Program Is Given

Eulalona Chapter Plans Colonial Tea April Nineteenth

Mrs. Rachel Applegate Good, Klamath county historian, was in charge of the program hour, at the regular meeting of Eulalona chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Syd Evans. Mrs. Robert Odell and Mrs. Helen Mueller were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Good's subject was "Columbia River Valley," a section familiar to the Applegate clan since 1843 when the first members of the family came to the Oregon country over this route. While floating down the Columbia river on primitive rafts, two young boys, one a son of Lindsay Applegate, the other a son of Charles, were drowned when their raft overturned in the swift and treacherous Columbia waters.

Mrs. Good read selections from "The Bridge of the Gods," by Balch, to give an insight into the Indian legends and traditions about the river and its valley. However, "Swift Flows the River," by Nard Jones, an historical novel full of authentic information about this section, furnished the background for the greater part of Mrs. Good's interesting story.

Plans are being completed for the Colonial Tea to be held Saturday, April the nineteenth, from two to five o'clock in the afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Fred Schallack, Pacific Terrace. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Earl Reynolds, Mrs. Lloyd J. Goble, and Mrs. John H. Martin. The tea will honor prospective members Mrs. George Logan Black, chapter regent, asks any interested, prospective member residing in the county, to contact her by phone or otherwise, in order to be included in the list of guests.

Business Women Hear Programs

Display Arouses Interest During Dinner Meeting Of BPW Club in Willard Hotel Monday Night

"Culture in cultivation. We may cultivate a background much as we cultivate a plant in the garden, and with much the same success," said Mrs. W. H. Hibbard, speaking before the Business and Professional Women's club at their meeting at the Willard hotel Monday evening when they met for dinner at half past six o'clock. Mrs. Hilda Park presided as chairman of the evening's entertainment. The subject of the program was, "Our Town's Culture." In keeping with the subject Mrs. Hibbard's topic was, "Our Culture."

COLLEEN

Colleen Marander, three-years old, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Marander who reside near Klamath Falls. —Kennell-Ellis.

She continued: "If a plant is left to itself it becomes a weed. Given nourishment, cultivation, pruning and guidance it develops into a lovely flower. Carry this simple comparison over and apply it to the human mind and personality. Cultivation means care, right nourishment, pruning away the worthless and concentrating on the worthwhile."

Isabelle Milne contributed to the pleasure of the evening by her dance of the Highland Fling and the sword dance. Miss Milne wore the Scotch plaids and kilts of her own "Milne Clan." Marie Obenchain accompanied her.

Mrs. E. D. Lamb entertained, with a talk on flower arrangement. The dinner tables had been decorated by Mrs. Lamb in different types and showings of arrangements. Concentrating on suitability of containers and effective placement of bowls, baskets and vases, the suitability of flowers to their containers. She stressed the usage of ordinary receptacles which if suitable to the flowers they hold add to the beauty of the arrangement. Making the most of flowers of our gardens and the lowly flowers of the fields, placed in crude but characteristic bowls was an interesting point.

Two outstanding bowls of tulips and lilacs showed the English and the French period arrangements. Groups suitable for coffee tables, end tables, mantles as well as porch and rustic types were demonstrated, through the use of daffodils, forsythia, sweet peas and tulips, bare branches and beach stones and bits of drift wood.

A hobby display arranged by Hilda Park and her committee created interest. Among those displayed were Ruth Bathiany's wine glasses, many of them costly and unique; Effie Garcelon's demitasse collection of Minton and Spode as well as pewter; Hilda Park displayed her original oil and water color paintings and also a display of sterling spoons from cities of Canada, Mexico, and the United States which she had visited. A collection of sugar and creamers and teacups was that displayed by Dena Backe. Gwendolyn Lorenz showed her horses, thirty-three of them, frisky colts to dignified horses.

Winnifred Gillen sang "I Heard a Forest Praying" by Peter deRose, and "I Am Thy Harp," R. Huntington Woodman. She was accompanied by Marie Obenchain.
