CURL LEAF.

The Oregon Board of Horticulture R. G. Dunn & Co. in their weekly has been in receipt of many letters of inquiry regarding the curl leaf of the in any month of which there is record prune, and reporting that many trees excepting May, and trading failures are bursting, requesting directions how

The bursting of prune trees, especially Italians, is no doubt the result of damage done by the February freeze, which has proven so disastrous throughout the United States and Europe. In one of my communications in early They find that vast and valuable tracts six years. London again recognizes March I predicted this, and even now look for more damage later in the season, especially in those orchards where claimed and taxed by Oregon, are in that it cannot draw from New York little or no care has been given. From many years observation I have come to the conclusion that all prune trees showing curl leaf are bark-bound, which naturally checks the sap flow. and is more pronounced in the Italian prune trees. Lecan readily account for the cause of some of them, for instance, those trees which are infected with trees which are semingly in a perfectly healthy condition the curl leaf is not readily accounted for, and calls for

I have experimented some in that direction and found when I split the outer bark on bark-bound trees, whether the tightness was at the union or at the crown of individual limbs, or the entire length of the tree, from root to branch, that the under bark would come apart at once like "shoddy cloth," and in a few days the curl would disappear, whereas, if you split the bark of a healthy tree, the cut made will not open to any appreciable

I must confess that I am at a loss and not scientific enough to account for the "direct cause" of curl leaf. The only advice I can give, based upon experience, is: When curl leaf first begins to show, split the outer bark on three sides, from root to branch, care being taken not to cut through the inner bark, or to the wood, and if gumosis, or dead spot, is present, wash the cuts with Bordeaux mixture, full strength.

The more I study the matter of sun scald, bark-bursting, curl leaf, gum osis, etc., the more I become convinced that all our prunes should be top grafted on some suitable plum stock.

When Hon. James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, favored us with a visit a short time ago, I had the pleasure of driving him through some of our or chards, and called his attention to this and other diseases, which require scientific investigation, requesting that some expert be sent to us for the purpose, and he promised to give it his Journal. best attention.
