The Fourth at Merrill.

Merrill done herself proud on the lode Fourth. From early in the morning until noon people kept coming from all parts of the county. At 11 a. m. the parade formed at the school house led from by the brass band and marched to the at ! arbor. E. Elvy read the Declaration of Independence and J. B. Griffith was rak orator of the day. After the exercises on were over lunch was spread and everybody proceeded to enjoy a great spread. The fatted calf had been killed and The was cooked to the Queen's taste.

In the afternoon horse racing was wh in order. Colwell's Rondo winning the the quarter mile dash. Brandon's horse Fri winning the first two heats in the half mile and repeat. There were six entries V in the half mile saddle horse race; bee Flackus' borse winning. - 100

One of the Anderson boys wes the tur horseback tournament in the afternoon. N In the evening the bridge was ilfuminated and a great variety of fire- doi works were set off.

The dance in Kinney's ball was a frie success in every respect.

The ball supper given by M. E. Hutchison in his new hotel was one of ath the greatest events of the celebration. Poo Mrs, Hutchison reputation as a cook is ver well established.
