 A fairly strong attacking group of the Canea-Malemi road has not yet "been mopped up." Churchill went on, "but other parties have been accounted for."

The Germans flew approximately 100 miles from the Greek mainland in great strength to invade the big island of Crete. Last Greek territory to be held by the Anglo-Greek allies, and one which Churchill had declared will be defended to the death.

CITY TO WELCOME TROOPS ON MOVE

 local hospitality and cooperative program arranged here.

Entertainment Planned
 Several ideas for entertaining the visiting soldiers were shaped up here.

The chamber's hospitality committee announced that a truck, equipped with sound facilities, and carrying musical instruments, singers and other entertainers, will be taken to the Cumberland road camp site for evening entertainment. Chet Smith is in charge.

Mayor John Houston urged that local citizens extend every courtesy to the visitors and pledged the city's cooperation with the army officers and hospitality committee. Chief Frank Hamm of the police department said local police will assist in handling traffic and routing the convoys through town.

Special reduced prices for all men wearing uniforms of Uncle Sam's service have been established by all local theatres, including the Pelican, Esquire, Pine Tree, Vox, Tower and Rainbow.

The movement through here will be part of the second biggest military migration in American history and the largest the far west has ever seen. It involves the 3rd and 41st divisions and special troops of the ninth army corps. While one column is moving through here, another will be moving down the Pacific highway.

It will involve a total of 33,000 men.

Railroad companies are moving refrigerator cars filled with vegetables and meat to each bivouac point. Tankers, pulled up to sidings, will fuel the trucks. Cars and tankers were beginning to arrive in Klamath Falls Tuesday afternoon.

 motorized unit was leaving Fort Lewis.

Similarly 3d division and 9th corps trucks began pulling out of the fort as their lead vehicles, which left yesterday, moved from the bivouac area at the Falem fairgrounds. The trucks will continue to leave Fort Lewis until Friday, by which time 22,000 soldiers will be on the road south. Remainder of the fort's soldiers will go to the maneuvers on the Hunter Liggett reservation by train.

Only three minor accidents marred yesterday's travel, start of the largest military movement in the far west's history.

Within 15 minutes after pulling into bivouac, soldiers were erecting a city of pup tents. A gigantic refueling job followed, four trucks being filled at a time. By the time the troops have completed their round trip more than 6,000,000 gallons of gas will have been used.

 erment to wait to see what the record shows."

Own Record
 "Did you wait to see what the record of your government showed before you made this statement about Bridges?" asked De Guercio.

"I had my own record," said Morse. "But I am not sure whether I made that statement before or after the last Bridges hearing (1939)."

Morse said in longshore arbitration cases in which he participated, he regarded Bridges as a good unionist. He testified Bridges always had taken the stand workers and employers could bargain amicably; that Bridges favored negotiation of differences and occasionally urged arbitration; that Bridges never appeared to favor strikes merely for strikes' sake.

The hearing is to determine whether Bridges is deportable because of alleged co-operation or affiliation with an organization advocating overthrow of the government, or of sabotage.

6 P. M. Closing To Be in Force For Merchants

Closing of downtown stores at 6 p. m. next Saturday will be maintained despite the fact the manager of a Main street store has notified other business men he will not abide by the agreement for early closing signed two weeks ago.

Decision to maintain the 6 p. m. closing was reached at a meeting of the Klamath Retail Trade bureau Tuesday noon, when the matter was thoroughly discussed. The bureau a few weeks ago obtained signatures of all downtown merchants on a petition agreeing to close their doors at 6 p. m. on Saturdays to give their employees a fuller weekend.

It was stated at the meeting that the manager who now plans to keep his store open until late in the evening was one of those signing the agreement. He was quoted as having received orders from a superior in a distant city to keep the later hours in spite of the local understanding.

At the Tuesday noon meeting, a letter from the Buckaroo Days committee was read asking the Retail Trade bureau for financial support in putting on the three-day July celebration. The group unanimously voted against any campaign by the bureau to raise money from Klamath Falls merchants, but indicated that individually they would be willing to cooperate with the Buckaroo Days committee if they were asked to do so by the rodeo group.

General Bergeret arrived in Beirut by air last night from Dakar and immediately went into consultation with General Henri Deniz who already has warned in a radio speech that his Syrian forces will "meet force with force" unless the British attacks cease.

Bergeret, it was stated officially, went to Syria to "inspect" French air defenses on orders of Marshal Petain, vice-premier Admiral Jean Darlan and War Minister Gen. Charles Huntziger.

Discussing Bergeret's arrival in Beirut, high French authorities said that if the British attacks continue—against airports used by German planes passing through Syria—there will "inevitably be French reprisals."

The settlement agreement provided a four to five cents hourly wage increase retroactive to April 15, pending standardization of wage scales for the area. The strikers had requested a 12-cents wage gain.

The union's action dispelled fears of similar wildcat strikes at other major Great Lakes ports.

Planners Seek Land for New Cemetery Here

Members of the city planning commission looked over various pieces of property in the vicinity Tuesday afternoon with the view of purchasing land for a new cemetery. At a recent meeting of the commission need of a new cemetery was voted when members were advised the present area was not adequate.

The parking problem came up for discussion again and J. A. Souther and Nick Long, members of the merchants' committee, suggested that vacant lots in the business district be investigated with the idea of utilizing these during shopping hours. It was also suggested that a survey be made among store and business house employees in order to learn whether or not employees were using space for all-day parking.

The idea of an aerial map to use by both the city and county was brought before the commission. Cost of such a map would be in the neighborhood of $500, however it is thought it would be of considerable value in the laying out of subdivisions and keeping streets and roads in proper order.

The sub-division recently opened up by Cal Peyton and named Summers park, was given approval by the commission.

THE RECORD... Facts That Concern You No. 29 of a Series

It's always the SORE thumb that sticks out...

Odd, isn't it—the way everybody notices the sore thumb?
 It's the same way with the retailing of beer. Everybody knows about the one undesirable place...everybody seems to forget about the thousands of worthwhile retailers who operate clean, decent, law-abiding establishments.

To protect the good name of beer, few of the beer industry want the few...but noticeable... "black sheep" retailers eliminated.

That's not all. Such retailers endanger an industry that brings important economic benefits to the community. Right here in Oregon beer provides employment for 13,238 persons, supports an annual payroll of $11,541,550 and contributed $617,020.86 last year in state taxes.

This state, too, has an important stake in the beer industry's purchases—for materials, equipment, and services—from more than 100 other industries.

You can help us protect these benefits in two ways—by (1) patronizing only the law-abiding places where beer is sold and (2) by reporting any irregularities you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.
