This Thing Called Credit

By EARL WHITLOCK
The modern credit man strives to keep people from going too deeply in debt. Once a man is overwhelmed with debt

he ceases to be a useful mem-ber of the community. By constructive service, such human wrecks are avoided.

Yet credit,

properly used, is one of the vitalizing forces of American business, a convenience that could not be done without.

Frequently we are asked if credit arrangements can be made to take care of funeral expenses. Of course they can. And we are glad to extend credit to those who are entitled to it and even to stretch a point to make things easier for those who call us in time of need.

American Wash, persons were injured to day when their automobile crashed through the railing of the Pine creek bridge at Weston of the Pine creek bridge at Weston into the water.

The injured were Dr. George Buxton of the U. S. Veterans' hospital at Walla Walla, his wife and 12-year-old daughter, Mary Sue, and Mr. and Mrs. Bart Kirby. The Buxton's family dog was killed.

By a queer twist of fate, Dr.

a lever to urge the purchase of a more expensive service than would otherwise have been selected. There is always the temptation, at time of bereavement, to allo w sentiment to over-rule sound judgment in the choice of a service and, more often than not, it is our policy to suggest the less costly arrangements.

Walla to succeed Dr. Buxton at the Veterans' hospital, arrived at the crash scene just in time to treat the injured.

LAKEVIEW. — Approximateby 50 members and their guests turned out for the regular luncheon meeting of the A. A. U. W. Which was held today at the Hotel Lakeview. A forum discussion of South America was presented by the international relations study group which opened with a short comparison of North and South America by Mrs. Ed MacKay. This was followed by a talk on the early civilization of South America by Mayas and Aztecs about 400 A. D. Other subjects discussed were early colonization by Mrs. Carl Allied Chemical and General Electric.

CHICAGO, April 7 (P)—After an early attempt to advance, wheat prices turned lower to day, losing more than a cent a bushel.

The new German thrust in Europe was an unsettling factor in the trade and the wheat pit was called upon to absorb profit taking and hedging associated with increased receipts at principal terminals. Although uncertain about the market effect of hostilities in the Balkans, an important wheat producing area, most traders took their cue from easiness of securities.

Wheat closed at $-14 lower than Saturday, May 917-8, July 904-1; Corn $-14 down, May 97-664, July 674; Oats $1 off to $1 up.

SECOND DEGREE MURDER COUNT

Wilbur Hixson, 20-year-old Klamath Indian, was indicted Saturday by a federal grand jury at Pendleton on a charge of second degree murder in the death of Abner McNair, his exstepfather.

NAMES HIXSON

As a result, the preliminary hearing scheduled for Tuesday in US Commissioner Bert C. Thomas' court here will not be held, Thomas stated Tuesday. Hixson will be represented in the federal court trial, to be held probably in Portland, by J. C. O'Neill of Klamath Falls Federal officers on Saturday brought Ernest Eugene Aldrich into court on a charge of sell-ing liquor to Hixson. Aldrich was bound over to the federal grand jury on two counts, with bond set at $2500 each.

According to a story related to officers after McNair was killed, Hixson obtained liquor in Bly on the day of the shoot-ing. Hixson admitted he shot-McNair, but said he did so when the older man threatened him with a rifle.
