

KLAMATH REPUBLICAN

VOL. 5.

KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON, THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1901.

NO. 40.

Mrs. Wm. Welsh of Dairy has been very ill.

J. C. Ferguson of Lost river was in town this week.

Hugh Hayworth of Picard has been very sick as the result of measles.

I. J. Straw, brother of Dr. Straw, made a business trip to this place on Tuesday.

H. E. Momyer of Klamath Agency arrived today on his return from his eastern trip.

The county court adjourned on Tuesday to meet on February 2nd in special session.

It is reported that the taxes in town will be five mills less on the dollar this year than they were last year.

We are informed that the Grand Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star will be here to attend lodge next Tuesday evening.

The Medford Mail proposes to re-enumerate Medford, being dissatisfied with the result obtained in the late federal census.

H. P. Calarneau returned from Bonanza a week ago. He had been putting the finishing touches on Alex. Zereley's saloon at that place.

Miss Anna C. Egan, one of the teachers at Klamath Agency, arrived here Saturday on her return from a visit to Washington, D. C.

The county court granted two liquor licenses last week, viz: to Jack Harbin at Fort Klamath and Hutchison & Armstrong at Merrill.

A bill is before congress, which, if it passes, will appropriate $11,000 to provide lighting, sewer and water systems at Klamath Indian reservation.

Married, by Rev. C. S. Stockwell on January 14, 1901, at the residence of Moses Bartow near Klamath Falls, Mr. Eldrick Bartow to Miss Lillie Haskins, both of Klamath county, Ore.

A. D. Harpold, one of the merchants of Bonanza, has put in a gas plant to light his store and several other buildings in town. The hotel and other business houses will also soon be lighted in the same way.

County Clerk Driscoll returned on Monday, after a severe trip across the mountains in company of other returning pilgrims. From Ashland he came part of the way on snow shoes, part of the way waded, and during the balance of the journey was fortunate enough to ride.

Mr. Yaden, mail contractor, commends Hon. R. A. Emmitt in the highest terms for his liberal co-operation in overcoming the snow blockade on the Ashland-Klamath Falls line. He thoroughly appreciates Mr. Emmitt's efforts and rightly believes him to be one of the most public-spirited men in the state.

It is admitted by nine-tenths of thinking men, whether they are residents of Klamath county or outside of it, that the only thing the county needs to guarantee the greatest future of any county in the state is a railroad. With one, the county will be the greatest lumbering and manufacturing center in the Pacific states.

At the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday, at 11 a. m., the sermon will be on "The House of God, the Gate of Heaven." At 7:30 p. m., evangelistic meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, program to consist of songs, recitations and an address on "The Personal Responsibility of the One Who Drinks." Come!

A large number of Boers are reported to be preparing to emigrate to this country from South Africa during the coming summer. Should such a colony come, Eastern Oregon ought to get them. Eastern Oregon has plenty of room for them and will be glad to welcome them. As a general thing the Boers will make a very desirable class of citizens.

Ashland Tidings: There is little doubt that the storm which has had much of Northern California and portions of Southern Oregon in its grip since the 1st of January is the most severe that has been experienced since white men have inhabited the country. Old settlers tell of a winter in the early 50s in the late century that was about as severe, but think the depth of snow in this year of 1901 exceeds that which fell then.

The I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodges held a joint installation of officers in their hall Thursday evening, January 10. After such ceremonies the members repaired to the opera house where they had an enjoyable supper and dance. I. O. O. F. officers are: W. W. Hazen, N. G.; J. F. Goeller, V. G.; Wm. Terrill, Sec.; J. W. Siemens, Treas.; W. E. Clark, Wm.; Geo. L. Humphrey, Con.; Wallace Baldwin, Chap.; J. V. Houston, R. S. N. G.; E. E. Straw, L. S. N. G.; Geo. W. Bradley, R. S. S.; C. E. Humphrey, L. S. S.; S. T. Summers, L. G.; Ross Boyd, O. G.

The snow blockade, which commenced about the first of the month, is now being rapidly surmounted, and in a few days, unless a new batch of snow comes, we will be once more in full touch with the world across the mountains. The long delay in getting papers puts us away behind in the matter of news. Papers published on the first days of January are with few exceptions the bulk of what we now get. It is like reading ancient history, but it is necessary and useful to keep track of how things have been getting on in the interval. The mail which started out of Ashland on January 2 for Klamath Falls is now, (Tuesday, Jan. 15,) still somewhere on the mountains, but may get here before this paper is issued. Whether we get our batch of paper in time or not, the Lord knows.

Medford Mail: Jackson county has a centenarian to her credit. Other sections of the state boast of having them, too, but none are quite so remarkable as Jasper Fource, of Talent, whose life record spans the hundred years intervening between the dawn and the death of the nineteenth century. Mr. Fource resides with Mr. Beeson, of Talent, and notwithstanding his advanced years, he is hale, stout and hearty and earns his living by manual labor. This latter fact is the remarkable feature. To be able to perform manual labor at so advanced an age seems quite out of the order of things. However, he performs his work quite as well as many much younger men. He followed the sea for thirty-two years, and took part in the Mexican war. In one of his hands he carries incised in the skin a small bullet or shot which he received in an engagement at Buena Vista. He has chewed tobacco since he was six years old, but has seldom smoked. He never drank liquor of any kind.

J. F. Goeller returned from his San Francisco trip on Monday. He had a pleasant time at that city, and when he started for home did not probably realize the hard wading through snow drifts before he got here. He came from San Francisco to Ashland and there found that the Ashland route across the mountains was blocked. After remaining at Ashland several days, he started on Thursday of last week on foot and snow shoes for this place in company with County Clerk Driscoll and Fred Stahlman. The snow they came over or through was from 5 to 7 feet deep on the level, and as the snow shoes did not work good, they took them off and waded through the best they could. The first night they stopped at Howard's place, 15 miles out. The next night, (Friday night,) they got as far as Bailey's place on Jenny creek. Saturday night they had come 9 miles to Parker's station, making the trip in 5 hours, all the way up hill. On Sunday night the tired travelers trudged their weary way into the new town of Spencer creek. There, the same night, they took the stage and on Monday morning were made happy by finding themselves in Klamath Falls. Mr. Goeller while at San Francisco purchased a new planer and a large quantity of other machinery for his planing mill and sash and door factory at Klamath Falls.

TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Our weekly installments of auxiliary sheets from Portland do not yet arrive, and hence we again have to issue a small paper. Two of such packages are somewhere between Portland and this place and temporarily stalled in the mountains. But we hope and believe that this chronic constipation of things will end before next week.

Persons who suffer from indigestion can not expect to live long because they cannot eat the food required to nourish the body and the products of the undigested foods they eat poison the blood. It is important to cure indigestion as soon as possible, and the best method of doing this is to use the preparation known as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat and restores all the digestive organs to perfect health. J. L. Padgett & Sons.
