Portland, Seattle Hosts To California Diamond Men

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE
Seattle 9, Oakland 4.
Portland 7, Hollywood 5-11.
Los Angeles 5, Sacramento 4-3.
San Diego 10, San Francisco 9-1.

Coast league baseball makes its 1941 debut in the Pacific northwest today with the two top teams clashing in Seattle.

While the pace setting Sacramento Senators and the 1940 championship Seattle Rainiers fight it out, the third-place San Diego Padres will be in a perfect spot to climb past them into the lead at the expense of their hosts, the lowly Portland Beavers.

The top trio came through the week-end in customary style with two victories to a single defeat to widen the gap between them and the five losing clubs.

SEATTLE—April 21 (AP)—Visitors found this sign on Mayor Earl Millikin's desk today:

Bonetti Singles
Julio Bonetti, Los Angeles pitcher, was responsible for Sacramento's sole win when he singled in the ninth and scored the deciding run on Johnny Moore's double to win Sunday's opener 5-4. A walk sandwiched in between a pair of doubles in the fifth gave the Senators the two run margin for a 3-1 decision in the nightcap. The Sacs breezed through the Angels 6-3 Saturday.

Three hits in the tenth, topped by Pinch Hitter Bill Lawrence's triple, won yesterday's nightcap for Seattle over Oakland 3-1. Three double plays by the Seattle infield helped offset the 13 hits Paul Gregory allowed the Oaks in the opener. The Rainiers won 9-4 to regain their winning stride after losing 1-0 Saturday before the three-hit pitching of Jack Salveston.

Breaks Tie
Mel Mazzera's three-bagger plus a sacrifice broke a 9-9 tie in the eighth to give San Diego a 10-9 win over the San Francisco Seals. The Seals put three of their hits together in the third inning of the nightcap to win 1-0 while Lefty Mel Marlowe scattered the four Padre hits over the five innings the game lasted. San Diego hammered out 16 safeties to win 10-1 Saturday.

In their greatest spurge of the season the Portland Beavers won two out of three week-end games from Hollywood to double the number of their season's victories. The Beavers won Sunday's opener 7-6 and then returned to form by dropping the nightcap 11-6. Ad Liske held the Stars to four hits Saturday while the Beavers' bunched four in the tenth to win 3-0.

The Stars entertain Los Angeles this week while Oakland plays at San Francisco.

"Honest Bob" Quinn, Boston Syndicate Purchase Bees

By BILL KING
BOSTON, April 21 (AP)—For the second time in his half-century of baseball, Bob Quinn is heading a syndicate-owned club that he hopes will be a pennant winner for his beloved Boston.

Last night that esteemed veteran, popularly known as "Honest Bob," proudly announced that a dozen loyal friends had joined forces with him for the purchase of the 73 per cent controlling interests in the Boston National league club held for the past five years by C. F. Adams, wealthy Boston sportsman. Among them were Casey Stengel, the club's manager, and Francis Oumet, the former national open and amateur golf champion, now a Boston broker.

Both Quinn and Adams refused to divulge the financial terms of the deal that will be consummated as fast as a few minor legal and financial details have been settled, probably within a day or so. It is understood, however, that the Quinn group agreed to give $250,000 cash and $100,000 note for control.

The owners of the club's remaining 27 per cent holdings, former Massachusetts Governor Frank G. Allen, ex-Congressman Joseph F. O'Connell, of Boston, and Leopold M. Goulston, the club's vice president, will retain their interests. Quinn revealed.

Klamath Gun club shooters Sunday racked up a total of 74 in the final weekend of the Portland Oregonian's 10th annual shoot held in conjunction with a registered shoot at the Wocus traps.

Several Bend gunmen attended the club's weekly clam bake. An outstanding bit of firing was scored by Mendenhall of Grants Pass, a guest scattergunner, who leveled out 98 birds out of a possible 100. Al Brotherton, a new shooter, shattered 37 consecutive birds.

Firing in the Oregonian, an eight-week competition which serves as an elimination for the state meet, P. Hilton and F. R. Olds scored perfect 25's and H. E. Hauger marked up a 24.

Wood Pushes Short Backswing

This is the first of six informative and instructive articles on golf.

By Craig Wood

Winner of Masters' Tournament and Golf's Foremost Teacher

NEW YORK, April 21 — A late start is not necessarily fatal to a successful golfing career.

I caddied at Lake Placid, where I was born, November 18, 1901, and at Soranac Lake at the age of 13, but did not take the game seriously until I was 20.

