RUSSIA VOICES PROTEST OVER HUNGAR MOVE

concluded with the latter a pact of eternal friendship."

Stubborn Fight

The statement came as the soviet press continued its flood of dispatches giving prominence and tribute to the stubborn fight being put up by Jugoslavia and Greece against Germany.

Trud, the newspaper of soviet youth, pointed out today that Germany was numerically and mechanically superior to her foes but that "operations of the first few days do not yet permit a forecast of future developments."

"It is necessary to bear in mind the rugged mountainous terrain," Trud said, "hampering the disposition of German forces and possibly enabling the Jugoslavs to undertake countermeasures."

Control Chief To "Watch" Prices

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP) Leon Henderson said today that the new office of price administration, which he heads, would start work by "watching" the prices of textiles, steel, coal, drugs, chemicals, non-ferrous metals, building supplies, machines and equipment, and hides and leather.

"We are not going to 'move in' on them next week or the week following" he said at a press conference. "We are very much interested in them though and unless the price tendency corrects itself they will be jobs of prime importance for us."

Sun Blacked Out

From noon until 3 o'clock on this the greatest day in the history of the universe, the sun was blacked out. Jesus of Nazareth had come to Jerusalem for the last chapter in His life here on earth. For three years He had declared Himself to be the Son of God. "He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father," was His word. By many a sign and miracle He had proved His claim. His days were filled with acts of mercy and the common people heard Him gladly.

From the first, however, the Jewish leaders rejected Him. Jealousy filled their souls. Now being in Jerusalem, He is arrested. The high court of the Hebrews meets to sentence Him to death. But in the trial there is a hitch. The hired witnesses make a mess of their testimony and Jesus Himself is put under oath.

"Art thou the Son of God?" So asks the high priest.

"Thou sayest," or as we say, "yes, I am." Thus Christ answered. It was blasphemy to them. He had made Himself one with God and He must die.

And He bearing His cross went forth to a place called Golgotha and there they crucified Him. Up to the hour of noon the rabbis and the people pass by to mock and jeer. "He saved others, Himself He cannot save," they cry.

THREE BLACK HOURS

At noon began the blackout. From then until 3 o'clock there was darkness over the land. There on the cross, all the shame, anguish, sorrow and penalty of our sins, were laid on Him. "Christ died for our sins," and "God commendeth his love toward us in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."—Bible.

When He had paid our debt to the full He cried, "It is finished," and dismissed His spirit. So it was that God took a human body, was born as a babe, was tempted at every point like as we, a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief and at the close suffered the pains of hell for all who will have Him as Saviour.

Because He was the Author of Life the grave could not hold Him. "Up from the grave He arose, with a mighty triumph o'er His foes." The greatest day in the history of the universe; the greatest for all who look away from self-goodness to Him as Saviour and Lord. "Because I live, ye shall live also," says He. What for you? Eternal blackout or eternal glory with the saved? What is your hope?

Mediators on Job in Coal Mine Dispute

union called the action "brazen" union-smashing; steel plants warned of coal shortages.

An estimated 8000 soft coal miners in Illinois returned to work under independent company - union agreements "retroactive" to April 1, date of the work-stoppage. These agreements provided the $1 per day wage hike.

At Detroit, Federal Conciliator James Dewey—fresh from successful negotiations in the Ford dispute—begins studies next week toward settlement of grievances among General Motors employes before April 20, when a labor contract expires.

Company officials warned the U. S. labor department that a general strike had been threatened in 70 plants at midnight April 20, affecting $700,000,000 in defense contracts.

Spokesmen for the United Automobile workers (CIO), bargaining agent for the workmen, said employes would not be called from defense production lines. The company rejected that plan as impracticable.

General Motors plants were scenes of sit-down strikes in 1937 which resulted in violence, martial law and serious employment displacements for several months.

By The Associated Press

Prospective opening of the Ford Motor company's River Rouge plant—largest industrial unit in the world—brightened the labor-defense picture Saturday, but Sen. Norris (Ind-Neb.), still viewed the general problem seriously enough to warn that "drastic action" will come out of congress unless "unjustified" strikes and "labor racketeering" are stopped.

Norris, co-author, with Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York, of the Norris-LaGuardia act limiting the right of the federal courts to issue injunctions in labor disputes, said in an open letter to his constituents that some local unions had resorted to "intimidation" in getting fees out of job applicants.

General Motors Vote

Settlement of the Ford strike—the great plant was expected to open again Monday—was described by Gov. Murry D. Van Wagoner of Michigan as "an historic step in establishing industrial peace in our country." About 200,000 workers in the Ford and allied plants have been idle for 11 days and work on $133,000,000 in defense contracts has been bogged down.

While peace was in sight for Ford, the United Automobile Workers International union asked locals for authority to take a strike vote of 175,000 members in 78 General Motors plants. The union was reported demanding higher wages.

Coal Dispute

The bituminous coal fields remained unmanned as southern operators quit the eight-state Appalachian conference in a dispute over terms of a new contract which would cover 325,000 workers seeking wage increases.

Non-delivery of soft coal pinched the operation of steel furnaces as the CIO's steel workers organizing committee sought wage increases for about 100,000 workers in Bethlehem plants. The union wants a minimum 10-cent hourly increase.

