

Does Your Baking Powder Contain Alum?

Prof. Geo. F. Barker, M. D., University of Penn.: "All the constituents of alum remain (from alum baking powders) in the bread, and the alum itself is reproduced to all intents and purposes when the bread is dissolved by the gastric juice in the process of digestion. I regard the use of alum as highly injurious."

Dr. Alonzo Clark: "A substance (alum) which can derange the stomach should not be tolerated in baking powder."

Prof. W. G. Tucker, New York State Chemist: "I believe it (alum) to be decidedly injurious when used as a constituent of food articles."

Prof. S. W. Johnson, Yale College: "I regard their (alum and soluble alumina salts) introduction into baking powders as most dangerous to health."

In view of such testimony as this, every care must be exercised by the housewife to exclude the over and over condemned cheap, alum baking powders from the food.

Baking powders made from cream of tartar, which is highly refined grape acid, are promotive of health, and more efficient. No other kind should be used in leavening food. Royal Baking Powder is the highest example of a pure cream of tartar powder.

The Advantage of One Eye.

During the late Spanish-American war a certain old colonel who had lost an eye at the battle of Gettysburg was very indignant because he was put aside as physically incapacitated, when he applied for admission to one of the New York volunteer regiments.

Filled with wrath and chagrin the colonel journeyed to Washington, bent on having a personal interview with the president. He succeeded in gaining an audience, and the president, after listening to his plea, said, kindly: "But, my good Col. J., you have only one eye!"

"Just so, sir," was the prompt rejoinder, "but can't you see the great advantage of my having only one eye? When I aim my gun I shan't have to close the other!"

He fought at Santiago. — Youth's Companion.

Trip to Portland.

Now that the heat and dust of summer are past and gone, there is real pleasure in travel, and no trip can give more pleasure or profit than a trip to Portland to attend the Oregon Industrial Exposition, which runs in Portland from September 28 to October 28. All the railroad and steamboat lines are giving specially low excursion rates, and the fair is well worth visiting.

The least troublesome and most profitable animal to raise in this country is the sheep.

The extreme point of Land's End.

The most westerly point of England, has been described as resembling the head of an alligator descending into the sea. A natural tunnel runs right through it, and is about 60 feet high.

Why It Succeeds.

There is nothing remarkable about the grand success that attends the Oregon Industrial Exposition at Portland, for it is backed up by the enterprising business men of Portland, who spare no expense to make the great fair a splendid success. The men who conduct it are: H. C. Breeden, president; I. N. Fleischer, vice-president; R. J. Holmes, treasurer; W. S. Struble, secretary; E. C. Masten, assistant secretary; H. E. Dosch, auditor; George L. Baker, superintendent; J. P. Marshall, Ben Selling, H. L. Pitcock, D. Solis Cohen, C. B. Williams, Dan McAllen, A. B. Steinbach, J. E. Thielsen, D. M. Dunne, R. C. Judson, L. M. Spiegel, Sig. Sichel, H. D. Ramsdell, B. S. Pague, General O. Summers, Col. I. N. Day, George Fuller, Captain E. S. Edwards.

If a child needs nourishment one of the simplest forms in which it can be taken is by the raw whites of eggs. These are nutritious, and easily digested. The white is broken into a jar with what milk is desired and the two shaken thoroughly together. A pinch of salt may be added before drinking, if preferred.

Four Facilities for Coaling.

Army officers in the Philippines who have charge of the troop transports complain of the lack of coaling facilities and the annoyances which surround the replenishing of the fuel supply of such ships. They write the war department that the present method involves great delay, troops being compelled to await transports, which make long trips to the coal pile and back. The distance required to go for fuel is 70 miles, and the period taken for this errand is from 10 to 20 days. Sometimes, it is said, a transport is gone long enough while taking on coal to make a trip from Manila to San Francisco. It is probable there will be an official inquiry into the system, and some arrangements made by which the transports can be coaled with greater facility.

Port Patrick is the nearest place on the coast of Scotland to that of Ireland, the channel being only 21 miles across—about the same distance as that which separates Dover from Calais. It has the reputation of being the traditional point at which St. Patrick landed from Ireland.

The first Australian newspaper, the Sydney Gazette, was published March 5, 1803, 15 years after the rise of the colony. The delay was caused through there being no printers among the convicts, who represented every profession, including the legal. The plant was brought out in the first fleet, but it could not be used until the authorities caught a compositor.

