J. J. Rahn of Los Angeles who was here several days last week, went over to Ashland Friday.

Rev. J. W. Craig will preach at Dairy next Sunday, the 28th, at 2 p. m. and at Bonanza at 8 p. m.

Julius Low, J. B. Baldwin and W. H. Zimmerman, commercial travelers from Portland, arrived here Monday.

C. P. Wagoner of Portland arrived here Friday, and will take charge of the saw mill of R. S. Moore during the season.

The widening of the Klamath Falls irrigation ditch is progressing favorably and will be completed in a few more weeks.

G. T. Baldwin arrived Friday from San Francisco, where he spent several weeks purchasing goods for his store at this place.

Mr. Cumer of the Hotel Oregon of Ashland was here this week to look after the stock ranch which he recently bought of Captain Applegate.

Mr. Henry Janssen bought this week of Major Warden the small residence and land attached, back of Attorney Murdoch's office on Main street.

E. G. Wilson started yesterday morning for Ager to meet Mrs. Wilson's mother, two sisters and two children who are coming to Klamath Falls to reside.

Mrs. J. C. Durkee of Ashland arrived Monday to visit the family of her son, H. F. Durkee of Altamont. She may conclude to remain all spring and summer.

L. S. Bradley, the father of the harness maker of this place, arrived from the Indian territory, yesterday, and will remain and engage in business here permanently.

We do not hear anything of late about the commencement of the Catholic church which was reported to be built this spring. It is to be hoped it will not be forgotten.

It is reported that Prof. R. A. Hopkins, the efficient teacher at Bonanza, has recently been offered by the Ashland school board the principalship of the North school at that place.

Mr. Stout of Pasadena, Cal., arrived here last week, and is looking over the country and perhaps will remain. If he should conclude to do so, a number of his friends in California will also come.

Geo. Norris of Klamath, Cal., Douglas Norris of Poqueama, Ore., and John Henning and Wm. Henning of Hornbrook were here on Tuesday on their way home from the Lakeview land office.

The healthy rush of people to this town and county still continues to increase. Some for timber land, others for stock ranches, and occasionally one to locate in town. We wish them good luck, and believe that all will attain it.

Judge Willits has commenced building a large warehouse adjoining his store on Main street. It will have a front on Main street of 20 or 25 feet, extending back the length of the store, and will be finished in style and good taste.

On Saturday M. R. Frain had two applicants to purchase his house and lots north of Main street. On the same day Mr. Siemens had an applicant to purchase the old Joseph Koesler place back of the Wilson hotel. Neither of the places was for sale.

We notice that immediately after the return of G. T. Baldwin from San Francisco last week, he made arrangements to double the size of the new building he has been preparing to erect adjoining his store, and workmen are now at work making the necessary excavations.

The contracts for carrying the mails in Oregon and Washington will be awarded to local bidders for the four years from and after July 1, 1902. The Lakeview Times says that when proposals are received next fall, one of the stipulations to be enforced most stringently is that every bidder live tributary to the route on which he bids. In this way Eastern bidders will be restricted from entering the competition, and Oregon men will carry the mails in Oregon, as far as possible, while Washington men will carry the mails in their state.

Ashland Tidings: Frank Ankeny, son of Hon. H. E. Ankeny, and Miss Mae Jones, of Los Angeles, Cal., were married at the bride's home, Wednesday, the 17th inst. The young couple will probably reside in Klamath county, where the groom's father has extensive irrigation and stock interests.

R. D. Mapleton, representing the Old Reliable Albany Nursery, wishes us to announce that he will be here next August and September to make a thorough canvass for orders for fall delivery. The Albany Nursery has an excellent reputation and those wanting trees or plants will do well to give Mr. Mapleton their orders.

Judge Benson and Counselor Rutenic returned Tuesday from a business trip to Bly, where they went about a week ago. They found Bly and vicinity in a very lively and prosperous condition, and industry and improvement in all directions. Plenty of irrigation, sure crops, fat cattle and happy people are a strong combination in Bly.

R. R. news is somewhat scarce, yet according to the old maxim, "No news is good news." As to us, our faith is inexhaustible, and will continue until the train comes in. And here is another item to cheer mankind, viz: Judge Benson, whose judgment is very rarely reversed, and will not be in this case, said yesterday, "We are to have a railroad, sure." And so say we all.

Yreka Journal: The ancient Modoc tribe has dwindled to 77 members, mostly women and sick or diseased children. The death of a Modoc brave lately, has left only 13 able-bodied warriors, who will probably never go to war again. From the most savage and indomitable of fighters they have lost all ambition for anything but their government supplies, and, while virtually prisoners of war on a small reservation, they are left unwatched. The spirit of old days has gone, and nobody will ever hear of a story about "the last of the Modocs."

