Yreka Journal.

A large number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dexter, of Little Shasta, gathered Sabbath morning, July 1st, to witness the nuptials of their third daughter, Florence, and Mr. George W. Bradley, of Klamath Falls, Oregon. Rev. G. M. Dexter officiated. A large horse shoe covered with choice flowers served as a canopy over the young couple and was supposed to insure all kinds of good luck. The bride was gowned in heavy white satin trimmed with pink silk, white chiffon and orange blossoms. The bridegroom was dressed in the conventional Prince Albert. Ada Dexter, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore purple silk. Mr. Scoggins, of Sisson, was best man. Several young swains watched the ceremony with interest, among whom might be mentioned Chas. Fox, who carries the mail and conducts the Little Shasta market; W. S. Berry of C. A. Pease & Co.; Louis Rohrer, the enterprising farmer, and Will Simcox, chief salesman with C. Fox & Co. Future announcements may be expected. The wedding presents were numerous, being both pretty and useful. After the ceremony all partook of a bountiful wedding breakfast, served in the tastefully decorated dining room. Soon after, amid the congratulations of friends and a shower of rice and old shoes, the happy couple left for their future home in Klamath Falls, Oregon.
