

LOCAL NEWS.

Circuit court resumes here next Monday.

David Shook of Dalry was a Falls visitor Friday.

R. C. Spink of Klamath Agency was here Sunday.

Mr. Applegate of Swan Lake was in town Monday.

Andrew Ryan of Lost river was in town last Thursday.

Osh Brox of Eugene were Klamath Falls visitors Sunday.

John Hagen of Poe Valley was doing business at the Falls Monday.

W. Hoover, G. A. Frame and J. H. Hossig of Beswick were in town Sunday.

Loek & Son of Humbolt Co. Cal., are here for a few days, looking for land.

J. W. McCoy and son of Ft. Klamath were doing business here the first of the week.

L. B. Applegate has nearly completed a large addition to his house on his ranch.

J. H. Houston & Son bought last week of Mrs. J. Koesele a lot on Main street at the price of $11 per front foot.

Capt. O. C. Applegate accompanied James McLaughlin, Indian Inspector, to this place from the Agency last Thursday.

C. C. Cunningham, a prominent sheepman of Fort Klamath, was here yesterday on his way to the Rogue river valley.

The annual reunion of the Southern Oregon Pioneer Association will be held at Ashland the first Thursday in September.

At the conference of Free Methodists in Eugene last week, H. W. Countryman was appointed to supply Klamath Falls and Ashland.

Jackson and Charles Horton of Bonanza were in town Monday. Jackson procured a marriage license and will marry Miss Lena Abbot today.

Chester Hatton, Roy Hamaker, Floyd Brandenburg and Geo. Bradley have gone for a month's outing at Spring Creek and other mountain resorts.

W. J. Butler, custodian of work of the A. F. & A. M., will arrive from Lake county tomorrow evening and remain a few days to inspect the local lodge.

Nebraska, South Dakota and Kansas were visited last week by disastrous tornadoes, by which several lives were lost and much property destroyed.

Mr. Goeller has in his establishment a marvelous new style machine, called a hand saw. It saws out anything from a chair to a portrait. Go and see it perform.

President McKinley has announced that he will visit the Pacific Northwest next year and complete the itinerary which was recently abandoned by reason of his wife's illness.

The machinery, weighing 17 tons, for the Ashland oil company arrived last Tuesday, and the work of sinking a well on a site one mile and a half from town will commence immediately.

C. A. Dean and family and Miss Lela Ashcroft of Yamhill were here Sunday en route to South Dakota. They have been teaching in the Indian school and have been transferred to another agency.

Chas. Lenz of Big Klamath Marsh arrived in town Monday. He reports that aside from the usual celebration by the Indians on the Fourth, the whites are preparing for a big and joyful gathering on that day.

The Fourth of July is probably the chief event of the year for festivity and joy among the Indians and they usually devote a week to celebrating it. This year will be no exception to the rule. They have races, games, feasts and a grand time generally.

Marion Hanks has a huge water wheel nearly completed at his place. It will work in Klamath river and furnish an abundance of power for irrigation. It is an improvement which means much to the productivity and value of Mr. Hanks' ranch.

Ashland Tidings: At the 25th annual commencement exercises of the University of Oregon at Eugene Thursday, the falling prize of $150 for the best oration was won by Berse Chad. Jakway, and the Beekman prize of $100 by Richard Shore Smith of Klamath Falls.

The picture of F. W. Carrick, son of A. D. Carrick of this place, appeared in Sunday's Oregonian among a group comprising the athletic team of the Pacific University at Forest Grove. The team has defeated similar clubs of McMinnville and Pacific colleges and the Willamette University.

There are several localities in the county, where prospectors have recently discovered strong symptoms of oil. So favorable is the outlook, that it is not unlikely that a company will be soon organized to investigate and bring the oleaginous treasures of the earth to the surface.

P. M. Burleigh of Enterprise, Or., who stopped here last week on account of severe sickness, being en route to California, died Monday evening. He was aged 72 years. His relatives at Enterprise were notified and his body telegraphed that he would be here today to take charge of the remains.

According to the Tidings, sundogs and solar circles appeared to Rogue river valley people Friday. These usually appear only during below-zero weather. Hence, we conclude that a fragment of some old Arctic January has been used in the Rogue river as a "silly" by the weather department.

Indians have been gathering around Lookout, Modoc county, since the lynching of five men, half-breed, except one, some weeks ago, and trouble is feared. Last accounts report that there were 250 Indians assembled. Only women and children were at Lookout and they were greatly excited and alarmed.

By the aid of some 30 or 40 barrels of Portland cement and the skillful assistance of experienced workmen for the past month, Mr. G. T. Baldwin has improved to perfection the reservoir, and it is safe to say that there is now no reservoir more complete and no purer, colder and healthier water in Oregon or elsewhere.

U. S. Indian Inspector McLaughlin was here and at Klamath Agency a few days ago and while at the Agency in council with the Indians completed the treaty with them to cede to the United States the strip of 600,000 acres adjoining the reservation. Of this 600,000 acres, 300,000 acres are covered by good yellow and sugar pine.

The head man of Cornell university announces that we are inferior to Europe in science, literature and art, while a leading light of Princeton college refutes the imputation and declares we are jogging ahead of the old sod in those lines. But however we may compare intellectually, one thing sure, we are trying hard to emulate the hog instincts of our European cousins, much to our discredit.

Major Worden has a garden which either by good luck, skillful labor or the considerate absence of Jack Frost, is liable to be a "King Bee" among gardens. It flourishes in superb style, and the daily harvest of fresh vegetables and berries gives happiness to his family. A crowning triumph he has had green peas, and lots of them, for dinner for the past ten days. One of the giant vines which are giving birth to these mammoth marrowfats, now hangs in this office as a sample of what nature can do when it has a chance.

