MEN NEEDED FOR NAVY

PORTLAND, Ore. (To the Editor)—Thirty-five thousand additional men are urgently needed for the US navy by June 30.

This means that the Portland recruiting district's share based upon population would be approximately 750 to 800 recruits.

As you know, the navy is our first line of defense, and the ships of that navy, ships already built, ships building, and ships joining the fleet each day from our merchant marine, must be manned.

These crews must be trained prior to joining the ships of the fleet. The naval service has always offered to qualified young men tremendous advantages, but today the navy has more to offer than at any other time.

Selective service does not apply to the navy. The navy depends upon voluntary enlistments entirely. The term of enlistment in the regular navy is still six years for all men over 18 and under 31 years of age.

For men between the ages of 17 and 18 the enlistment is for minority, or until the boy attains his 21st birthday.

For the man who does not want to obligate himself for six years, the naval reserve offers an attractive proposition. He may enlist in one of the many classes of the naval reserve and be released from active duty upon the termination of the present emergency. He may enlist for certain designated duties and if qualified will be sent to service schools to prepare him for these duties, and as stated before, he will be released from active duty when the emergency is over.

Anytime after the recruit's indoctrination training he may, if he so desires, transfer to the regular navy, and the time spent in the reserve will be computed in the time necessary for retirement.

In other words, he obligates himself only for the duration of the emergency and at the same time finds out if he is cut out to be a navy man. When that is decided he may transfer to the regular navy.

We think the navy today has more to offer a young man than any employer in civil life, and we in the recruiting service appeal to you for assistance in bringing to eligible prospects information regarding service in the regular navy and the naval reserve.

Very truly yours,
G. F. DEGRAVE,
Lieut., U. S. Navy,
Officer in Charge.

Royal Master Owners RELAX . . . Never Worry About Tire Trouble

THEY FEAR NO SKIDS. When brakes are applied—the seven continuous ribs break up into tilted, sharp-edged tread blocks—bite through the film of water, dust and oil to control skids, stop you quicker, straighter, safer.

THEY GET TEMPERED RUBBER now improved with a secret compound to give it greater resistance to heat, even more mileage—thick Tempered Rubber treads can be regrooved to give nearly double the non-skid wear.

THEY FEAR NO BLOWOUTS. Outside treads on a curve may carry double the normal load, a terrific strain on the cord body. Safety Bonding saturates cords in latex to resist blowouts from strain, speed, heat.

THEY GET SMOOTHER RIDES. The seven ribs give "railroad-track" stability—a smoother, flowing ride without hum, whine or rumble. Ejectors in the grooves (right) eliminate stones that often cut the tread.
