

HERE IT IS (Part 2)

As we said yesterday, the Klamath Falls Boxing and Wrestling commission leaves the issue of whether it's to be mitt or maul up to its appointed promoter—in this case, Mack Lillard.

Mack asserts that from past experience in this city and from his long association with boxing and wrestling, boxing will not pay in Klamath Falls for any length of time. According to Mack, he is willing, ready, and able to bring the best coast boxers into Klamath Falls when he feels the town will support it.

Lillard has in the past promoted leather pushers here, and even before his advent in town, others have tried it.

In every case, programs have folded after enjoying a short spectacular success followed by dwindling interest.

This is the best argument against bringing boxing back. It comes not just on one statement from one promoter but from the record of several promoters over a period of years.

Although we are not taking sides in the issue, we can not help believing Lillard knows best in this particular situation. He has a breadth of experience and a wealth of contacts built up over a period of years in this region.

With such an ear to the ground he should know the choice of the general public—whether it be for mitt or for maul.

Mack tells us he would rather promote boxing than wrestling, because he knows more about boxing.

He learned it as a competitor. Lillard, before retiring, hung together 14 consecutive knockouts in and around Portland in 1923 and 1924 as a bantam and featherweight. The mark still stands as a Pacific coast record for any weight.

Mr. Eagles, the lad who would get in, in his letter inquired about the financial setup within the franchise.

From a member of the Klamath Falls Boxing and Wrestling commission, we have received another reading of what has been public and published information for years past—to-wit, that the commission receives 6 per cent of each weekly gross gate, be it boxing or wrestling, of which 6 per cent, 80 per cent is paid to various veterans' organizations in the city. The balance goes into the city treasury. Members of the commission, of which there are five, serve without pay.

That, Mr. and Mrs. Public, is the other side.

It resolves itself, as we see it, into only a question of whether Klamath Falls wants boxing or wants wrestling.

We have two men assertedly able to sponsor boxing.

Lillard is currently handling wrestling, says he is ready if the demand arises to give the town boxing, and certainly on his record should be able to do the job in the best possible manner.

Eagles is a stranger with no proven record, unknown to us and unknown, as far as we know, in northwest ring circles.

Eagles claims boxing will pay. Lillard says it won't.

Our interest has been only that of reporting a situation. A man approached us with the idea of promoting boxing, wanted to know if it could be done and if not, why not.

We ourselves wanted to know and felt those who are interested in boxing and wrestling locally would also want to know.

From here on we'll leave it to you—if you want it.

KUHS Track Team Set For District

Deller Looks for Five Qualifiers for State At Medford Tournament

Coach Paul Deller's fast-improving Pelican trackmen Friday were scheduled to run through light workouts in preparation for Saturday's district qualifying meet at Medford which will determine representation in the Oregon state tournament next weekend at Corvallis.

For the first time in recent years the Klamaths have high hopes of placing a man in the state finals. In fact, Deller sees a chance for five boys.

Favored and regarded as virtual cinches are co-captains Marion Reginato and Chuck McCandless. Redge last week tossed the discus over 132 feet to easily cap a first in the 20-30 meet and McCandless leaped into a high hurdle second.

Others who may place either first or second are Roy Bergloff, in the shot, Bocchi in the high jump and Don Phelps in the half.

Atherton Ruling Hits Klamathites

Rush, Wilson Declared Ineligible for Sports Because of Recruiting

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9 (UP)—Edwin N. Atherton, Pacific Coast conference athletic commissioner, tonight declared 23 freshman students at Stanford, Oregon, Oregon State, Washington and Washington State ineligible for athletic competition on grounds they were recruited and subsidized by their universities in violation of conference regulations.

Hardest hit by the decree were Stanford and University of Oregon. They each will lose eight freshmen. One of Stanford's heaviest losses will be Bill Joslyn, co-captain of Lowell high school's championship San Francisco football team of two years ago.

Oregon State loses three, University of Washington two, and Washington State four.

Atherton listed the schools, their ineligibilities and offenses as follows:

University of Oregon — Ingrid (Inky) Boe, football, Milwaukee, Ore.; Laurence Casper, football, Blaine, Wash.; Bartholomew, Gianelli, football, Everett, Wash.; William Gissberg, basketball, baseball, Everett, Wash.; Laurence Olson, football, baseball, San Francisco; Robert Sheridan, basketball, baseball, Portland, Ore.; William Rush, football, Klamath Falls, Ore.

The first six are enrolled at Oregon, Cummins at Washington, Rush at Oregon State; all recruited by Oregon alumni, including free surgery and hospitalization for Boe; John Warren, Oregon freshman coach, involved in cases of Gianelli, Gissberg, Cummins, Olson and Rush.

Oregon State—William Rush, football, Klamath Falls, Ore.; Kenneth Wilson, football, Klamath Falls; Ingrid Boe, Milwaukee, Rush and Wilson recruited, given transportation to and entertainment on the Corvallis campus. Boe given a summer job by an alumnus.

10,000 Watch Portland Win From Seals

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9 (UP)—Portland pulled a 5-4 victory out of the fire in the ninth inning of a torrid Pacific Coast league baseball game against the San Francisco Seals tonight. Ten thousand fans, biggest night crowd of the San Francisco season, saw the game.

Trailing in the final frame, Portland's Frankie Hawkins whacked a double to score two runners and clinch the issue. This barrage cost San Francisco's Ed Stutz his first defeat in five starts on the mound.

LOS ANGELES, May 9 (UP)—The Los Angeles Angels again nosed out the Hollywood Stars, 3 to 1, in the intra-city baseball series at Wrigley field tonight.

