

Miss Quimby March Bride

Service Read at Home Of Bride's Mother At One o'Clock

In a simple yet impressive ceremony read at one o'clock Sunday afternoon, March the thirtieth at the home of her mother, Mrs. Leon Fauver, 535 North Tenth street, Miss Eleanor Lucille Quimby became the bride of Mr. John James Richardson.

The bride, attractive in an afternoon frock of powder blue crepe with accessories of roses, wore a corsage of rosebuds and white lilies. Her small bonnet was trimmed with flowers over which she wore a brief rose veil. She was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Gordon Quimby.

Miss Betty Quimby was her sister's only attendant and she wore an afternoon frock of pale rose crepe with blue accessories and an off the face blue straw sailor. Her corsage was fashioned of tallman rosebuds.

Mr. Lowell Brown was best man.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. Victor Phillips of the First Methodist church before the fireplace banked with white Easter lilies, snapdragons and ferns. Tall white tapers were lighted just before the service as Mrs. Otto Smith at the piano played, "I Love You Truly."

Following the wedding luncheon was served at the Pelican where a bouquet of daffodils and snapdragons centered the bride's table. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Richardson, Miss Betty Quimby, Mr. Lowell Brown, Mrs. Viola Stearns, Mrs. N. McGee, Mrs. Clara McGee and daughter, Donna McGee, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Griffith and daughter, Marjorie, Mr. Cecil Redford, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Smith, Miss Phyllis Smith, Mrs. Kerr, Miss Louise Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Murphy and daughters, June Marie and Jackie May, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fauver, and Mr. Gordon Quimby.

arm and wrist. Soft rayon Fauntex takes these shirrings beautifully —also takes hard wear with undaunted sturdiness.
