Goodwin and wife of San Francisco were at this place Monday. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Claitwood on the 22nd ult. Alexander Bradburn and wife were Falls visitors the fore part of the week. There will be a social dance at Houston's opera house this (Thursday) evening. Mrs. Wm. Nail of Lakeview is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brettenstein. Daisy Goss returned Tuesday to her home at Bonanza after a visit with friends here. Merrill has been preparing for a big celebration today and promises to attract a large crowd. We understand that State Treasurer Moore will visit this place some time during the present month. Frank Arant of Pine Grove, and A. Kershner and J. C. Ferguson of Lost River were in town Monday. Al Sloan of the Sumner's Ranch is spending a few days in town having some dental work done. C. C. Cunningham of Ft. Klamath stopped here Tuesday on his way home from a trip to Ashland. Beale M. Butler of Yreka, E. W. Galkins of Medford and Geo. Frame of Agor were in this place Monday. Miss Jessie Parker of Dairy is spending several weeks in town taking treatment for defective hearing. J. J. Sturgill of Baker City has been here the past week in the interest of a lodge called the Fraternal Union. Sam Isaacs, an Indian, was brought here Monday and has since been under treatment for a severe attack of bronchitis. According to reports, this place and vicinity will be largely represented at the Fourth of July celebration at Fort Klamath. Mrs. P. L. Fountain and Mrs. H. P. Galmeau departed Saturday for Ashland, where they expect to spend a month visiting. W. M. Ladd and E. C. Cross who have been on a fishing trip to Spring Creek left for their homes in Portland last Monday. Miss Annie Downs of Lakeview, who has been working at the Hotel Linkville for the past 10 months, returned home Tuesday. W. R. Brown and wife left last Thursday for their future home in Missouri. The best wishes of many friends accompany them. Ray Chas. Booth, the Episcopal minister of Grants Pass, arrived here on Saturday to hold services on Sunday at the M. E. church. Fred Prindle of Santa Rosa, Cal., who has been looking after the interests of his farm near Bonanza, departed for home Wednesday. On Sunday Mary A. Baason left for Sleepy Eye, Minn., Emily Stager left for Salem, Or., and Minnie Robinson left for Pasadena, Cal. Henry Jackson, wealthiest Indian on the reservation, was in town the fore part of the week on his way home from a trip to Modoc county, Cal. At last report John Houston was at the German Hospital in San Francisco undergoing an examination. We hope to hear favorable reports of him soon. Mrs. F. W. Jennings and Miss Maude Baldwin returned on Saturday from their 60 mile horseback ride across the mountains to visit friends at Ashland. Mr. and Mrs. Alex Martin Jr. and son arrived on Saturday from Portland, at which place and Eugene they have been visiting friends and relatives. L. B. Applegate has been in town this week. He is suffering from a sprained knee, the result of a fall while handling some live stock on his ranch last week. Very encouraging reports are received by County Superintendent DeLap of the condition of his little daughter who was taken to Salem for medical treatment. J. L. Yaden is driving the Ashland stage to the top of the mountain this week in the place of his regular driver, Al Decker, who is taking a short vacation. We regret to learn that J. T. Henley who went to Dr. Ward's Sanitarium in San Francisco for medical treatment is not improving as satisfactorily as was hoped. Haying will be under way with all possible force next week. It has already commenced in some parts of the county. There promises to be the usual demand for help. J. W. Siemens and Marion Hanks leave here on the 14th inst. for Portland where they will attend as delegates the grand lodge of A. O. U. W., which meets on the 16th inst. Mr. Jones at the logging camp near Pelican Bay tells us that he will in a month have a raft of 900 big logs to float down the upper Klamath lake to the mill of Moore Bros. at Klamath Falls. S. Stukel of Merrill was doing business at the Falls on Saturday. Mr. Stukel is one of the prominent ranchers and stockgrowers of the county, and has been a settler for over forty years. Mr. Moore, father of Moore Bros., arrived here Sunday on his return from Southern California where he had been visiting relatives since last fall. He will spend the summer with relatives at this place. The reservoir belonging to the waterworks was emptied and re-filled Saturday evening. With its new coating of cement, twenty-two barrels having been used, it is absolutely secure against leaks for many years to come. W. J. Butler of Marshfield, Or., custodian of the A. F. & A. M., is visiting the different lodges in this part of the state. He attended lodge here Saturday evening and after the formal ceremonies, a banquet was given in his honor. Ashland Town Talk: Mrs. E. R. Reams returned Thursday from a visit to her sister, Mrs. A. R. Davis, at Seattle and left for her home at Klamath Falls. Mrs. Davis leaves July 6th for Nome, Alaska, where she has mining interests. Liveryman Hazen arrived Monday on his return from Ashland where he conveyed the remains of Mr. P. M. Burchell who died here last week. The deceased's son who reached here last Thursday, accompanied the body to Enterprise, Or., for burial. Among the arrivals at Hotel Linkville on Friday were J. A. Burchell, Enterprise, Or.; Wallace Taylor, Chewaucan, Or.; Paul Cowes, San Francisco, W. J. Butler, Marshfield, Or.; M. A. Livingston, Roseburg, Or.; S. B. Gardner, Fort Klamath, Or. and W. B. Simpson, Naylox, Or. The Ray Mining, Irrigation and Power Co., has finished the survey for a new ditch near Gold Hill. The ditch will lead from Rogue river three miles above that town and will measure in width 24 feet on the bottom and 30 feet on the top and will be 6 feet in depth. Mr. Griffith's steam boat made its first trip on Saturday from Pelican Bay down the lake to Klamath Falls. We are told that hereafter the boat will make one trip per week during the summer. We hope to see the time when, instead of one boat, there will be a dozen, to ply up and down every day. It is interesting to read articles in the magazines detailing