Ice hockey was my sport while a student at Clark's Tech, Potsdam, N. Y.

I had visions of building skyscrapers, bridges and seeling through other feats of engineering.

Until 1922, I teed off with a driving iron.

Prior to taking my first professional job at the Winchester, Ky., country club in '28, I had a tough time getting around under 80.

I was an assistant bookkeeper in a tobacco house at Winchester. . . served as a professional throughout the summer.

I worked on my tee shots. . . finally decided a short restricted, three quarter backswing suited me best.

Blessed with brawny forearms and mighty wrists, I naturally had less hand action than other shotmakers. I am still a power hitter.

While it is a bit longer than it was when I broke in my swing is a good one for the average player to copy.

It is insurance against over-swinging, a common fault of the duffer.

HANDS GO NO HIGHER THAN LEVEL OF EYES

Playing a wood, I take a square stance with toes pointed outward.

The ball is teed off the left heel.

I advise pupils to keep the left hand firm to avoid letting the club fall over the shoulder.

At the top of the backswing, the player should avoid letting the hands go higher than the level of the eyes.

At the top, the face of my club is 50 per cent closed.

In a later article I will tell how a closed face has helped my game.

In my initial tournament, the Kentucky Open of '33, I finished second to Ben Peebles then the professional of the Louisville Country club. He had a 144 to my 145.

So, you see, it seems I was destined to be a runner-up at the very outset.

I have built a reputation as a runner-up, which is one of the principal reasons why winning the Masters' tournament over the gorgeous Augusta National course this spring gave me so much satisfaction.

The victory demonstrated to all that it pays to keep swing-

DiMaggio Dominates Both Major Leagues

Yanks Win 14-4 From Phillies

Senators Hand Red Sox First Defeat of Season; Giants Trip Dodgers 7-5

By PAUL SCHEFFELS
United Press Correspondent
Joe DiMaggio emerged Monday after eight days of American League competition as the dominant figure in both major leagues.

The New York Yankees' centerfielder, who batted in three runs Sunday, collected "four for five," including a homer and a double as the Yankees battered Philadelphia pitching again Monday for 17 hits and a 14-4 victory at Shibe Park.

He drove in two runs and brought his eight-game total to 14 runs batted in—10 in the last three games, four homers, one triple, four doubles and two stolen bases. He has now hit safely in every game and previously connected in 19 successive exhibition games.

Sox First Defeat
Steve Sauer, ex-Yankee making his pitching debut for Washington, handed the Boston Red Sox their first defeat of the season, 6-5, at Griffith Stadium.

The Senators knocked Jack Ulmer out of the box in the sixth with a four-run rally that featured four straight hits by Buddy Lewis, Cecil Travis, George Archie and Jimmy Bloodworth plus Manager Joe Cronin's error. It was the fifth time in six games that a Red Sox pitcher failed to go the route.

Chicago at Detroit and St. Louis at Cleveland were rained out.

In the only National League game played, the New York Giants tripped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 7-5 at the Polo Grounds and the Boston Bees stopped the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-1 at National League Field.

Wild Pitch
Joe Oregos eighth-inning double, scoring Harry Danning, who had singled, broke a tie and gave the Giants the first of two game-winning runs. Babe Young scored the other on a wild pitch by Kirby Higbe, who went the route for the Dodgers. Mel Ott homered for the Giants and Dolph Camilli for the Dodgers.

The Veteran Wes Ferrell stopped the Phils with five hits

Finances May Bar Cal From Regatta

Committee Says Shell Crew Trip To Poughkeepsie Off Unless Fund Raised

BERKELEY, Cal., April 21 (UP)—University of California may not send its crews to the Poughkeepsie regatta on the Hudson river this year because of financial reasons, it was indicated tonight.

It would cost $5400 to send the varsity, junior varsity, and freshman crews to Poughkeepsie, and the finance committee of the Associated Students decided appropriate the full amount.

A popular subscription among the students would be necessary to raise sufficient money to send the three crews east Ken Priestley, graduate manager, said.

The finance committee will meet again Monday to determine how much can be appropriated for the trip, and how much would have to be raised through subscription.

Cosch Ky Ebright said he was very hopeful sufficient money could be raised.

Little Concern
"With the world wondering if the United States will get into the war, there won't be much concern over sending the crew to Poughkeepsie," Ebright said.

Coach Ky Ebright said he was very hopeful sufficient money could be raised.
