The exact number of men who struck cannot at this time be told. Reports received by the United Mineworkers' officials from the entire anthracite region were to them most satisfactory. In this territory, known as district No. 7, there are 16,000 men employed in about three-quarters of the 1,200 men and about the mines. Of this number, it is conseravtively estimated that about 50 per cent obeyed the order of President Mitchell to quit work. Five thousand of these belong to the collieries which did not work at all, and the remaining 3,000 to mines which work short-handed. The district south of this place, known as the South Side, was tied up' completely with the exception of Coleraine, Beaver Meadow and Carson's Washeries. In this territory the United Mineworkers are very strong. On the north side, the Upper Lehigh, Minesville, Eberale and Drifton No. 1 collieries, employing about 1,500, are shut down. The mines at Lattimer and Pond Creek, employing 1,200, are wroking full, but every other mine in that big territory is working with badly crippled forces.
