

LOCAL NEWS.

Circuit and county courts are in session this week. The county court began its regular session yesterday. J. C. Ferguson came up from his ranch on Saturday. G. C. Lapham of Viestillas was a pleasant caller at this office Friday. It is reported that an epidemic of measles has started in at Wood River. C. H. Bergdorf of Dairy is in town today and paid this office a pleasant call. Maj. Worden leaves tomorrow for Portland to serve on the federal grand jury. Louis Gerber, the prominent stockman, was in town the first part of the week. L. A. Obenchain and Alex Bradburn of Bonanza were at Klamath Falls yesterday. Wm. Wood of Dairy was in town yesterday and was a pleasant caller at this office. Dr. Reames made a professional visit to Wood River Monday, returning Tuesday. It may have snowed in other sections the next day after election, but here it rained. Arthur Langell and H. H. Burnham of Lorella were visitors to this place yesterday. Mrs. C. B. Watson who was visiting at this place, has returned to her home at Ashland. Mrs. Jas. Gordon of Fort Klamath is suffering from an attack of congestion of the lungs. Monday was a beautiful day in warmth and sunshine. It was also a lively day, politically. Now that the epidemic of measles has about subsided we understand the mumps have started in. Mr. Loosley, father of the Loosley brothers of Fort Klamath, is reported quite ill from heart trouble. J. T. Henley arrived home the latter part of last week from his trip to Alaska, where he went last spring. A. S. Hammond, Medford lawyer who was attending court here, left for home the latter part of last week. Emer Applegate departed yesterday for Ashland to meet his wife on her return from her visit to California. N. S. Draw, one of the staunch republicans of Dairy, was in town yesterday and favored this office with a call. A big herd of cattle belonging to J. J. Mitchell passed through here early Monday morning en route to the railroad. On Tuesday Andrew Ryan brought us samples of the mammoth potatoes he is raising on his ranch eleven miles south of here. Messrs. Howard Cunningham, C. Cunningham, J. W. McCoy, E. E. Quimby and Fred Melhase arrived from Fort Klamath yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Baechler, photographers, will remain about a week longer at Klamath Falls. Bring your babies while the weather is good. Albert Walker who moved here from his ranch recently has repaired and painted in attractive style his home in the eastern part of town. The regular term of Circuit court convened yesterday, Judge Benson presiding. The prospects are that it will be a short session, with only one jury trial. Ashland Tidings: Despite the bad condition of the roads and the inclement weather of the past week, travel between Ashland and Klamath county continues heavy. The 2-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Morine of Fort Klamath died of measles on Monday. Three other children in the same family are suffering from measles. The spirit of improvement is rapidly growing along Main street. Buildings are being improved and added to, and by paint and good taste are made conspicuous and attractive. Ellis Foster, assistant telegraph operator at Sisson, was a Klamath Falls visitor this week and helped H. H. Van Valkenburg in receiving election returns here Tuesday night. The new M. E. church on Main street is now about completed, and is as handsomely a built edifice as one will see anywhere. Mr. Goslier, the builder, has done the work in elegant style. Sikes Worden, one of the pioneers of Klamath county and one of best known and highly respected citizens in the county, has been lying very ill in his room at the hotel Linkville the past week. Local amateurs are preparing a drama, entitled, "Hazel Adams," which they expect to present to the public under the auspices of the Devere of Honor, on the night of Thanksgiving.