Sidney Hillman said in Washington that settlement of the Ford dispute left fewer than 7000 defense workers on strike. The associate director of the office of production management did not include the soft coal stoppage.

PANZER FORCE HALTED ALONG BITOLJ FRONT

ary corps was in action against a nazi panzer thrust that seeks to flank the main British-Greek defense line and trap the Greek corps fighting in Albania.

Reports from the fighting front were scant and confusing.

A broadcast by radio Athens, heard here, claimed that information from Jugoslavia indicated that a strong counter-offensive had been launched by the Jugoslav forces northwest of Skoplje and that their resistance at other points had strengthened.

Jugoslavs Gain

The Jugoslav forces were described as making a "successful" drive south of the center of Serbia and it was claimed that German efforts to halt this action had not yet succeeded.

Some said the German armored column which broke through Monastir gap had reached Phlorina, western hinge of the 30-mile northern front.

From Phlorina, it was presumed, the Germans would attempt to smash through the British lines to knife southward along roads toward Corizza and Ioannina.

Success of this maneuver would trap the Greeks in Albania and flank the northern defense line from the rear.

BERLIN, April 12 (UP)—Germany tonight awaited announcement of the fall of Belgrade—rumored already to have occurred—to cap a week's swift action in Adolf Hitler's southeastern blitzkrieg.

German quarters were notably silent on the fighting in Greece. There has been a dearth of reports since the fall of Salonika but nazi sources drew attention to reports from abroad that the British are falling back to a secondary defense line across mid-Greece, from Ioannina to Larisa.

Allies Menaced

If such reports are correct, it may indicate the British and Greek forces are menaced at the northwest corner where Albania, Greece and Jugoslavia meet by the juncture of German and Italian forces in the Lake Ochrida area.

The roads from Ochrida, won by the Greeks from the Italians, lead down into Greece to the west of the Phlorina sector.

A late report by the DNB official news agency claimed that luftwaffe formations on the southeast front today concentrated on airfields and troop concentrations, particularly in north Bosnia.

Informed German quarters said that in the fighting in Jugoslavia thus far 14 Serbian divisions have been smashed.

"Marching columns were scattered by bombs and transports, and concentrations west of Belgrade between the Sava and the Danube were partly scattered and partly destroyed," DNB said. "Thirty-one enemy planes were destroyed or damaged on the ground in an air attack on an airfield in north Bosnia."

NAZIS CLOSING ON BELGRADE

north of Lake Ohrida was announced earlier by the high command. Radios blared the Deutschland hymn and the "England song" this morning.

German and Italian troops, after joining their lines also in northwestern Yugoslavia, have started mopping up the Ljubljana basin, it was said.

In the southeast, the German air force was said to have been "especially successful" yesterday. Ten grounded Yugoslav planes were reported destroyed in raids on airports in northern Bosnia and in the Danube-Sava region.

BUDAPEST, April 12 (AP)—The Hungarian general staff announced at noon today that its troops had broken through the fortified Yugoslav line in the triangle between the Danube and Tisa rivers in northern Yugoslavia.

RED SEA SHIPPING RAISES QUESTIONS

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP) — President Roosevelt's opening of a pathway to Suez to American ships carrying war cargoes raised serious questions today concerning their possible search and seizure—or even attack—by axis submarine or airplane raiders which might operate in that African fringe of the war.

By eliminating from the combat zone a narrow watery strip between Italian Somaliland and the Arabian coast, the president opened a gateway for American vessels into the Gulf of Aden, the Red sea, and the Suez canal.

Elements of Danger

While the areas touched by that water route have been freed of actual warfare by British victories over the Italians, or are neutral and non-belligerent, it was pointed out in informed quarters here there nevertheless would be elements of danger for any American vessels plying that course, particularly if they carried war supplies for Britain, Yugoslavia or Greece.

Adolf Hitler has warned that every ship, with or without convoy, attempting to carry arms and munitions to aid the British would be sunk. At least one German pocket battleship has been reported raiding in the Indian ocean, on one of the routes from the United States to Suez. Axis planes reportedly have bombed ships in the Suez canal.

HOLLYWOOD, April 12 (UP)—James Roosevelt, son of the president, announced tonight that his marriage to Miss Romelle Theresa Schneider, the nurse who tended him during a major operation two years ago, will take place Monday at 1 p. m. in the Beverly Hills home of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Converse.

Council To Study City Jail Problem

The old city jail will again be "aired" before members of the council at the regular Monday night meeting, according to Mayor John Houston who stated Saturday he had requested City Engineer E. A. Thomas, Sanitary Inspector Harold Franey, and Plumbing Inspector O. D. Matthews to report to the council on investigations which they have made this past week.

"The jail problem is one which has long bothered the city council," said Mayor Houston, "and residents are no more concerned than are council members. The big obstacle is money, and how to do anything besides correct the sanitary situation is another problem."

U. S. Fed Up on Obstruction of Defense, Claim

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., April 12 (UP)—Sen. Claude Pepper, (D-Fla.), said today that the next 100 days probably would determine "the fate of the world" and warned those who would take unfair advantage at the expense of the national defense effort that theirs may be a pyrrhic victory.

"The nation is about fed up with obstruction to the national effort — whatever source it comes from," he told the Florida Bankers' association convention at the Hollywood Beach hotel. "The nation is beginning to inquire what is the motive behind those who throw monkey wrenches in the defense machinery."
