Chester Hutton, son of R. B. Hutton, arrived here the fore part of the week from Alaska after an absence of about a year and a half.

D. Cronmiller of Fort Klamath was a pleasant caller at this office today. He was on his way home from a trip to the Rogue river valley.

Jno. O. Bull and E. S. Terwilliger of Little Shasta, Cal., arrived here Saturday. Mr. Terwilliger owns a large number of cattle in Poe valley.

The late conference of the M. E. church, south, has returned Rev. J. W. Craig to this place for another year. He will preach at Poe valley next Sunday.

that of the present week, and if this variety will continue a few months, we will all be equipped for a few weeks of winter later on.

J. C. Leavengood and wife of Spokane passed through here the latter part of last week on their way to Yainax, where Mr. Leavengood has been employed to superintend the government school.

Judge Orr and wife accompanied by Mrs. A. D. Carrick started for Ager on Saturday. From Ager Mrs. Orr was to go to Reno, Nevada, on a visit to her parents, and Mrs. Carrick to visit relatives in California.

The numerous friends of the family regret to learn that John Hunsaker, whose injury from an accidental rifle shot necessitated the amputation of his right arm, is gradually failing and is not likely to survive many days longer.

C. H. Withrow returned Saturday from Portland, to which place two weeks ago he accompanied his uncle John B. Withrow, who has been visiting here for several months, and has had very ill health during a great part of the time.

Judge Benson arrived Friday from his speech-making tour of California, and left Saturday for Lakeview where, on Monday, he opened a regular session of court. He was accompanied by J. C. Rutenic of this place and A. S. Hammond of Medford.

We are just as willing to accept cash on subscription now as we will be six months or a year hence. This season of the year seems to hold some precedence over other seasons in the business of liquidating accounts. It seems to be the proper time to square up.

S. H. King, a leading stockman of Fort Klamath, started this morning for Del Paso, Cal., where he says he will spend the winter among the orange blossoms. It is to be hoped he will return to this country again and he certainly will if he can come by railroad.

H. F. Chapman, who lives adjoining the John H. Miller ranch near the California line, brought us on Saturday a sample of his vegetable productions, viz: a great, black Hubbard Squash, said to be the best variety known. It was attractive to look at, and excellent to eat.

La Font, the magician, will give one of his popular and highly interesting entertainments at Houston's opera house on Friday evening, October 19. La Font has had forty years' experience in legendarism and is enabled to give a first-class show. Admission: Children, under 12 years, 15 cents; adults, 25 cents.

We understand that the work of enlarging and extending the big irrigation ditch will commence early next spring. This is to be one of the greatest benefits this country has ever had, and one which of course would not have been there if not for the certainty of the O. M. railroad. Tally one, therefore, for the railroad.

Hon. Thomas H. Tongue, congressman from this district, will speak on political issues at Ashland on the 26th and at Jacksonville on the 27th inst. It is also announced that he will visit and address the people of Klamath Falls some time this month, in which event he will be accorded a large audience and a cordial welcome.

The express messenger on the train which conveyed J. H. Jardine's shipment of snakes north reports that he was kept busy all the way from Ashland to Portland sweeping juvenile snakes from the car, and suggests that either the shipments ought to be made in tighter boxes or the produce should be of uniformly large size.

Mr. Gowen reports that during his recent trip on his return to this place he saw vastly more damage done to gardens by late frosts in Jackson county than he saw in Klamath county. In escaping the evil effects of early frosts, he was surprised to see how much more fortunate this county had been than the Rogue river valley.

Rev. Father Donnelly left on Saturday evening's stage for his home at Ashland. During his stay here, he met with substantial and gratifying encouragement in his endeavors to interest people of this county in the building of a Catholic church at this place. There is every prospect that such an edifice will be built here in the near future.

The Wood River country is an ideal section for successful dairying. We doubt if there is a country anywhere better adapted to that industry. When railroad facilities are introduced enabling the easy transportation of products to market, Wood river will not only continue an excellent stock country, but will rapidly develop in extensive and profitable dairying.

Medford Mail: A. V. Barnum came over from Ft. Klamath last week and on Saturday left Medford for Dawson City, Yukon Territory. His friend, S. S. Haisted, who went into that country a few months ago, has discovered that good money can be made in conducting a bakery and restaurant there and has secured a suitable building and has sent for Mr. Barnum, who is a gentleman of experience in that line, to come and run it for him.

Mr. Halsted is employed in a mine near Dawson and is getting $5 a day over and above expenses. The Mail will supply them with Jackson county news.

Mr. and Mrs. McFarland, Dr. Ward, optician, and Messrs. Randall and McGuire of Wisconsin, and Mr. Campbell of Michigan, arrived here Tuesday to locate. Mr. Randall has bought the building of C. E. Worden and until recently occupied by the tailor shop of Mr. Stahl. The others will doubtless invest here. They are desirable citizens and should meet a hearty welcome.

The town board has lately entered into a new five-year contract with the owners of the electric light plant, among the provisions of the new arrangement being to replace the present eight arc lights on Main street with fifty incandescents lights which will be distributed in different parts of the town. The cost remains the same. We understand the change will be made in the near future.

Captain Siemens' little son Johnny has had hard luck of late. He was lately vaccinated in order to prevent the measles in case that disease should happen to come along. He had hardly recovered from that experience, when the family calf tackled him and kicked him in the head, and nearly scalped him. No sooner had Dr. Reames sowed up the wounds than the measles took a shot at him and he is now having a tough siege with that. What new accident or disease will now befall him, the future alone will tell.

