

BLY AMATEUR CONTEST HELD ON SATURDAY

BLY — An amateur contest with Vern Hannon as master of ceremonies was held Saturday in the Bly high school auditorium. Marjorie Strong and Gene Detrick arranged many of the acts and Mrs. Dwight Bingham accompanied most of them. The entertainers were divided into four groups according to the nature of their act whether instrumental, vocal, novelty or children's. Those who participated were Abe Cruse, Marjorie Strong, Bobby McLain, Joy Esch, Florence Hestrom, Eileen Schneider, Dale Smith, June Harrison, Mrs. Joe Wallis, Bumgardner, Tony Rodgers, Bill Ellison, Dan Morris, Bill Ellison, William Harris, Harold Hill, Lester Chidotal, Rowdell Snowden, Barbara Detrick, Marie Doty, Jackie Cooper, Julie Detrick, Netty Rose Cruse, Ross McMillan, Betty Abbott, Wilmer McKune, Betty Hestrom, Gwen Ashbough, Clara Marie, Margaret Wallis, Walt Miller, Carl Raupach, June Harrison, Pearl Oris, Florence Smith, Janet Protzman, Alyce Parke, Bly Serenaders, Pearl Bowers, Betty Abbott, Margaret Deaton, Martha Givan, Kay Stockner and Betty Thomas. Dave La Fontaine. The judging was done from the standpoint of crowd appeal, delivery, costumes, poise, appropriateness of numbers. Winners were Carl Raupach, Ross McMillan, Florence Smith, June Harrison, Dan Morris, Lester Chidotal, Rowdell Snowden and Bly Serenaders.

On Sunday morning under the direction of Marjorie Strong the association had charge of the Mother's Day program. The church was decorated with wild flowers. Special music was furnished by the choir, Frank Meiser played a violin solo, and Mrs. Earl Cooper sang a solo. Mrs. Roney read a beautiful original poem about "Mother's Day" and Elena Gooch gave a tribute to "Grandmother." Reverend Bradshaw made a few remarks appropriate to the occasion. This is the third year since the organization of the Bly Music and Drama association and it has proved a most helpful and entertaining feature in the social and musical activities of the community.

SKILLED LABOR ON COAST RUNS SHORT

A growing shortage of skilled labor along the entire Pacific coast was noted Monday by the Klamath office of the Oregon State Employment service. Bulletins have been issued from the Pacific Car and Foundry company of Renton, Wash., seeking four skilled workers for shop employee while from the Lockheed Aircraft company of Los Angeles came an announcement of 31 vacancies in tool, die, pattern and other departments. In addition several single vacancies in other sections are in need of being filled. Men who have experience in machine and industry lines are asked to contact the service office for further information.

20-30 Club to Bring Noted Circus, Thrill Show Here

The Klamath Falls 20-30 club will sponsor the Polack Brothers Circus and Thrill show at the Fairgrounds in Klamath Falls for two nights and a matinee performance May 27 and 28 for the benefit of the local milk fund.

The circus is not new to Klamath Falls since it is presented all over the United States and Canada under the auspices of Shrine temples and clubs and has been presented in this city on three occasions. All sorts of thrilling circus acts and automobile thrill show stunts will be offered entirely new to this community. The circus is entirely professional and will include the famous Polack Brothers Circus liberty horse troupe, performing elephant, fighting and performing lions, sensational trapeze stars, and will feature the daring Blondin Reelin troupe of high wire bicycle artists.

John Sandmeyer, president of the 20-30 club announced the following chairmen of the various committees: Sam Goldstein, general chairman; Stuart Patty, vice chairman; Gene Hooten, publicity chairman; Tom Milne, ticket sales chairman; John Walker, grounds chairman.

GOVERNMENT ASKS MORE DRY BEANS

Dry edible beans are another crop just added to those for which increased production will be sought this year, according to announcement of Secretary of Agriculture Wickard. More beans are needed to meet defense food needs, as they are so concentrated that they may be more easily shipped to other countries.

As an incentive to farmers to increase their acreages this year, the department has arranged to support the market for small white, great northern, pea, and medium white beans until about May 1, 1942. The price aimed at will be approximately $5 per hundred at the eastern seaboard, which means $4 per hundred or more in producing areas.

Oregon produces a relatively small proportion of the national dry bean output, but some sections can probably increase their acreages to advantage, according to G. R. Hyslop, head of the plant industries division at Oregon State college.

NLRB HEARING AT BIG LAKES SLATED

Another national labor relations board hearing has been scheduled for Klamath Falls next week, it was announced Monday.

On an AFL petition the board will conduct a representation hearing Wednesday, May 21, to hear AFL claims of a majority at the Big Lakes Box company.

According to Joe Boyd, AFL organizer, the hearing may result in a board-ordered election to determine a bargaining agent for Big Lakes workers.

HONESTY WINS
RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—For 63 years an individual who as a boy broke a window in a school here wrestled with his conscience.

Finally at the age of 73 he visited Superintendent Jessie Binford to pay for the damages—only to have the school head rule that the money could not be accepted because of the "statute of limitations."

"General Grant," famous Liberty horse seen with Polack Brothers circus.

All 20-30 club members will assist.

Circus headquarters has been opened at 1125 Main street and Sam T. Polack is in town handling advance arrangements for the circus and thrill show.

