

'BLITZ' PUSH FEARED BY JUGOSLAVIA

lowed a series of ominous signs of approaching conflict.

BELGRADE, April 4 (AP)—Travelers from Hungary tonight told of the transit of a full Nazi motorized division through Hungary to the Yugoslav frontier.

They said tanks, trucks and light field artillery with hundreds of machine-gun motorcycles paraded openly through the streets of Budapest yesterday and then headed directly for Szeged, on the Yugoslav border.

BELGRADE, April 4 (AP)—The Yugoslav government early tonight ordered railroads restricted exclusively to the use of the army.

Every man capable of using a rifle, regardless of his military age has been mustered into the army.

Buglers Ordered Out
At the same time German-occupied Bulgaria ordered all her nationals to quit Yugoslavia tomorrow. The exodus of Germans and Italians already has been in progress for several days.

The Bulgarians will have to go by automobile unless the government decided to put a train at their disposal. Passengers who filled a train scheduled to leave Belgrade after 7 p. m., were ordered out by Gen. Gernard.

Peace Effort
Although tension increased, Italian diplomats insisted they still had not abandoned hope that they could act as peace-makers.

Their latest attempt, they said, had been to get the Croat leader, Vladimir Macek, who today assumed a place in the Yugoslav government, to go to Rome to listen to the ideas of Foreign Minister Count Ciano and Premier Mussolini. But few in Belgrade believe Macek would go.

Vardar Fortified
The Yugoslav general staff rushed fortification of the strategically important Vardar valley today while awaiting the dice to fall for peace or war.

More men were being called to the colors and hurried to the defense of key railroads.

An all-important cabinet session which was to have been followed by Premier Gen. Dusan Simovic's long-awaited declaration of foreign policy, was postponed.

Macek Takes Post
The delay followed the arrival of the Croat peasant party leader, Vladimir Macek, in Belgrade where he took oath of office as vice premier.

DEBUNKED
Sap does not rise in spring, contrary to common belief. There is an increased circulation of tree liquids, with more being found in the outside cell zones than in winter, but the seasonal rise and fall is unfounded.

INCREASED JOBS
Only 2100 of every 1,000,000 people worked in offices in 1870, before invention of the typewriter; the proportion today is 23,000 per 1,000,000.

Balkan Bloc May Take Action If Nazis Attack

ATHENS, April 4 (UP)—A Balkan bloc linking Great Britain, Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey in a united front against the axis may take "simultaneous joint action" if Germany attacks Yugoslavia, it was reported in highly reliable quarters in Athens tonight.

Diplomats believed that Adolf Hitler's large Balkan army, massed in Germany, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria at the Yugoslav frontiers, might launch an assault on Yugoslavia within the next 48 hours.

The British, Greeks, Yugoslavs and Turks were said to be maintaining constant contact and to be preparing a plan of possible joint action, against both Germany and Italy, in the Balkans.

All details of such collaboration, it was said, have been worked out already by diplomatic and military exchanges including the recent visits to Ankara and Athens of British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Gen. Sir John G. Dill, chief of the British imperial staff.

These arrangements, it was understood, have been aimed at coping "with all possible developments."

Greek front-line dispatches tonight reported that the Italian high command is moving up heavy reinforcements on the central sector of the Albanian front, perhaps in preparation for an important offensive to be unleashed simultaneously with a German attack on Yugoslavia.

Athens, it was revealed, has taken all measures necessary to cope with any sudden worsening of the Balkan situation and is prepared to put them into effect on a moment's notice.

War between Germany and Yugoslavia, it was said by diplomats, will involve "the gravest sort of decisions" for Greece, Britain, and Turkey.

All details for joint action of the three nations alongside Yugoslavia have been fixed, it was understood, although no formal agreement has been concluded.

Landslide Breaks Two Houses To Splinters; Two Die

The Marin county sheriff's office said road conditions were so bad that no one was being allowed to pass through the slide area except by official authorization.

The houses were on a slope of the canyon side, one below the other. The two men were at work remodeling the lower home when the foundations gave way above the weakened earth.

The house rolled downhill, adding to the slide and carrying with it the second house. A giant redwood tree toppled with the slide and fell atop the two houses.

Nazi Bombers Deluge Bristol Second Night

BRISTOL, England, Saturday, April 5 (UP)—Large formations of German bombers converged on this vital port and industrial region of western England for the second straight night and wrecked industrial premises and homes with a deluge of fiery and explosive bombs last night and early today.

Attacking in almost constant waves as on the previous night, the Luftwaffe raiders came over the west England countryside in bright moonlight, first dropping many umbrella-like "Chandeller flares" and then unloading incendiaries and explosives by the hundreds.

Despite the intensity and the length of the attack, however, casualties and damage were reported to be comparatively small although some civilians were buried in the debris of their homes.

At least three of the raiders were shot down in flames, in contrast with one brought down in Thursday night's attack.