D. A. Presley of Bly arrived here last Thursday on his way home with his daughter, referred to in the following paragraph from the Spokane Spokesman-Review: Leah Presley, 7 years old, was yesterday sent to Grant's Pass, Ore., by the local police, pursuant to a court order that she should be turned over to her father there. The child's mother, then Mrs. Compton, died six weeks ago in Spokane, leaving her daughter, who had been awarded to her care by the courts when she secured a divorce from Mr. Presley, alone with the little girl's stepfather. Mr. Compton did not want the child, and the father applying for her was allowed his petition.

RECOGNIZED AT WASHINGTON. The only instance on record when a post office has been named after a patent medicine, was last week, when in Wetzel County, W. Va., a new post office was established and named Kodol, after the famous Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, manufactured by E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago. It had given such satisfactory results that the name was unanimously selected by the people for the new office and adopted by the department at Washington, D. C.

Ray Fountain, Willie Houston, Wesley Stockwell, Marguerite Clifton, Ella Bryant, Bertha Hammond, Lee Stafford, Perry DeLap, Charlie DeLap, Chester DeLap, Mabel Nickerson, Amy Lenz, Minnie Barnum, Wannie Withrow, Edith Humphrey, Inez Turner, Emma Turner, Lyda Turner, Etta Arnett, Agnes Marple, Minnie Slater, Leo Houston, Alice Adams, Mable Boyd, Vernie Houston, Loyd DeLap, Willie Sims, Carl Wright, Jerry Martin, Harry Slater, Harry Goehler, Maggie Jones, Fred Cliff, Virgil DeLap, Willie Jardine, James Sigler, Johnie Siemens, Etta Turner, Nina Wilson, Ethel White.

The school has just received a fine drum and a lot of new library books. A. C. GUTHERIE, Principal. "I have been troubled with indigestion for ten years, have tried many things and spent much money to no purpose until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken two bottles and gotten more relief from them than all other medicines taken. I feel more like a boy than I have felt in twenty years." Anderson Riggs of Sunny Lane, Texas. Thousands have testified as did Mr. Riggs. J. L. Padgett & Sons, Keno.

BOB OGLESBY SENTENCED.

Ashland Record. Robert Oglesby, stage driver and later stage robber, will spend one year in the state penitentiary for robbing the United States mail between Paisley and Lakeview several months ago. There were two charges against Oglesby, to which he pleaded guilty, but Judge Bellinger dealt lightly with him and sentenced the young man for a year on each charge, the sentences to run concurrently, so that he will spend but one year behind the bars.

The circumstances surrounding the riding of the mail pouch and the subsequent arrest of Oglesby were peculiar. Oglesby was looked upon as one of the best young men in the community in which he lived, and was well known in the two towns, and as drove the stage coach and carried the mail. One day he drove into Paisley in an excited condition with the mail bag missing. He told a weird story of being held up on the road by a masked man, who demanded the mail bag, and that secured, allowed the stage driver to go on. There was little foundation for the story, and suspicion at once attached itself to Oglesby. He was placed under surveillance and these suspicions were confirmed when it was found that he had purchased a wheel. He was finally arrested one night as he was going to a dance during the holidays. At first he denied the charge of robbing the mail pouch, but later confessed all and even showed the officers where he had buried the sack and the letters. He said that he was about to be married and, needing money, thought he could obtain it in that manner without having the crime attached to him. Once he had confessed that he was alone responsible, he was willing to assist the officers in any way possible and made them no trouble. This, coupled with the fact that he pleaded guilty and saved the government the expense and trouble of a trial, doubtless was in his favor in the mind of the sentencing judge.

FT. KLAMATH CORRESPONDENCE. Miss Annie Batten began teaching school in district No. 7 last Monday. Those who went to Lakeview to file on the land they have settled on returned last Tuesday, having made their filings. Messrs. W. O. and Geo. Hill arrived from the Marsh with a band of horses last Sunday.

Mrs. Hopwood and son Olney went to Klamath Falls Monday from Ft. Klamath. A few days ago Rev. R. Fysh bought of W. D. Bridleman his horse, "Electral." Electral is a beautiful brown animal and one that Rev. Fysh may feel proud to own. He was sired by "Electra" 5978, he by "Electioneer" 125, and was bred and raised by the late J. Q. Shirley. Electral is a splendid horse. While not the largest in size, his colts are of good size and fine, trusty drivers. His sire came from the celebrated Leland Stanford farm in California.

Mrs. W. O. Hill was at Klamath Falls Tuesday on a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hanks.

The citizens of school district No. 7, Ft. Klamath, have purchased a road grader of Hubbard Bros., Medford, Ore., purchase price being $300. Rev. Richard Fysh went to Klamath Falls Tuesday.