E. W. Russell, L. LaFlamboy and Thomas S. Ness arrived Monday from the Lakeview land office where they made final proof for timber claims, and left Tuesday for the railroad where they will board the train for their homes in Wisconsin. These gentlemen expect to return here early next spring—perhaps before then—to share in the lively timber and real estate boom promised for this county as soon as active work begins on the proposed railroad. They are energetic, wide-awake business men and are most desirable acquisitions to a community.

Yreka Journal: An enthusiastic and largely attended meeting was held at Klamath last Thursday evening, addressed by Hon. Henry L. Benson, Circuit Judge of Oregon, who delivered an excellent speech on the questions of the day, and the great benefit already acquired under republican management of national affairs, and the certainty of its continuance by the re-election of McKinley and Roosevelt. The Klamathon club club gave a variety of choice songs during the meeting, which was a feature greatly appreciated by all present, nearly everybody in that place and vicinity, both democrats and republicans, being present.

Lakeview is said to be rising from its ashes and becoming an elegantly built town. Among its many conspicuous features is the immense, three story, brick hotel, containing 80 rooms and equal in style and construction to the best in this part of the state. There are also eight large two story brick stores just completed, with a style that shows that the builders believed there was nothing too good for Lakeview. Another fine building is the Masonic, and in addition there are many other fine residences and business houses completed or nearly so. The energy and perseverance of the citizens of Lakeview in thus rebuilding, sets a good example for the citizens of other towns to follow.

To avoid the more or less seductive and sanctimonious influences that may be exerted at Ashland to head off prospective settlers on their way to this county, it might be well for those wishing to come here, to make the trip by the way of California and Ager. If you come from the north and must necessarily touch Ashland, ride through quickly and while doing so pray to be delivered from the solicitous admonitions of local boomers, whose enthusiasm over their annual crop of peaches and mountain water might lead them to forget that Klamath county has any desirable resources. Don't be persuaded to stop until you get here and then you can determine what is best to do by personal investigation.

Whether gold in paying quantities can be found in Klamath county, is a question which has never been fully determined. People have generally taken it for granted that there is no gold here worth looking for. It is assumed, on what reliable authority no one can say, that if there is any gold here at all, it is buried to a great depth under the enormous amount of lava which escaped from the old Crater Lake volcano when it blew up. If this unproved theory is correct it may be true that a search for gold might turn out to be a fool's errand. On the other hand, several of those who have at various times in past years actually prospected for it in this county, say that they have found gold though not in sufficient quantities to pay for mining it. But if a little gold has heretofore been found, does it not explode the lava theory. And if there is a little gold, may not further investigations reveal more. It might in fact, make a prospector's fortune to go deeper and see whether there is not an abundance of wealth stored in these mountains and along the rivers besides rock and dirt. An old resident of this place who is an experienced prospector and miner tells us that not over five miles from town he found gold, not in paying quantities to be sure, but enough to hint strongly that sufficient further labor might bring to light a profitable find. Rich discoveries of gold have been made along the lower Klamath river, gold has also been found in Lake county, and immense quantities of it in Baker county. Hence it would naturally be supposed that with gold all around us, it could also be profitably mined here. At all events it would be a good thing to find out about it. It may be labor lost, but on the other hand, possibly rich discoveries will be the reward. Those who assume to pronounce final judgment on the question of finding gold in this county, are liable to be mistaken. Even the most experienced geologists often commit errors in such matters. A few years ago it was said that no coal could be found in Nebraska. The leading geologists of the state gravely shook their heads when coal was spoken of, and solemnly and confidently demonstrated from the formations and different layers of rocks, that there was not, and could not be, a pound of coal in the state. And yet, one day, in the very county where the geologists had made their examinations, a man who was digging a well, ran across a three-foot layer of excellent coal. Thus in spite of the assertions of big-wigged scientists, coal was there. And so it may be possible that those who assert the absence of gold in Klamath county may also be mistaken, and that with a more thorough investigation it will be found in abundance.

Trimmed Hats at Chastain & Maylone's. Heavy underwear at Duffy's. BONANZA NEWS. Hugh L. Clopton, a reliable merchant of this place, sold his store building to Bud Obenchain who will open a saloon in it about October 9. Mr. Clopton is building a much more commodious building immediately east of his old stand where he will continue in the mercantile business. He has a large stock of fine goods and sells cheap and desires his share of business in this line. Mr. Zevely and Mr. Bradburn who have been partners in the saloon business for some time will dissolve partnership soon. Mr. Zevely will open a saloon of his own in the near future. Louis Bauman has gone to Eugene on business. He will be gone about three weeks. Marshall Orr, who went to Montana last December, returned here the 4th inst. He owns a good ranch in Langell valley and is now there. Fred Bartley, stage driver, had a runaway one day last week between here and Bly and is now laid up with a badly sprained ankle as a result. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoagland of the Willamette valley who have been visiting friends here for a couple of weeks, returned home the first inst. Mrs. Chas. Hoagland and daughter and Wm. and Jno. Dunnogolla, went with them to lay in their winter supplies. Mr. Nichols went to Surprise valley last Tuesday for a load of apples. Mr. and Mrs. Craig organized a Degree of Honor lodge here last Friday evening. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harpold while here. Constable Walker went to Dairy last Monday to levy an attachment on some grain of Peter Peterstiner for a delinquent store bill and got what he didn't want, viz: a black eye, but the other fellow? He was arrested on the charge of resisting an officer. The trial is to come off later. There will be a "Hard Time" social at the school house on Friday evening, October 19. Prizes will be given as follows: A prize for the worst dressed lady, one for the worst dressed gent, one for the ugliest man, and a handsome one for the most popular young lady. The money will be used for the benefit of the library. Let everyone come and have a good time.
