and went in to slug. . . . He won, but he was plenty lucky.

WAIT AND SEE

Harold (Spike) Claassen, the AP's demon sports editor at Kansas City, already has written his "lead" for the Louis-Musto fight Tuesday. . . . "It must be been something he ate."

Duck Cagers Nip Hawaii Team, 51-50

HONOLULU, April 4 (AP)—Rallying in the closing minutes, University of Oregon's basketball team beat the Coca Cola team of Honolulu 51-50 in a nip-and-tuck thriller last night.

At half time the score was tied at 25-25. The Coca Cola team, fortified by Angelo (Hank) Luisetti, former Stanford ace who made the trip from the mainland with the Oregon players, had a four-point lead with three minutes left in the game, which faded under the visitors' scoring spurge.

Now Try That 4-Minute Mile

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 4 (AP)—Coach P. B. Springer thought his Benton high trackmen were doing mighty fine for this early in the season. But he became suspicious after the half-milers covered the route in two minutes and the quarter-milers did their stint in 51 seconds. Measuring the new layout, he found the track 40 yards short.