Mitchell Bros. firm arrived Sunday and returned home Tuesday with his wife who has been visiting her sisters in Jackson county. District Attorney Reames arrived yesterday from Jacksonville to attend circuit court. Mr. Conrall, son-in-law of H. E. Ankeny, has bought 400 acres of land of Judge Smith at Altamont. The weather here was ideal on election day and couldn't have been more favorable for those who came long distances to vote. There was a foot ball game here Tuesday between the Pine Grove boys and the local players, resulting in a score of 2 to 2. The boys plit to have another game at this place on Thanksgiving day. Spencer Children of Medford jumped from a moving freight train at Gold Hill Saturday night and was instantly killed. He was 22 years of age. A companion managed to alight from the train without serious injury. A axle on one of the cars of an S. P. freight train broke at Keswick Sunday morning, derailing and telescoping four box cars and killing two men who were among a number of tourists riding in one of the wrecked box cars. A reliable informant tells us that arrangements have been made whereby 200 Klamath Indian will secure employment in the construction of the Oregon Midland railroad. The Indians are much interested in the prospects for work on the line and are anxious to begin. Judge E. D. Sperry, the genial Lakeview lawyer, called at these headquarters on Friday. He was here to represent the defense in the irrigation suit. Judge Sperry is a man of high standing in his profession and a gentleman whom it is always a pleasure to meet. Uncle Billy Robinson who was visiting old friends here, left yesterday for his home at Jacksonville. He used to live in Sprague river valley where he made a great success in stockraising. He says he will make regular and frequent trips here as soon as the R. R. begins construction. J. L. McNaughton, proprietor of the Ager-Klamath Fallsstage line, arrived here from a trip to Lakeview last Saturday. He reports that Lakeview is re-building rapidly, though much of the work is delayed on account of the slowness in securing material. He says ten brick buildings have already been built. Lakeview Examiner: Albert Mugler of Sison arrived in Lakeview last Tuesday, and is considering the proposition of starting a brewery. Mr. Mugler is the son of Peter Mugler, the well known brewer, and is himself an experienced brewer. He thinks very favorably of the proposition and the future of the town. The following are attending circuit court as jurors this week: Gus Melhase, H. A. Willis, S. S. Mitchell, John Hoegestine, R. H. McMillan, I. A. Duffy, T. F. Miner, H. H. Burnham, E. E. Quimby, D. P. Shook, O. T. Brown, P. Breitenstein, H. Bloomingtoncamp, R. A. Alford, John Shepard, W. D. Ball, L. M. Rhodes, J. W. Manning, A. T. Langell, N. Pratt, J. D. Dieckman, C. C. Low, Lee Butler, F. L. Armstrong, O. A. Stearns, W. A. Wood, Geo. T. Baldwin, J. W. McCoy, Owen McAndrew, Jacob Rueck T. J. Patterson. Ashland Tidings: Rev. Edward Donnelly returned from Klamath Falls Tuesday, and while there secured the deed by gift from Major C. E. Worden, of two very desirable lots, numbered 1 and 10 in block 5, of Euwana Addition to the city for Catholic church purposes. He also obtained a $100 subscription towards erecting a church building on them, making $400 that has already been subscribed for that purpose. A number of other subscriptions are promised and Father Donnelly says work will undoubtedly commence on the structure during the early coming spring. Last Friday's Yreka Journal, speaking of the O. M. R. says: The Oregon Midland railroad seems to be at a stand still. Evidently much depends on the election, if it is a railroad for lumber. If the country is assured four more years of protected lumber, the road will go; if Bryan is elected, it means free lumber again, and free lumber means that our lumber will be cut in British Columbia, mostly by Chinamen, as was the case during Cleveland's administration, conveyed to market by water, resulting then, as would be the case now, in closing every interior mill in the market of the world. According to Marshal Jardine's statements, the snake industry is at a standstill, with probabilities that no more will be exported to the Minnesota dealers. They write that they want more snakes, but must have mixed varieties, laying special stress on rattlesnakes, for which they seem to take a particular liking. The fact that only blooded stock grows along the Klamath river and that rattlers cannot be had, places a quietus on any further business with the Minnesota firm. But inquiries about Klamath snakes have been made from other sources and it is likely the industry of supplying outside markets with Klamath river snakes will be revived in due time. Now that the election is over and favorably settled, there is no apparent reason why construction of the projected railroad into this county should not begin at an early date. Let us forget partisan differences and subordinate politics to the more important matter of promoting the growth of Klamath county. We want a railroad as soon as it can possibly be built, we want more extensive irrigation, which