There was a deafening and continuous barrage of anti-aircraft fire throughout the raid, spangling the sky with the bursts of shells of all calibers.

The first German raider brought down crashed in flames and blew up in a small seaside resort. The second was said to have been shot down en route home, and a third crashed on fire near another popular seaside resort.

The three members of the crew of the third bomber bailed out and were captured by home guards and police patrolling the countryside.

Two other German fliers were believed to be at large in the bombed area.

As in the previous night's raid, a large number of fires were started but fire-fighting crews worked so efficiently that most of them were snuffed out without great damage.

Leaders Defeat Bill To Weaken Small Loan Laws

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 4 (UP)—Assembly leaders of the 1939 anti-loan shark legislation tonight succeeded in defeating a proposal they contended would weaken California's stringent small loan regulations.

Assemblymen Albert Wollenberg and James Phillips vigorously opposed Assemblyman Charles Lyon's bill allowing collection in California of loans up to $300 made in other states, and the lower house defeated the measure, 48-18.

The senate recessed for the weekend, but the assembly called a Saturday morning session. Highlights of the legislative day:

1. The senate refused to concur in assembly amendments to the return-relief-to-the-counties bill.

2. Chairman Seth Millington of the assembly ways and means committee set the $500,000,000 budget bill for a special order of business Thursday afternoon.

3. Legislators studied copies of the Keesling report suggesting drastic streamlining of California's state government at "a great economy." The report, announced today after five years' study, was prepared by a non-political committee on state organization consisting of 25 outstanding citizens headed by Francis V. Keesling, San Francisco attorney.

the Allis-Chalmers strike at Milwaukee Friday as a very bad situation and said that something has got to be done about it.

He replied in the affirmative when asked, at his press conference in Washington, whether there was any communist activity in the strike, which has impeded vital defense orders.

Meanwhile, attorneys for CIO unionists on strike at the giant River Rouge plant of the Ford Motor company obtained subpoenas for Henry and Edsel Ford in a move to combat a federal restraining order issued at the company's request.

The chief of the U. S. conciliation service demanded today that the nation's soft coal mines be reopened by Monday.

"It is imperative that the mines be reopened," declared Dr. John R. Steelman, conciliation director. "The public cannot condone quibbling while 400,000 men and 85 per cent of the nation's bituminous mines stand idle."

Steelman's outspoken declaration shared attention with a new development in the CIO strike at the Ford Motor company's River Rouge, Mich. plant. A federal judge last night temporarily enjoined the CIO and the affiliated United Automobile Workers from interfering with or molesting workers entering or leaving the plant, world's largest single factory unit.

At Oakland, Calif., an agreement has been reached for settlement of a 16-day CIO strike at four General Motors plants.

WARRIOR IMMIGRANTS
North Carolina's first Scotch immigrants were 1000 warriors, defeated at the battle of Culloden, who obtained royal pardon on condition they leave the realm. Between 1745 and 1749, they brought their families to the Cape Fear River valley and were followed by 20,000 others later.

Girl Scout News

On March 31 six new "twenties" were initiated into the Brownie troop at Fairview. They were Barbara Snodgrass, Charlotte and Ellen Dart, Darlene Clark, Louise Barnhart and Ruth Crumpacker. This troop has just completed scrapbooks to be sent to the children's hospital in Portland. Last week the girls were taken on a short hike by their leader, Mrs. R. O. Snodgrass.

Mrs. J. P. Wells, regional director, Hazel Morrison and Mrs. Dent Savage visited the Lone troop at Sprague River Wednesday, April 2. This troop sent Joanne Little to represent it at the training course luncheon held at the Willard hotel Saturday, April 5.

The Altamont Girl Scout troop, under the leadership of Mrs. Emma Carter and Miss Looney, is doing badge work with green suede leather. With the help of Hazel Morrison, consultant on leathercraft, the girls are making purses, bookmarks and picture frames.

Fred Floetke played a trumpet solo accompanied by Mrs. Sam Muesen; Stanley McGehey, Bob Fredrickson and Fred Floetke, trumpet trio, played "Annie Laurie ala Moderne."

A novelty band from Mallin high school under the direction of Robert Bellow played several numbers.

Some 125 persons participated in the program which was sponsored by the Oregon State college extension service in home economics and 4-H leaders, Camp Fire girls, Girl scouts, Boy scouts, service clubs, lodges, county granges and YGA, county PTAs, home extension units, churches and county schools.

Winifred K. Gillen, home demonstration agent, Clifford Jenkins, 4-H club agent, and Isola Jensen, specialist in community social organization were on the Oregon State college extension service committee.

It is hoped by many that the festival which is to stimulate interest in drama as a form of recreation, to provide opportunity to develop better club, community and county programs, to recognize outstanding talent in acting, directing and stage mechanics, and to offer members of various organizations interested in drama opportunity to become better acquainted will become an annual affair.