Nicotinic Acid Not From Tobacco, Says Specialist

A hurry-up call to inform the public that nicotine acid has no connection with nicotine is being sent out by nutrition specialists following reports that some consumers have gained such an idea in connection with the nation-wide program to restore vitamins to white flour. As one of the three parts of the vitamin B complex is known as nicotinic acid, many questions have been asked regarding its possible relationship to nicotine. There is no connection, says Dr. Margaret Fincke, of Oregon State college, secretary of the state nutrition committee for defense. Neither does it add any acid to flour in the ordinary sense of the term, nor to spike another rumor, is the enriched any more fattening than other sorts.

HEALTH ASSOCIATION DINNER SET FRIDAY

The most outstanding meeting of the year that is held by the Klamath County Public Health association will take place Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock when dinner will be served at the Willard hotel.

All members of the association and the public are cordially invited to attend this annual meeting for which tickets will be sold during this week, according to R. Paul Roberts, president of the association.

Reservations may be made at the health unit or at the Willard. An especially outstanding speaker has been secured—Dr. Ralph C. Matson, a well known physician of Portland, who has specialized in treatment of tuberculosis, and it is expected that his talk, illustrated by pictures, will be one of the most interesting ever presented by the association.

HOT FEET
YREKA, Calif. (AP)—Elmer Jordan's shoes got well soaked with chemicals in his work on a state weed spraying crew. He volunteered to help a plumber. Some hot lead dropped on his shoes. There was a puff of smoke, an explosion. The shoes were blown off his feet. He is in Scott Valley hospital.

COUNTY GROUPS EYE NUTRITION

County committees to help further the cause of nutrition as an aid to national defense as well as the general welfare will be organized soon throughout the state as a result of action taken by the recently organized state nutrition committee for defense. This committee, headed by Ava B. Milam, dean of the school of home economics at Oregon State college, is part of the nation-wide movement to work for better nutrition during the national emergency period.

A state subcommittee appointed to carry out the county organization work is made up of representatives of three organizations already active in this field; they are Mrs. Azalea Sager, state home demonstration leader, chairman; Mrs. Clara Thompson, state home economics leader for the farm security administration, and Mrs. Laura Wells, consultant in nutrition for the state board of health, Portland.

The committee will also undertake to expand the school lunch program throughout the state, which is now reaching only 19 per cent of Oregon's schools, according to the report of a subcommittee headed by Mrs. Mabel Mack, extension nutritionist. Only 12 per cent of the Oregon schools are making use of the surplus food products made available by the federal government.

Elsewhere In Oregon

LA GRANDE, May 13 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith paid a maternity hospital bill here with a pint bottle full of dimes. They said they had saved enough dimes to pay the physician, too.

BAKER, May 13 (AP)—State convention of odd fellows and Rebekahs will be held here May 19-22.

PRINEVILLE, May 13 (AP)—The Prineville-Crook county chamber of commerce has voted $400 to a fund for a turf grid-iron here.

TILLAMOOK, May 13 (AP)—Offer of a 74 cent-an-hour wage increase was accepted by AFL workmen at the A. F. Coats Lumber company last night. The agreement, affecting 150 men, will expire in August.

UO Medical School To Increase Quota

PORTLAND, Ore., May 13 (UP)—The University of Oregon medical school will admit ten more students than usual this year to help meet the pressing need for doctors, Dr. Richard B. Dillehunt, dean, announced here Monday.

Dr. Dillehunt said the school is increasing its enrollment at the request of the association of American medical colleges. The school's maximum enrollment under the present budget is 250 students.

Shortage of Farm Labor Felt Over Oregon, Report

Increased shortages of farm laborers are being felt throughout the state, reports indicated Monday.

While more carloads of migrant farm workers poured through Klamath Falls from southern California farm security camps to north state strawberry patches, a call was sent out from Nyssa and Ontario, Ore., for beet workers and onion thinners.

The announcement said approximately six months work would be available. Prospective workers will be housed in tents in farm camps but must have their own bedding and cooking utensils. Washing and toilet facilities will be furnished.

Meanwhile a demand for strawberry pickers still existed.

MARKETING QUOTA VOTE SET MAY 31

A series of county meetings to explain the provisions of the national referendum on wheat quotas were scheduled throughout Oregon from May 12 to 17 by the state office of the AAA. County and community committees will take the information obtained from state officers at these meetings and will pass it on to wheat farmers in general at community meetings to be held between now and the referendum date, May 31.

Approval of wheat quotas proclaimed on May 10 by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, in accordance with the 1938 law, is vital to the future welfare of Oregon commercial wheat growers, believes Will Steen, Umatilla county farmer and chairman of the state committee. Unless the marketing quota plan is approved by two-thirds of those voting, the government loan program will be discontinued. Under the quota plan any grower who has stayed within his wheat allotment under the AAA program can market his crop the same as usual with no restriction.

Folling places for the referendum will be arranged by each county committee.

Productive plants in the aircraft industry nearly doubled during 1940, rising from about 12,000,000 square feet at the beginning of the year to 22,600,000 square feet.

HICKS TO LEAD SCOUT TRAINING

On Wednesday evening, May 14, at the Fremont school at 7:30 a local district training committee under the leadership of Joe Hicks will put on a one night training session for all scoutmasters, troop committeemen, district committeemen, and fathers of the Scouts.

Assisting Hicks will be Rev. Victor Phillips, who will discuss the history of scouting, Howard Boyd who will lead the songs and games, Dwight Gilchrist who will discuss the program. Demonstration of actual scouting will be put on by the boys of different ranks.
