

DRAFT BOARDS TO DEFER MEN IN SOME JOBS

SACRAMENTO, May 28 (UP) Adjutant General J. O. Donovan, state director of selective service today urged the most careful selection of men by local draft boards to insure that no man useful in civilian occupations is called into the army.

Donovan called attention to the fact that the office of production management and other national defense agencies report growing shortages not only of skilled mechanics but also in vital professions.

He cautioned local boards against calling men needed in factory or field and concerning the necessity of maintaining an adequate reservoir of professional and technical specialists by permitting promising students to complete professional training. "While the recruitment of a large peacetime army is essential to national defense," Donovan said, "it is equally important that there be no interference with the production of defense supplies and material."

Donovan explained that selective service regulations regarding occupational deferments have three major purposes:

1. Prevention of available shortages of necessary workers in the nation's program for defense production.

2. Protection of the national industrial training program by deferment of individuals when there is evidence that they are "in training" or preparation for an occupation or employment necessary to the maintenance of national health, safety or interest.

3. Anticipation of possible exhaustion of pools of highly skilled workers not now employed in defense activities but probably necessary in the near future for expansion of defense production. When such men "but for a seasonal or temporary interruption would be engaged in such defense activity."

Donovan listed 17 fields in which recent OPM studies have shown that the supply of manpower either is dangerously low or there are indications of shortages in the near future. They are:

Civil engineering, electrical engineering, chemical engineering, mining and metallurgical engineering, mechanical engineering, chemistry, medicine, dentistry, agricultural engineering, sanitary engineering, pharmacy, physics, biology and bacteriology, and the four branches of geology—geophysics, meteorology, hydrology and cartography.

Portland Bakery Strike Threatens To Spread North

PORTLAND, Ore., May 28 (P) Portland's bakery strike threatened to spread to Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane today, the fourth day of a walkout which cut off 80 per cent of the bread supply here.

William McGuern, Bakery Workers' union representative, said he had suggested strike action to Washington union officials as a means of adding pressure on Portland chain affiliates.

He declared the action would be in retaliation for a lock-out here. The union struck at only eight Portland bakeries, but 30 shops closed down, he said, adding that "the small number of bakeries we are picketing would not materially reduce Portland's bread supply."

Employers said that negotiations were handled through a Bakery association, and that a strike at one plant was a strike at all.

At Seattle the threatened strike was discounted because of a recently-completed contract calling for wage increases. The strike here is in demand for a 10-cent an hour increase to $1.10 with 20 cents an hour additional for night work.

Another possible strike in the food industry was averted last night with acceptance by 1000 AFL Grocery Clerks of a compromise wage proposal. Pay was increased from $25 to $29 weekly and the work week reduced from 51 to 50 hours.

Burglar Shot to Death in Portland

PORTLAND, Ore., May 28 (P) Van Allen Zook, 31, of Chehalis, died at St. Vincent's hospital Tuesday of bullet wounds inflicted by police April 9.

Traffic Patrolmen Andrew Crabtree and E. H. Clark reported that they wounded Zook after he refused to halt near the scene of a burglary they were investigating.

Zook was booked for burglary at the police station, but his condition was so grave police were unable to question him. Police records show that he served a previous term for burglary in the Oregon penitentiary.

Learn New Ways of Serving More Fresh Vegetables Daily

Nutrients guaranteed in this fresh vegetable shortcake.

THE fresh vegetable season offers budget nutrition and assorted flavor. Begin now to discover new ways of introducing more vegetables into the family menu.

Fresh Vegetable Shortcake (Serves 8)
Two cups cooked fresh peas, 1 cup cooked diced fresh carrots, 1 cup diced cooked celery, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter.

TOP: 1 1/2 cups prepared biscuit mix, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 egg, 1/4 cup milk.

Mix vegetables and arrange in bottom of a well-greased layer cake dish. Sprinkle with salt and dot with butter.

TOP: Measure biscuit flour according to directions on package. Add sugar, well-beaten egg and milk. Mix thoroughly and spread over top of vegetable mixture. Bake in a hot oven (425° F.), for about 20 to 25 minutes or until top is browned. Serve with a cheese sauce.

Cheese Sauce (2 cups sauce)
Three tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 cup grated cheese.

Melt butter in a one-quart heat-resistant glass saucepan. Blend in flour and add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook about 5 minutes, or until no starchy taste remains. Add seasonings and cheese; continue cooking until cheese melts. Serve in a teapot or pitcher to put the finishing touch on a vegetable shortcake.

Know Your Onions
Onions are always important. Do you know your onions?

The most common variety is the northern-grown winter storage onion. The strongest of this variety—the kind for cooking—is about 2 to 2 1/2 inches across. Spanish onions—also the northern-grown type—are milder and can be used for eating. You can tell these because they are larger, 4 to 5 inches across.

Bermuda onions—which don't come from Bermuda at all but from Texas—are smaller than Spanish onions, are mild, and tops for eating raw. You can tell them from Spanish onions because they are flat. They are on the market from April through July.

Swing to CRISPNESS

... here's the kind that lasts!

Put new zest and sparkle into your breakfasts! Tantalizing Kellogg's Rice Krispies—golden-brown in color—mouth-watering in flavor—can do just that for you. They're extra delicious with fruit, too.

Rice Krispies owe their special goodness to a flavor recipe known only to Kellogg's. Oven-popping and gentle toasting play their part. The result is a cereal so crunchy-crisp that you can actually hear it go snap! crackle! pop! the instant you pour on milk or cream.

Some day soon, the Kellogg man will call at your home with a sample package of lasting crispness for you. But don't wait to start enjoying Kellogg's Rice Krispies. Buy a package at your grocer's today.

"Rice Krispies" is a trade mark (Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.) of Kellogg Co. for oven-popped rice.