is now assured, and we want a dozen other enterprises that will further development of the country's resources. Let us co-operate in giving encouragement to new settlers and to the introduction of new capital and new industries. Let us make the coming year one of unprecedented activity and growth for Klamath Falls and Klamath county. Ashland Tidings: A distressing and fatal accident took place near Klamath Hot Springs, Saturday afternoon, in which Robert Spannos lost his life. He had been riding on his saddle horse and in some manner the animal fell, catching the young man's foot over the horn of the saddle, and the animal becoming frightened ran down the road for a distance of over 300 yards, dragging the body, head downwards, before the maddened horse could be stopped. When taken from the saddle the back of the young man's head was found mashed to a jelly, and he lived but a few minutes after. Young Spannos was but 18 years of age and very popular with everyone. His untimely death is a great shock to the neighborhood in which he resided. An exchange says negotiations for transfer of the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon to the Northern Pacific Railway Company have been on for some time. They were interrupted by the death of President Huntington of the Southern Pacific, and affairs are now in such condition that no immediate results are looked for. It is said, by some that the deal has practically been abandoned as impossible of consummation under the present circumstances. There is no reason to believe, however, that the transaction will not eventually be carried through. The Northern Pacific's desire to secure the Oregon lines of the Southern Pacific is believed to be based on the fact that it has great faith in the Pacific Northwest, and wishes to get as much of the business as possible. We are informed that H. E. Ankeny, capitalist of Eugene, who brought a half interest in the irrigation ditch at this point a month ago, will be here the latter part of this week to confer with J. T. Henley, the other owner of the ditch, in regard to enlarging and improving the property. We are told that the capacity of the ditch will at least be doubled for service next year and will be enlarged thereafter in accordance with the demand for water. As we understand it, it is Mr. Ankeny's idea to keep the ditch of sufficient size to meet all requirements, and it is unnecessary to say that he has abundant capital with which to carry out his intentions. Among other enterprises in which he is interested, he is proprietor of the Sterlingville mine, one of the most profitable mines in Oregon. As an important factor in the development of this county, the project to enlarge the ditch and supply the growing demand for water for irrigating purposes, ranks with the forthcoming railroad. The assurance of railroad facilities and ample means of irrigation is a guarantee of many other enterprises and of quick growth along all lines. Mackintoshes at Duffy's. VICTORY! Landslide For McKinley. BRYANISM ENDED. Increased Majority of Electoral College for Republicans. KLAMATH COUNTY IN LINE It Gives the Republican Candidates a Plurality of Over 100.

It is positively known that President McKinley has been re-elected by a greatly increased majority in the electoral college, though at this writing some doubt exists as to the result in a few states and as to the exact size of pluralities. Yesterday morning the New York Herald made the following statement: For McKinley—California, 9; Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Illinois, 24; Indiana, 15; Iowa, 13; Kentucky, 13; Kansas, 19; Maine, 6; Maryland, 8; New Hampshire, 4; New Jersey, 10; Massachusetts, 15; Michigan, 14; Minnesota, 9; Neb., 8; N. Y., 36; N. D., 3; Ohio, 23; Oregon, 4; Pennsylvania, 32; Rhode Island, 4; South Dakota, 4; Vermont, 4; Washington, 4; West Virginia, 6; Wisconsin, 12; Wyoming, 3. Total, 302. For Bryan—Alabama, 11; Arkansas, 8; Colorado, 4; Florida, 4; Georgia, 13; Idaho, 3; Louisiana, 8; Mississippi, 9; Missouri, 17; Montana, 3; Nevada, 3; North Carolina, 11; South Carolina, 9; Tennessee, 12; Texas, 15; Utah, 3; Virginia, 12. Total, 145. The same bulletin announces that McKinley will carry California by 30,000 majority. The latest bulletin last night says: Present indications are that McKinley carries Indiana by 25,000 to 30,000. Both parties claim Nebraska with McKinley slightly in the lead. It is reported that Jackson county has given McKinley 200 majority. Four years ago that county gave a majority for Bryan. Latest reports state that an unusually light vote was cast in Oregon, but that the majority for McKinley will roll up to about 11,000. The telegraph office, where arrangements had been made to receive bulletins, was swarmed Tuesday night by people anxious to hear election news. From the first, the dispatches bore evidence of McKinley's election and it was not many hours before all were satisfied that he had been overwhelmingly triumphant. Here is a summary of one of the latest dispatches received Tuesday night: In Indianapolis 30 precincts give McKinley 3,587 and Bryan 2,948. Kansas shows big republican gain. Democratic