

TO THE FARMERS Of Klamath County.

It is with pleasure that we inform you of our having accepted the agency for Klamath Falls and vicinity for the celebrated BAIN WAGON, BUCKEYE MOWER, HOLLINGSWORTH TIGER RAKE, TIGER DISC HARROW, PEERLESS PLOW and other goods of this class, handled and manufactured by the reliable and well known California firm of BAKER & HAMILTON.

We will carry in stock a full line of the above implements and wagons, as well as "extras," during the coming season, and if is your intention to purchase, we will appreciate your allowing us to figure with you.

We also have in stock, to be sold at close prices, ALFALFA seed, RED TOP seed, TIMOTHY seed, GARDEN seeds of all kinds, and ONION SETS, and we hope to merit a portion of your patronage.

Very Respectfully,

REAMES & JENNINGS

The Brick Store, Klamath Falls.

KLAMATH REPUBLICAN.

THURSDAY, MARCH 14, 1901.

LOCAL NEWS.

O. Short of Spring Lake was in town yesterday.

A son was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Claud Clouton.

Mrs. Wm. Nickerson departed for Ashland on Tuesday's stage.

The Shepherd Brothers of Pine Grove were in town yesterday.

H. S. Olsen, a prosperous rancher of Dairy, was in town Tuesday.

Geo. Horn of Klamath Agency visited Klamath Falls Wednesday.

Mr. Alexander, stock buyer, returned from San Francisco this week.

Captain Dennis of Pelican Bay came down to Klamath Falls yesterday.

Hon. R. A. Emmitt of Keno was at the Falls Friday and favored us with a call.

A. A. Fitch of Hilderbrand, near Dairy, made a trip to this place Wednesday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Anderson on Sunday, a son, weighing 9 1/2 pounds.

L. M. Rhodes and wife who live three miles down the river, were in town yesterday.

L. A. Feather of San Francisco arrived here Sunday to look over the country and perhaps locate.

J. O. Hamaker, the U. S. Commissioner at Bonanza, made a business visit to Klamath Falls Monday.

A large number of members enjoyed the anniversary banquet given by the Eastern Star Tuesday evening.

We understand that James Tobin sold, this week, his ranch about three miles down the river from Klamath Falls, to Mr. Lewis for about $5,000.

Mrs. Smith of Keno has been quite ill and under medical treatment for some time past. On account of old age, there is little hope of her recovery.

Marion Hanks has bought of L. D. Burk of Bonanza the undivided one-half of 140 acres at the foot of Big Klamath lake, and near Klamath Falls.

On account of the sickness of a number of persons who were expected to take part in the exercises, the "Patriotic Social" is indefinitely postponed.

President Hays of the Southern Pacific Railway, and other officials of that road, came up from San Francisco to Klamath on Thursday of last week.

Judge Smith and wife of Altamont arrived here Tuesday evening on their return from an enjoyable trip to Mexico, where they went a few months ago.

Wm. Erickson of Michigan arrived here Sunday, and on Monday started for Royston, between Bonanza and Bly, to see some timber land which he bought recently.

A. D. Carrick arrived Tuesday from Ager accompanied by his wife who has spent the winter in California. Most of the time was spent with relatives in Placerville.

C. J. Barthe of Portland, who has been here and looking over the country for several days, left for home Tuesday evening. He will probably return here in a few weeks.

We are requested to announce that work on the Klamath Falls Irrigation ditch will commence about March 18 and all men wanting employment should apply to J. T. Henley.

G. R. Carlock who recently concluded a six months' school in the Wagner creek district, returned last week to his home in Bly where he commenced a term of school Monday.

Mr. Stephen Herlihy has purchased the property known as the "Naylor" ranch comprising 320 acres. The sale was effected by J. W. Hamaker as agent for the owners. Exact consideration is not made public, but we learn that it is above $3,000.

We learn from Mr. Boggs that a dwelling house will be commenced in a few days on the tract of land recently bought of R. S. Moore by H. E. Ankeny. The house will be 16 by 30 feet and two stories, with a one story wing attached 12 by 24 feet. A much larger residence, costing about $2,000, will be erected on the same ranch next fall, together with two large barns.

Parties from the East have this week purchased from J. L. Padgett of Keno one acre of land at that place for residence purposes, and are also negotiating for 40 acres of land of Mr. Kerns at the head of the Keno rapids for a saw mill site. LATER: Since writing the above we learn that the sale of the Keno mill site was completed on Tuesday.

At the session of the county board last week, a contract was entered into with Jos. S. Seeds to care for the county's poor. He is to receive $15 per month apiece for charges, with $25 apiece for any who may be sick.

Jas. Nichols, C. C. Low and Chas. Horton were appointed to assist Surveyor Simpson in viewing two roads petitioned for in Alkali valley. A contract was made with Wm. Flack to repair the Whitney bridge over Lost river for $230.

S. H. King, who was in the stock business near Fort Klamath until last fall and then went to Sacramento, Cal., arrived here on Friday, and proposes to remain in Klamath county. He likes this country far better than California. Here the land, water, climate and health are a long way ahead of where he was. He is an enterprising business man and we are glad that he has come to the conclusion to make his home henceforth in Klamath county.