The Angels took the lead in the fourth inning when Bob Collins tripled and then crossed the plate on Harvey Storey's double.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 9 (UP)—Ned Stiekle, replacing injured Al Niemic at second base for Seattle, scored the winning run against San Diego tonight in the ninth inning and gave the Rainiers a 5 to 4 victory.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 9 (UP)—Sacramento belted in nine runs in the opening inning tonight to defeat the Oakland Oaks 10-1 in a Pacific Coast league baseball game.

The Senators got four straight hits off Stan Corbett in the first, driving him to the showers. They resumed their batting spree against George Darrow and scored the nine runs on a modest total of six hits, two walks and one Oakland error.

Touring Gal Golfers Lose Bundles Battle to Locals

The boys beat the gals Thursday when two of the Pacific northwest's finest girl golfers matched drives and putts with two of Klamath Falls male slugger's in a battle for Britain.

Harry Weimar and Howard Scroggins bested Miss Marian McDougall and Miss Muriel Veatch, 3 up and 2 to go at the Reames course in an exhibition benefit for Bundles for Britain.

The two girls, touring the northwest at their own expense in a series of charity matches, each covered the local nine-hole layout in 80 while Weimar hung together a 37-41—78 and Scroggins shot a 41-39—80.

At the turn the men led, one up. They increased their margin to four on the next three holes, dropped one on the long 15th, then halved the short 16th to win.

Delight of a large gallery which trailed around after the foursome were Miss Veatch's smashing drives which rolled consistently for a total of from 200 to 250 yards. Miss McDougall's short game compensated for her lack of distance.

Best single round was Weimar's 37 on the outgoing nine. Miss Veatch, coming in, scored a 39 and Scroggins posted a 39 on the first round. Miss McDougall hooked together a brace of 40's.

Local Gunners Compete in Modesto Shoot

Klamath Gun club shooters Thursday leveled their sights in a practice round at Modesto, Calif., where Friday they were scheduled to fire in the large Modesto shoot.

Seven Klamathites stepped up to the line today to blaze away from 16 yards and in the handicap event.

Following are the practice scores chalked up Thursday:

16 yards—Neilson Reed, 98; Tex Woodward, 97; H. E. Hauger, 96; Pete Driscoll, 94; Lee Swope, 93; Homer Garich, 90; Paul Hilton, 97.

Handicap — Woodward, 42; Driscoll, 45; Swope, 41; Garich, 42; Hilton, 45.

220 Horses, Over 50 Owners Carded for Running at Klamath Jockey Club Meet

Stable space for the coming Klamath Jockey club June meet is entirely taken and further applications are being turned away, officials of the club announced Friday as plans went ahead for the big eight-day meeting.

Over 50 owners of 220 horses will be represented at the fairgrounds from five states, according to the present lineup. Stablemen from each Pacific coast state and Idaho and Arizona will be here when the bugle blows on the night of June 11.

Meanwhile nearly twenty horses, many of them locally owned, are now in training at the Klamath track. Due Monday are several more from Bay Meadows near San Francisco.

In preparation are plans for a horse show which will be held Sunday, June 15, between the two four-day race programs.

Race dates are June 11, 12, 13 and 14 and 18, 19, 20 and 21. The 14th and 21st programs, both Saturdays, will be run during the afternoon, the balance at night.

Billy Soose Decisions Overlin

Veteran Ken Goes Down To 15-Round Defeat; New Middle Champ Crowned

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 9 (UP)—Billy Soose completed one of the ring's most fantastic flights to glory tonight when he wrestled the middleweight championship from Veteran Ken Overlin in a unanimous 15-round decision at Madison Square garden.

The slender, dark-haired lad from Farrell, Pa., who was ready to hang up his gloves in disgust less than a year ago, out-fumbled the ancient ex-sailor to take the unpopular verdict in one of the dulllest middleweight title fights ever staged.

Like Amateurs

During most of the bout, 31-year-old Overlin and his 23-year-old challenger fought like amateurs, missing so many punches and falling into so many clinches that the fans made almost as much noise yelling for action as they did after the final gong, protesting the decision.

In winning this title, which is recognized only in New York and four other states, Soose received the votes of all three officials, Referee Arthur Donovan and the two judges, Marty Monroe and Bill Healy. Donovan and Monroe each gave Soose eight rounds and Overlin seven, while Healy scored nine for Soose, five for Overlin and one even.

Fans Protest

Judging and remarks of many ring side experts, it is likely that tonight's decision will be disputed as stormily as the one last July when Soose received a questionable non-title 10-round verdict over Overlin at Scranton, Pa.

This writer scored the fight even, giving each fighter seven rounds and rating one session even. It was that kind of a bout, with both champion and challenger equally bad.

Soose, who had gone into the ring an 11-3 favorite in the betting, did not seem to have the strength and skill that he displayed in his last appearance against Ernie Vigh on March 7. It is possible he was weakened by piling down to the 160-pound limit and then coming in much lighter than expected at 157. Soose, a former Penn

Feller Drops Ballgame to Browns, 9-6

By United Press

The St. Louis Browns defeated Bobby Feller for the first time since 1930 with a 9-6 victory over the Cleveland Indians in the only game played Friday in the major leagues.

Only other games scheduled—Detroit at Chicago in the American league and Boston at New York and Brooklyn at Philadelphia in the National—were rained out.

Feller had won five straight before he met the Browns who handed him his worst beating of the season. Feller was belted for seven runs and eight hits, including three doubles and a triple in 3 1/3 innings. He walked four and fanned one.

Vernon Kennedy went the route for the Browns, gave up eight hits and scored his second victory of the season against three defeats.

The loss trimmed the Indians' lead to two games over the idle Yankees.
