Nothing Lost by Marking the Alaska Boundary.

ARRANGEMENT ONLY TEMPORARY

However, the State Department Is Inclined to Defend the New Line as a Victory for Us.

Washington, August 3 .- None of the protests said to have been made in orders from Washington today not to Alaska against the definition of the provisional boundary line have reached Washington yet, and the impression prevails in the state department that agitation on that rabject is based on a which a most dangerous subject was removed from the current negotiations between the two countries. It is pointed out by state department officials that this provisional boundary line, the running of which is said to have excited the American miners in the Porcupine region, is not in any sense binding upon either party to the modus vivendi, except as a purely temporary scheme designed to prevent hostile conflicts between the miners and police forces, through lack of knowledge as to their rights. The purpose of the arrangement as to that is fully disclosed by the inclusion in the modus vivendi of a provision in these terms:

"It is understood, as formally set out in communications to the state department of the United States, that the citizens or subjects of either power subject to this arrangement in the temporary jurisdiction of the other shall at New Rochelle, N. Every American miner whose claim lies on the wrong side of the boundary line now being drawn is, according to the official view here, holding his claim by quite as sound a tenure as he enmade. He has neither lost nor gained in strength of title by this arrangement, so he certainly has no cause for complaint, as he would have were the boundary line now being drawn a permanent one. The officials here, however, are fully prepared to defend the temporary boundary, and point out Britain an increase of territory, Great Britain temporarily yielded to the her shipping to be kept 10 miles from Yet a Shanghat special says Li Hung the boundary line at the nearest point, sources it was learned that the action of the Nicaraguan government in taking possession of the property of the Maritime Canal Company will have not the slightest effect upon the constructon of the canal by the United States government. It is fully understood that when the canal is actually authorized by the United States that the Nicaraguan government will have to make terms with the United States, notwithstanding any concessions it may have granted to other parties. There is a possibility that provision will be made for concessions that have been granted, in order to avoid any possible difficulties.