Oregon Statesman: The new law relative to the recording of chattel mortgages and contracts has placed a great deal of additional work upon the county recorder. Instead of filing these instruments as was done under the old law, they must now be recorded. This will require at least the assistance of one additional clerk in the recorder's office, as the mortgages and contracts that have been heretofore filed will make more work than one person can do. The fees of the office will be greatly increased, as the persons filing mortgages will be required to pay for recording, just as deeds were under the old law. The law went into effect on February 27th and all papers of this description filed on or after that date must be recorded.

CITY ELECTION.

The election of city officers came off on Monday. There was not much excitement and no special questions involved, either political or otherwise. Several tickets were in the field, and the candidates, so far as we could learn, were all good men for the positions for which they were named. The number of votes cast were 109, and the following citizens were elected:

Councilmen, C. C. Maltby, W. W. Hazen, George Humphrey, Alva Beals and Otto Heidrick.

Recorder, H. W. Keese.

Treasurer, J. W. Siemens.

LETTERS OF INQUIRY.

We are and have been for a long time past receiving many letters of inquiry in relation to this county, and especially as to the timber and the prospects for railroad communication. In reply to such letters, we can, as to timber, safely reiterate all that we have heretofore said, viz: that Klamath county has the largest and most valuable tracts of pine timber in the state, and timber men will do well to come and see it for themselves. As to railroads, we have the utmost confidence that one and perhaps two railroads will be commenced this year and probably this spring. This confidence is based not only on common sense but on indisputable information. We will also mention in addition that the industries and productions of this county, together with its great lakes and rivers, giving 80 miles of navigable water, will pay a railroad to come here, even without the timber business, which, by the way, will alone make such a road a most profitable enterprise. Come and see the country and its rich land and take advantage of the many opportunities that are offered for energetic and enterprising men.

UNLAWFUL TO SHOOT WILD GEESSE.

Oregonian.

Numerous inquiries are being made as to whether the new game law allows wild geese and swan to be shot at this season. As the Spring geese will soon be arriving from the south and many sportsmen are desirous of having a crack at them, the matter has been referred to Game Warden Quimby, who says that the new law closes the season for shooting geese and swan at the same time the season closes for ducks. There will, therefore, be no shooting of geese or swan this spring. The time allowed for having wild ducks in cold storage has also expired. So everybody might as well erase game from his menu. The law allows the shooting of snipe for a time. Those delicious little birds will soon be arriving from the south on their way to their breeding grounds, but there are not many who have an opportunity to shoot them, and their zig-zag flight makes it impossible for any but a good shot to bag many of them. Sportsmen can try their luck on the snipe, and be thankful for small favors.

PRESBYTERIAN ANNOUNCEMENT.

Fine job work at this office.

OUR LEGISLATORS.

The newspapers of this state almost unanimously speak in high terms of commendation of the course in the Oregon legislature of Senator Williamson and Representatives Emmitt and McGreer. Among such papers is The Dallas Chronicle, whose article on Hon. R. A. Emmitt will be found in this column. In connection with Mr. Emmitt may be appropriately mentioned Senator Williamson and Representative McGreer of Wasco county. These gentlemen stood with Mr. Emmitt in securing what Klamath and Lake counties needed in regard to fish and game laws; they also joined hands in their successful efforts to defeat the act permitting speculators to gobble up the Klamath Indian reservation as soon as thrown open for settlement, and neither of them ever cast a ballot in favor of the Corbett corruption. In all respects and at all times, Senator Williamson and Representatives Emmitt and McGreer upheld the best interests of the counties they represented and their able and generally successful efforts will be favorably remembered and repaid by the thanks and confidence of their constituents. As to Senator Williamson, he was a power in the Senate, and his name has quite frequently been mentioned as a probable candidate for governor at the next election.

HONORABLE MENTION OF REPRESENTATIVE EMMITT.

The Dallas Chronicle.

The wretched apportionment that gives us a representative district extending from the Columbia river to California is responsible for the fact that we had some representatives in the recent legislature that not one in five hundred of us has ever seen. Some of them, to be sure, we don't care, so long as we have health and eyesight, if we never see. But there is at least one marked and honorable exception, namely, Hon. R. A. Emmitt, of Keno, Klamath county. We speak of him now because we would have him know that his labor as joint representative of Wasco county is highly appreciated and will not be forgotten should it ever happen that we have an opportunity to express our appreciation by our ballots. Mr. Emmitt stood shoulder to shoulder with Senator Williamson and Representative McGreer in all that they asked and did for the people of this district, and especially in never casting a ballot for the man who debauched the legislature of 1897. For all this and much more Mr. Emmitt has the unfeigned thanks of The Chronicle and an overwhelming majority of the Republicans of Wasco county.

MARRIED.

At Klamath Falls, on Thursday evening, March 7, 1901, by Rev. Stockwell, Mr. Frank Grohs to Miss Mazo Davis. Both are prominent and much esteemed residents of Langell Valley, and both will receive the most cordial wishes for their future.