A snail's pace was carefully observed in Florence, Italy. Several of the molasses were placed between two points ten feet apart, and started. It was ascertained that the fastest snail in the race traveled at the rate of a mile in 14 days.

For the Children.

The management of the Oregon Industrial Exposition at Portland has provided well for the children, whom we have with us always, and whose lives should be brightened. The feature of the fair that gives them the most enjoyment is the big steam merry-go-round. They never tire of it, and as they dismount from their prancing steeds they are always happy and ready for another ride.

Improved Train Equipment.

The O. R. & N. and Oregon Short Line have added a buffet, smoking and library car to their Portland-Chicago through train, and a dining car service has been inaugurated. The train is equipped with the latest chair cars, day coaches and luxurious first-class and ordinary sleepers. Direct connection made at Granger with Union Pacific, and at Ogden with Rio Grande line, from all points in Oregon, Washington and Idaho to all Eastern cities. For information, rates, etc., call on any O. R. & N. agent, or address W. H. Hurlburt, General Passenger Agent, Portland.

War Museum.

It is worth a trip to Portland to see the war museum at the exposition there. Captain E. S. Edwards took his coat right off and went to work, and has gotten together the largest collection of war weapons ever seen in the Northwest. Most of them were captured in the Philippines by the Oregon volunteers. The museum is the carrying out of an idea suggested and followed up by Dan McAllen, one of Portland's most enterprising business men, and it is all for the benefit of the monument fund.

A "HOT" COLD BANQUET.

Some Inside Information by a Waiter From the Bowers Who Helped to Serve It.

One of the waiters at a popular local restaurant is a bird of passage from the Bowers and was a member of the small army that served the famous "Dollar Dinner" in New York last April. A good many stories have been told of that memorable event, but none of them surpass his own in point of picturesque and inside detail. "It was the funniest party I was ever in in my life," he says, "I was ever in. The kitchen was so small they had to cook everything on the outside, and when it got there it was dead cold. The second course was haddock, and each fish came served in a linen bag, so we could put 'em in tubs of hot water and warm 'em up—see? Well, some of the boys got rattled and served 'em bags and all, with egg sauce over 'em outside. Say, you'd of died laughing seeing them fellers tryin' to carve their fish. 'This is the toughest cold haddock I ever tackled in my life,' says one Tammany man at the head table; 'it's got a skin like a rhinoceros,' says he. In the kitchen there was a riot all night long. It was so small the waiters couldn't reach the dishes-up and they got to scrapping for front places in the line. One man was knocked stiff with a turkey, and when they picked him up I thought he was dead. I did, on the level. But it wasn't blood. It was only cranberry sauce. Another flunkie fell into the salad and one of the cooks put a can of ice cream in the oven, thinking it was brown gravy for the beef. That's on the square—just as I'm telling you! But the worst of all was when we came to the wine. It was 'Merican champagne in half pints, without ice, and of all the kicking and hollering! One fresh gent told me it was the only thing he had had that night that was good and warm, and he hardly said it when a waiter that was a little jagged accidentally poured about a quart of boiling coffee down the back of his neck. Say, you ought of heard him cuss. Between you and me, a good many waiters got to hating the wine, and they found one of 'em with 15 empty bottles in his pants leg. That's honest. I saw it myself. It was the hottest banquet I was ever at."—N. O. Times-Democrat.

The Philippine War is proving more stubborn than anticipated. It needs a vigorous contest to straighten matters out. We should tackle the Philippines and overcome them as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters does dyspepsia, indigestion, malaria, fever and ague. The battle is short and decisive, and for fifty years the Bitters have always won.

FLINGS AT WOMANKIND.

Some of Which Smack Just a Little Bit of the Truth.

A girl was visiting in town who has a dress trimmed with four miles of lace, and her hostess is thinking of giving a reception for it.

A woman who knows how easily the men can be fooled tells everyone who kisses her that it is the first time she was ever kissed by a man.

It occurs to a man and wife some wonder that his wife never got up as much enthusiasm over him when she was a bride as she gets up over the new little red baby.

Every unhappy woman takes pleasure in thinking of the time when he will come back, and it will be too late.

A good many girls have the notion to sell their hair and wear off the mortgage on the family homestead, and the story books relate. An Atchison girl who had very beautiful hair became very poor and agreed to sell it for $3. After the hair had been cut off the purchaser refused to take it, saying she could get a switch for $2 in Kansas City that would answer.—Atchison Globe.

