Cards of Thanks.

We wish to express our heartfelt gratitude to those who so kindly assisted us during our late husband's and father's illness.

MRS. THOS. MICHAEL AND FAMILY.

Woman Guilty of Arson.

Gosmina Carlile, who was indicted jointly with her husband, John Carlile, for burning the house of her brother, A. J. Hamlin, on August 14, 1899, pleaded guilty last Saturday, in the circuit court at Jacksonville, and was sentenced to nine year's imprisonment in the penitentiary. The trouble between the brother and sister grew out of the settlement of the estate of their father. Upon Mrs. Carlile's plea of guilty her husband was released from custody.

Repair the Bridge.

One of the braces on the upper frame work of the bridge across the river here has broken, letting it lean over almost a foot. This should be repaired at once, as the large bands of beef that it continually crossing the bridge make it worse. If this matter is neglected much longer, some large bunch of cattle or a heavy loaded freight team will break it down, causing a greater expense than if repaired now. Several years ago this bridge was neglected for a long time, and after J. C. Mitchell undertook to repair it with some beef cattle and broke a section of it down, it was all repaired and new timbers put in where needed, but since then nothing has been done in the way of repairs.

La Grande Sugar Factory.

The Oregon Sugar Company began slicing beets Wednesday. There is a scarcity of help, from 300 to 450 men being needed in addition to those in sight at this date. Employment will be steady for about two months. An idea of the work to be done can be gained from statements of the manager, Joseph Barton. There are 2300 acres in beets this year, with a probable yield of 25,000 tons of beets, and an approximate output of 4,000,000 pounds of refined sugar.

The successful operation of the plant at this place means big things for the state, as thousands of acres of land formerly considered useless for any purpose are found to be best adapted to culture of the sugar-beet. The buildings here will accommodate machinery for double the present capacity, which will be put in as soon as the supply of beets demands.

The culture of the beet is passing from the experimental stage, and while producers lost last year from want of practical knowledge in preparation of soil and care of the crop, the result will be different this season. Sunshine is all that is required to ensure success this year.

Yainax Echoes.

ED. REPUBLICAN.—The school was treated to a very interesting program last Sunday evening. The principal features of which were a vocal solo by Mrs. Dean, and an instructive address by Cap. Griffin, a veteran of the civil war.

Col. Duncan U. S. Special Agent paid Yainax a flying visit Thursday.

Mr. C. K. Egbert, Superintendent of this school returned Monday from Klamath Agency where he has been the past week overseeing the sawing of a large bill of lumber for the new barn that is being built on the school farm.

One agent of the British government is negotiating with a firm in Louisville, Ky., for the purchase of 1000 pack mules for use in South Africa. The deal remains open because of the question of the weight. The Englishman demands immediate shipment and the firm asks six weeks.

Ashland peaches and Ashland water, continue the brightest and most attractive stars in the galaxy of Ashland perfections. The peaches are the best in the state and the water is good for the health. But such water is not as good as it is at Klamath Falls, which is not only good for health but also good to drink.

The O'Malley Comedy company show at the opera house last evening was the most satisfactory show that has been in the Falls for the past two years. A large audience was in attendance. The program consisted of fancy dancing, songs and instrumental music. After the performance the chairs were removed and dancing indulged in until 12 o'clock. The same program will be played again this evening.

WANTED A Railroad.

The Portland newspapers say that "everybody is going to attend the State fair this year." Everybody would without doubt like to attend the State fair this year for it will be an admirable display of the unrivaled resources and productions of Oregon. The enterprising citizens of Klamath county would like to go—many of them will—but the great majority, much as they would enjoy an outing, will remain at home.

The climbing of the range of intervening mountains over which the road passes, is the great obstacle to going to the fair, and vividly suggests that if we had a railroad, the going to the fair would be an easy and agreeable pastime in which all, men, women and children, would joyfully participate.

Yes, this rich and beautiful county needs a railroad, not only to carry people to the fair or to visit other towns on business or pleasure, but also to bring in from abroad that which we have, and take away that which we have, to market.

Exports of coal from the United States have increased from 226,918 tons, in 1879, to over 4,000,000 tons during the past year.

The late summer rains have made good pasture and range feed. The farmers and stockraisers ought to have more stock to use it.