R. W. Marple arrived home Monday from the railroad, being accompanied by Mrs. R. E. Cantrill and child of Altamont, who were returning from a visit to Jacksonville.

Glendinning, the photographer and jeweler, who has been stopping at Bonanza this winter, is now wish us, and desires a share of your patronage. Call at first door east of east end grocery, Klamath Falls.

The stomach controls the situation. Those who are hearty and strong are those who can eat and digest plenty of food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. If you suffer from indigestion, heartburn, belching or any other stomach trouble, this preparation can't help but do you good. The most sensitive stomachs can take it. J. L. Padgett & Sons, Keno.

PLAYING ON SYMPATHY.

The Mean Trick of a Mercenary Youth Who Was Looking for the Coin.

He wore a heavy blue reefer and carried a coarse burlap bag that was much the worse for wear. After depositing the bag under the feet of those on the platform he calmly sucked the yellow end of an unlighted cigarette butt. Something in the bag moved and the conductor was curious, says the Chicago Daily News.

"Rabbits?"

"Naw! A cat."

"Going to take it off somewhere and lose it?"

"Yes, the river is a good dump as any. Down will go the bag and the old toment will make a hole in the soft mud."

The blond and brunette sitting near the door had heard it all. Big tear drops came rolling down their cheeks.

"What y-you going to do-down the poor e-eat for?" stammered the blond, and then she just broke down and sobbed loud enough for all to hear.

"Well, it's this way, miss," said the youth in the reefer. "Mrs. Finnegan comes down to our flat and says: 'Jimmy, do you want to make a quarter?'" "Sure!" says I. "Do you want another ton of coal basketed up to your flat?" "Naw, Jimmy," says she, "I want you to drown a cat." "What?" says I, dropping me coffee and looking surprised.

"Yes," says she, "I want you to take our old Tommy down to the river. He's got in the habit of jumping on the table and drinking the baby's milk and the old man won't stand it." Well, miss, I never took no sport in drowning cats, but quarters are scarce, and that's how it happens."

The brunette said something in the blond's ear. There was a hasty unclasping of pocketbooks and two green notes reached the youth in the reefer.

"Now give us the poor cat," said the blond. "We will give him a good home."

"Sure!"

The youth in the reefer shifted the bag in and then hopped off at the next corner.

"Oh!" cried the brunette, as she opened the bag and peeped in cautiously.

"What kind of a cat is it?" asked the blond.

In response the brunette shook the bag and the contents hopped across the car. It was a crippled chicken.

"Oh, that young villain has deceived us. That is the cat we paid to save. Come, get off!"

"One moment!" said the conductor; "you will have to take the chicken and bag with you."

The last laughing passengers saw of the embarrassed girls they were heading for a vacant lot.

A NATURAL-BORN COURTIER.

Now a Youthful Son of Ex-Congressman Trenholm Astonishes the Diplomats.

Few men stand higher in the financial world of New York than William L. Trenholm, who was comptroller of the currency under President Cleveland. He is from the south and has always been a man of distinguished social qualities. He belongs to one of the best families of Charleston, S. C., and his home is the meeting place for the brilliant southerners who come north, says the Chicago Chronicle.

It is said of him that no one man in New York receives more letters from the entire south asking for positions than Mr. Trenholm, and that no southerner ever appealed to him in vain; that a dinner or a luncheon at the Trenholm house is in itself an opening for their new life.

A few of the eminent men of New York were talking of this the other day and chaffing Mr. Trenholm—who was present—about it. A Washington statesman said Trenholm impressed people in the same way when he was comptroller of the democratic administration. To illustrate the family aplomb he told the following story:

One New Year's day in Washington the youngest son of the house, a precocious boy, distinguished himself by gathering the visiting cards from his mother's table, ordering a hansom and making a round of visits at the most notable houses, sending in the first card that he picked from the bunch. When the butler at the English embassy announced the Chinese minister, Master Trenholm walked in with perfect aplomb and made a courtly South Carolina bow to his dumfounded hostess.

As the youngster was so serious and his manner so perfect no one thought to laugh. He was handed tea, and, bowing low to the ambassador from Great Britain, he backed out of the door and drove to the house of the secretary of state. There he happened to send in a card of the secretary of war, and so on until he had made the rounds, calling on the different women he knew.

GLAZED CARROTS.

Boil 12 small carrots in salted water until tender; drain, cut in slices crosswise and saute slightly in butter. Add one tablespoonful each of butter and sugar, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper, and a hint of nutmeg to half cupful of boiling water, and stir until dissolved; lay carrots in shallow baking pan, pour liquor over and bake in hot oven until nicely browned. —Ladies' World, New York.

The Simple Things of Life.

The simplest things are the things that really appeal to us most, and that is only because when we are simple we are natural. An enjoyment that is natural is always the deepest and truest. The moment the artificial, the conventional, comes into our lives, that moment the sweetest realizations go out.—Edward Bok, in Ladies' Home Journal.
