THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1899.

Congress began its annual session Monday. News of its doings will fill the newspapers for months to come.

General David B. Henderson has been chosen speaker of the house of representatives, being the successor of Thos. B. Reed.

Senator Mark Hanna denies the report that he proposes to withdraw from politics and let loose of the chairmanship of the republican national committee.

Kansas furnished San Francisco with a lot of poultry last week, the shipment including 40,000 chickens, 2,000 turkeys, 20,000 pigeons and 2,000 ducks, the whole being valued at $14,000.

It is reported that two-thirds of the house of representatives are opposed to seating Congressman-elect Roberts of Utah, believing he is too deeply tainted by polygamy and consequently not qualified to act.

"The job hunts the man now, not the man the job; and where this condition exists labor is always better rewarded," said President McKinley. This is the condition. The democratic theory is that labor is being ground down by the octopus and needs relief by the free coinage of silver.—Tacoma (Wash.) Ledger.

A Philadelphia savings bank received in deposits from January 1 to June 1, 1999, the sum of $9,000,000, and no depositor is allowed to put in more than $300 in one year. Does not that look as though laborers were saving their earnings and getting ahead? Does it look much like the conditions during the Cleveland calamity period, which reached a climax in '96, when Bryanism was threatened? Is it not one of the many irrefutable evidences of restored confidence and general prosperity?

The coming congress will consider a bill for the re-classification of the railway mail clerks, the present classification having been entirely outgrown by the enormous increase in that branch of the service in the past thirty years. The proposed measure will equalize in some degree the inequalities in pay at present existing and will increase the pay of clerks on important and heavy lines. Postal clerks are the hardest worked and poorest paid of any government employes, and there can scarcely be any objection to giving them the remuneration that the excellence of their work deserves.—Medford Mail.

Mullet abound in Lost river, Klamath county, but all efforts to make a merchantable commodity of them have so far proved failures, as the process used for preserving the fish did not prove a success. Now J. D. Whitman, of Medford, feels certain that he has struck the keynote to success and has sent 25 empty barrels to Lost river, which he proposes to fill with mullet for market next spring. He will skin the fish, extract all bones and then salt them, and he thinks that in time he can build up a big industry, as there is no end to the fish which can be secured there. As fish of most kinds are preserved by salting, skin, bones and all, Mr. Whitman should have no trouble in preserving his mullet after the skin and bones are removed. Even if there is no great demand for the salted mullet, he ought to be able to build up an industry in the way of skinning and boning the fish, which would keep a number of persons busy. He should pack a few of these mullets on ice and send them to this market, as mullets are not known here and might take well. There are any number of mullet-headed people here who would be sure to have a liking for them.—Oregonian.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that a certain note, dated at Klamath Falls, Oregon, December 4, 1899, for $100.00, due in 30 days from the date thereof, in favor of M. Heyman and against Matt Haines, is without consideration and void. Notice is further given to the owners, assignees, transferees, holders or persons having the same for collection that the maker thereof, the undersigned, will contest the payment of said note for the above reasons and for the further reason that the execution of said note was obtained through misrepresentation by the payee thereof, and further because said payee is not a duly licensed physician in this county.