state chairman of Illinois concedes that state to McKinley by about 35,000 majority. Denver Post Bulletin says McKinley has carried Arapahoe county by 2,000 majority, with indications that he has carried the state by a substantial majority. Wisconsin claimed for McKinley by 40,000, but probably a democratic governor is elected. Indications are that Bryan has carried Montana by 20,000. Illinois gives fully 80,000 majority for McKinley. There will be little change in Ohio from the plurality given McKinley in 1896. New York World states that returns indicate that Nebraska has gone for McKinley. McKinley carries Iowa by 100,000 plurality. McKinley's majority in New Jersey reaches 75,000. In New York at midnight indications are that McKinley has carried that state by 175,000 majority. Late Tuesday night democrats at Lincoln, Nebraska, conceded McKinley's election. Wyoming goes republican by 2,000 majority. Reports from Seattle announces a landslide for McKinley in Washington. Later reports state that Bryan has 30,000 majority in Colorado. From Portland it is reported that 127 precincts of 772 in Oregon, including Portland, gives McKinley 13,278 and Bryan 5,155, being one-fourth of the total vote of the state. KLAMATH COUNTY'S VOTE. McKinley received a majority of 118 in Klamath county, with the precinct of Bly to hear from. Bly will change the result very little either way. We are enabled to publish the total vote received by each party in all precincts but four, from three of which we have obtained only majorities: Dairy—McKinley, 41; Bryan, 11. Linkville—McKinley, 141; Bryan, 94. Keno—McKinley, 41; Bryan, 18. Langell Valley—McKinley, 25; Bryan, 23. Poe Valley—McKinley, 9; Bryan, 27. Klamath Lake—McKinley, 3; Bryan, 7. Snow—McKinley, 25; Bryan 14. McKinley's majority in Bonanza is 9 and in Wood river 9. Bryan has a majority of 1 in Merrill. Thus McKinley carries Klamath county by over 100. This is a most gratifying change from the result in 1896, when Bryan received a majority in the county of 117. Mens $19 Wool Suits at Duffy's. DEATH OF J. E. YOUNG. J. E. Young, an exceptionally bright young lawyer, who came here from Astoria some weeks ago in the hope that the change of climate would benefit his health, died of consumption at the hotel Linkville Friday afternoon at 5:35 o'clock. Mr. Young's parents at Astoria had been apprised by telegram of his serious condition and his sister, Miss Clara Young, arrived here a few hours after his death. He was taken with a hemorrhage on the Saturday evening previous, which at once weakened his already impaired vitality. This was the first hemorrhage he had ever had, but it was followed by six more before his death. Only one of his lungs was affected and it is believed good health could have been restored had his strength been sufficient to have expelled all of that one. Saturday morning Walter Marple left for Ager with the remains where they were to be shipped to Astoria for burial, and Saturday noon Miss Clara Young followed in a private conveyance driven by R. W. Marple. The unexpected news of her brother's death on her arrival here was a great shock to Miss Young, and though he was attended by helpful and sympathetic friends, the fact that he died among comparative strangers, with no relatives at his bedside, surrounds the case with especial sadness. Mr. Young was about 25 years of age and was far advanced in education and experience considering his youth. He was a graduate of the state university and also of a law school and had already attained much success in his chosen profession. He was a member of the last Oregon legislature, representing Clatsop county and taking a prominent and influential part in the deliberations of that body. The dread disease, consumption, had made alarming headway in undermining Mr. Young's health before he came to Klamath Falls, he having tried the climates of Colorado, New Mexico and other parts without benefit. Neither did he nor those most closely associated with him realize the extent of his disease. It was, indeed, an exceptionally sad death and the untimely ending of a most promising life. TIMBER LAND, ACT JUNE 3, 1878, NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION: UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE, Lakeview, Oregon, Sept. 10, 1900. Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the states of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Territory," as extended to all the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1892, J. C. Weiss, of Fort Klamath, County of Klamath, State of Oregon, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 277, for the purchase of the NW 1/4 of Section No. 27, in Township No. 32 S., Range No. 74 E. and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before the Register and Receiver of this office at Lakeview, Or., on Saturday, the 24th day of November, 1900. He names as witnesses: W. T. Colburn, of Ashland, Oregon; Chas. Johnson, of Klamath, California; F. H. Briggs, of Grants Pass, Oregon; Chas. Kappler, of Klamath, California. Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 24th day of November, 1900. E. M. BRATTAIN, Register.