The Pacific Miner says crops were damaged by frosts in Baker county, but not a mine was touched, adding that "the treasures of the earth are impervious to the blighting frosts or devastating storms of rain and hail and wind that strangle the farmers' hopes and murder his ambition."

Near can frosts hurt Klamath's unexcelled forests of pine, nor its broad valleys of alfalfa, on which stock fattens, enriching the rancher. Klamath will also roll up plenty of grain, vegetables and fruit, notwithstanding some injury by frost.

I. W. Burriss, the new proprietor and landlord of the Hotel Linkville, arrived from Ashland together with his family on Saturday and has since been remodeling and improving the interior of the hotel, which changes will when completed cost several hundred dollars. He has one of the best locations in this part of the state and with his experience as a landlord and desire to please his patrons, his hotel will without doubt be a favorite resort for tourists and the traveling public generally. He expects to take possession on the 1st of next month.

Wouldn't Carnegie's philanthropy deserve more credit were he to lop off enough from his library contributions to make liberal and profitable gifts to his employees who have probably not been over-paid in their labors. Rarely a laborer who would be benefited by his libraries. Multitudes in the cities have little time aside from that devoted to eating, sleeping and working, and contributions that would lighten their burdens and enable them to see a rift in the clouds of toil and hardship would excite grateful admiration in the hearts of all humanity.

Geo. Norris, Douglas Norris, Wm. Hanning and John Hanning of Klamath arrived here Tuesday morning on their way to Lakeview to prove up on timber claims. Geo. Norris expressed the opinion that work on the proposed railroad from Klamath to Klamath Falls would be commenced within a short time. We may expect to hear of the start any day now, so he says. The surveyors are still at work, trying to shorten the line and secure an easy grade. A thousand grade stakes were sent to them from the Klamath mill last week. Mr. Norris says cruisers and buyers are thick in the timber and that the demand for such property is growing rapidly.

The recent effort by a powerful opposition to cause the removal of Commissioner Hermann from the General Land Office was frustrated by President McKinley who said: "I know the Commissioner. I served with him in Congress, and I saw when he assumed the duties of his office, no better man could have been selected. I say the same now, and he shall remain." Speaking of this just tribute to Commissioner Hermann and of the Washington Sunday Globe of June 2nd, says "that it is proud to be able, where so much is to be criticized, to eulogize, or rather record, the truth itself, which is the best eulogy, of one of the purest, and ablest, and most incorruptible men who has ever held the important position of Commissioner of the Land Office."

Lakeview Examiner: Nearly all the Lake county wool of 1901 has been disposed of, and shipment has already begun to Boston, San Francisco and other points. Some of the northern Lake wool will go east via Shaunko and The Dalles, while a considerable amount from the central Lake clip will go to Red Bluff. The bulk of the clip, however, will be freighted to Tule to be shipped by the N. C. O. route to San Francisco or the East.

Among the clips still undisposed of up to noon yesterday were those of Dave Edler, George Hankins, Hartman and Snyder, Jas. Barry, Phil. Barry, Enquist & Sunstorm, L. B. Moss, S. P. Moss and Lee Thomas. The latter clip was probably sold to the Boston buyer, yesterday.

There was no increase in the price from last week, the market holding at 10 to 10 1/2. Some growers are holding for 11 cents.

Tourists from California and Western Oregon are beginning to come in and enjoy the country, and there will be an increasing tide of them for the next two months. It is not so easy a trip to get here from the railroad as one could wish, yet when here, past hardships of travel are forgotten in the grand scenery everywhere in view. From here the most orthodox route for the tourist to Lake would be by boat up the Upper Klamath lake, viewing the islands and shores and in the distance the mountains, and realizing what a mountain is. North from the lake a day's travel will bring him to Crater lake, one of the seven wonders of the world, and on which none can afford to neglect. A week spent there and in visiting the surrounding mountains and ravines, enjoying camp life, fishing, hunting and gaining health will be remembered as one of the pleasantest in life.

A few weeks ago it was reported that the building of a Catholic church at Klamath Falls this season was a sure thing, and since then we hear that not only a church but a Catholic school will be built also. This is the central point of a great extent of country in which there are many Catholic families to whom such a church and school would be very acceptable, but who on account of the great distance are now deprived of advantages. As a sample of the favor with which the church and school will be received, we learn that several hundred dollars have already been subscribed for that purpose, and that at least $2,500 will be obtained without difficulty. One wealthy gentleman of this county is reported to have declared that a church and school building should be erected even if he had to be at the entire expense of it himself. With such a progressive citizen to take the lead, there can be no question as to the result.

We understand the ladies of the different local lodges are preparing for a picnic dinner and an appropriate program to be given in the court house yard on the Fourth. Everybody is invited to join in the festivities and a good time may be expected.

Basket Picnic on Court House Grounds, JULY 4TH. 500 Gallons Free Coffee. Everybody Come.

Second-hand cooking range, dining table and several carpets, all nearly as good as new, for sale. Inquire at this office.

Mrs. L. M. McHugh is now occupying the Southern Methodist church hall, where she is prepared to do first class dressmaking. Tailored suits a specialty.

Bids will be received for the delivery of 30 tiers of pine or fir stove wood 24 inches long, and 15 tiers of pine or fir stove wood 16 inches long. The wood to be thoroughly seasoned and to be corded in accordance with Klamath Falls school house. All bids must be filed with the clerk of school district No. 1 on or before July 1, 1901, and wood to be delivered on or before September 1, 1901. The board of directors reserve the right to reject any or all bids. By order of Board of Directors, District No. 1.

Timber Land, Act June 3, 1878-- Notice for Publication.