Will Run Automobile Line.

Unable to obtain an electric railway or to induce the Big Four Railroad company to improve the service north of Washah, Ind., the citizens of North Manchester have taken briskly in hand the matter of buying an automobile to run between Washah and that place, 14 miles. There is a great deal of travel to Washah, the county seat, from that portion of the county, but the Big Four does not run its trains to accommodate it. Negotiations are now on for a horseless carriage with which it is proposed to make three or four round trips a day, carrying passengers for 75 cents both ways. If the project succeeds the carriage will be put on this fall and will be the first application of the automobile.

Irony.

"Did ye ever notice a mon from St. Louis?" inquired the janitor philosopher. "Will, if ye didn't it's worth yer while. Up th' boulevard he struts wid hid elevated. Suddenly thors' a big commotion an' he's lifted off his fate by an automobile. He picks himself up, goes home an' tells his friends th' horseless carriages at Chicago are run by jackasses; but thot th' jackasses are knosids. Oh, he's a bitter lobster!" —Chicago Evening News.

TREMENDOUS EXPANSION.

The Volume of Business Is Still Growing in All Lines.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review says: September is the 12th consecutive month in which the volume of business, both at New York and outside of New York, has been greater than the same month of any previous year. In the 12 months, payments through clearing houses have been $89,600,000,000, against $61,300,000,000, in 12 months, ending with September, 1892, an increase of $28,400,000,000, over 46 per cent. When the tremendous expansion began, men called it replenishment of long-depleted stocks, then for a time it was called a crazy outburst of speculation, and when demands still expanded, some permanent increase of business was recognized as a result of increased population, earning better wages. But the demand still grows, now ranging about 60 per cent greater than in 1892, while population, according to treasury estimates, is 16 per cent greater, and wages equal, if not over 10 per cent greater. A reconstruction of business and industries, of producing and transporting forces, is in progress throughout the land, with results which none can now measure. The wool market is active, with a general advance, aggregating about 1/2 cent on washed fleece combing, the entire list quoted by Coates Bros, probably averages about 1/4 cent higher. Cotton opened the crop year at 6.25 cents and has risen to 6.87, although about a quarter more has come into sight than last year from the greatest crop on record, and stocks here and abroad commercial and bill, are 658,000 bales greater than a year ago. Corn is unchanged in price, and still in large foreign demand, exports having been in four weeks 12,155,904 bushels, against 8,133,641 last year.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a long time, the great medical reformers have pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to 60. It reaches directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. It cures in one hundred dollars, for any case it fails to cure, send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

To Do Away With Ear Trumpets.

A telephone has been invented for deaf people which is intended to be away with the necessity of carrying large and clumsy ear trumpets which are now in common use. The new device consists of a small transmitter which is fastened to the coat, while the receiver can be carried in the pocket except when wanted. It is then to be placed to the ear exactly as an ordinary telephone receiver. The whole apparatus is worked by a small electric battery, which also finds a place in the pocket. Not only is the new apparatus more convenient than the old-fashioned ear trumpet, but it is claimed by the inventor that it entirely does away with the necessity of talking in a loud tone of voice.—Chicago Tribune.

GEN. JOE WHEELER PRAISES PERUNA, The Great Catarrh Cure.

Major-General Joseph Wheeler, commanding the cavalry forces in front of Santiago and the author of "The Santiago Campaign," in speaking of the great catarrh remedy, Per-na, says: "I join with Senators Sullivan, Roach and McEnery in their good opinion of Per-na. It is recommended to me by those who have used it as an excellent tonic and particularly effective as a cure for catarrh."

United States Senator Sullivan. "I desire to say that I have been taking Per-na for some time for catarrh, and have found it an excellent medicine, giving me more relief than anything I have ever taken.—W. V. Sullivan, Oxford, Miss."

United States Senator Roach. "Persuaded by a friend, I have used Per-na as a tonic, and am glad to testify that it has greatly helped me in strength, vigor and appetite. I have been advised by friends that it is remarkably efficacious as a cure for the almost universal complaint of catarrh.—W. N. Roach, Larimore, North Dakota."

The microbes that cause chills and fever and malaria enter the system through mucous membranes made porous by catarrh. Per-na heals the mucous membranes and prevents the entrance of malarial germs, thus preventing and curing these affections.
