"MARKET" CEMETERIES

In medieval times, European markets often were located in cemeteries. Cemeteries, as well as churches, were places of sanctuary for those seeking refuge in time of war, fire, or famine. Here they were protected from all harm by church law. So many persons lived in cemeteries, as a result, that regular market places were established in them.

STOCK MARKET HOLIDAY RUNS INTO 2ND DAY

NEW YORK, May 31, (AP)—The baker's dozen that appeared in Wall street bought a few air-crafts and specialty stocks in dribbles and left many leaders to shuffle indifferently behind minus signs.

Commission houses were manned by skeleton staffs as most habitues of the financial sector extended yesterday's holiday over the week-end. The story, however, was told by the two hour volume of around 100,000 shares, smallest since last August.

Most brokers were of the opinion large holders of stocks were unwilling to liquidate at present prices. Bonds and commodities exhibited as much irregularity as stocks.

In the share division Consolidated Aircraft reached a new high for the year. Supported also were Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, United Aircraft, Chrysler, Bethlehem Steel, Southern Railway, Sears Roebuck, and American Telephone.

WHEAT PUSHES UP AFTER EARLY DROP

CHICAGO, May 31 (AP)—After falling as much as a cent to the lowest levels in about two weeks, wheat prices today recovered all of the loss and pushed upward for gains of almost a cent.

A sharp rally of soybeans also strengthened wheat. Early wheat weakness was associated with a heavy two-day accumulation of receipts at some terminals, climaxing a record-breaking movement for the month, expectations of upward revision of new crop estimates and war news.

Wheat closed 1-1/2c higher than Thursday, July 941-c, September 96-961c; corn 1-1/2c up, July 731c, September 741c; oats 1c off to 1c up.

Quotas on wheat were proposed for the first time this year because the United States has a prospective supply sufficient to meet its needs for nearly two years.

GROWERS VOTE ON PROPOSED WHEAT QUOTA

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—The federal farm program met its first nation-wide test today in a grower referendum on whether the government should be granted authority to tell farmers how much wheat they might market this year.

Upwards of 750,000 producers in 37 wheat-growing states were expected to cast secret ballots at polling places established in school-houses, courthouses, other public buildings and rural homes by farmer committees.

They marked "yes" or "no" to the question of whether they favored marketing quotas designed to keep surplus production of this year's prospective bumper wheat crop off the market until it is needed. The favorable vote of at least two-thirds of those voting is required to make the quotas operative.

Officials of the agricultural adjustment administration expressed confidence that the marketing control proposal would be approved. The confidence was based upon the fact that, under crop control legislation, price - supporting government loans must be withheld in the event quotas are turned down.

Under recently approved legislation, this year's basic wheat loan rate would be about 97 cents a bushel, or about 25 cents more than last year's rate. Officials declared that without the loan program, wheat prices could be expected to drop 25 cents from the present near-dollar level.

Quotas on wheat were proposed for the first time this year because the United States has a prospective supply sufficient to meet its needs for nearly two years.

Children Need Milk From America, Says British Lord

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE Jr., United Press Correspondent LONDON, May 30, (UP)—Lord Woolton, food minister, appeared today to the women and families of America to reduce their consumption of milk and cream so that 2,000,000 British children who need plenty of milk can remain healthy.

"I want to make the greatest appeal of which I am capable to the American people to give us enough milk," he said. "These children are suffering enough from night after night of bombings. The effects are bound to last a long time, but I want them kept physically all right."

"I know that America has no big exportable surplus of milk, but I believe that American women would be willing to reduce their own consumption—perhaps go without cream one day a week—so the difference could be sent in the form of milk powder and distributed here through clinics so that children will get enough."