how a family can live on $2,000 a year, strict economy being necessary. It must be refreshing to their readers to learn that they can wiggle along so cheaply. It is safe to say that an infinitely large majority exist comfortably on less than $900 a year. Judge Benson returned from his trip to Portland on Saturday. From the newspapers at Portland and elsewhere along his route, we notice that he met many old friends and admirers, and that his well known ability as a Judge and eloquence as a public speaker, made him the honored recipient of attentions wherever he went. J. H. Jardine who caught an army of snakes last fall and shipped them alive to a Minnesota snake farm, has just prepared an invoice of snake hides for a Connecticut firm. This is a sample order and if it meets satisfaction, it will be followed by many larger ones. The snake industry is bound to flourish in more ways than one. Louis Gerber started 300 head of beef cattle last Saturday from his ranch in the eastern part of the county. Their destination is Montague, and understand buyers are offering 5 cents for cows and 6 cents for steers—a very good price, though not quite so high as last season. Owing to the large numbers of cattle shipped into California from Arizona, the market is not so high as last year. Grants Pass Mining Journal: Rev. D. T. Sumnerville left Wednesday morning for Klamath and Lake counties to hold the fourth quarterly meetings for this conference year in the charges in that part of the Grants Pass district. While away he will have to travel about eight hundred miles, mostly by stage. He expects to be home on the 23rd or the 24th of July. Preparations are going forward for a pleasant time here in remembrance of Independence Day. A program of singing and speeches will be carried out in the court house grove and will be followed by a grand plene dinner. Everybody is invited to attend and join in having a good time. Though the arrangements may not be so elaborate as usual, the celebration will be none the less patriotic and enjoyable. It is reported that between $20,000,000 and $40,000,000 will be spent in the next few years in improving the Southern Pacific railroad. Grades are to be reduced, curves are to be straightened, heavier rails are to displace the lighter ones now in use, steel trestles are to be built, and big engines and up-to-date cars are to be bought. President Hayes proposes to raise the standard of the Southern Pacific to that of Eastern roads. Ashland Tidings: David Smith, the half breed Indian arrested in Klamath County on a charge of disposing of liquors to Indians, arraigned in the U. S. court at Portland, Monday, and entered a plea of not guilty. His case will not come up until fall when the next U. S. grand jury meets. Smith belongs to the Grand Road reservation but for some reason wandered out into the Klamath's country where he got into the trouble. In the address of Judge Benson of Klamath Falls last week before the alumni of the Oregon University, he said that "there is a mistaken idea abroad in the belief that the professions are overcrowded. He declared there is plenty of room for lawyers, ministers, educators, and in every known profession. While ranks in the professions are pretty well filled there is plenty of vacant room at the top, though conditions may be somewhat crowded at the bottom." I. W. Burris assumed active management of the Hotel Linkville Monday morning. Since arriving here, he has been rushed with the work of remodeling and improving the interior of the building. The changes made thus far add convenience and show good taste. Also, new paint and paper have been used liberally by experienced workmen. Mr. Burris is determined to make the house first class in all respects and is showing a progressive spirit that is bound to succeed. Salem whose census returns show considerable shrinkage since the enumeration of ten years ago, is still much distressed over the fact. We would suggest that before another census the town should expand its limits and include within them the whole of Marion county. This means would bring the desired end quicker than an effort to pull in new people and would be more laudable than the old method, said to be in vogue in ambitious communities years ago, of enumerating tombstones. Something must be done to lift the galling yoke of humiliation from Salem and we presume suggestions are acceptable. Intensely hot weather is the rule in the East at this time, many prostrations and deaths being reported daily from the large cities. It's different here. There is no more danger of sunstroke in Oregon than there is on the apex of the North Pole. Sweat can be produced only by vigorous exercise, a rarity seldom necessary, perhaps, and, unlike alfalfa, never volunteers. Nor do people freeze in Oregon, either in winter or summer. Extremes are comparatively unknown and there is so little variety in the quality of the seasons that one often has to consult an almanac to tell what month he is wading through. This municipality has more cats than are essential to metropolitan dignity, and if there are no protective laws or ordinances relating to the same, it would be eminently comforting if the thinning process could be followed for a time. Rodent varieties can be managed by quartering the number of cats now here. No use in having an over-supply. A liberal share could be shipped to rat-infested ports where they are needed and would be prized. If necessary, in addition, a few thousand could be dispatched and serenely landed in cat heaven. Commiseration and the tenderest of human impulses possess one when he thinks of the propriety of etherealizing a well-meaning cat, but there are intervals when this sentiment is dead and its place usurped by revengeful wrath. This is the fault: A concourse of rats assemble under one's window at night, and while he is struggling to get himself under the influence of sleep, they lacerate the air with shrill, demoniac yells. To have a congregation of big-legged, timber-mouthed feline devils keep up a vocal uproar equal to an army of rip saws, does not inspire the lofty thought and Puritanic piety which consistently follow one's accustomed evening devotion. It jars mental tranquility and detracts from one's higher nature. Let's have fewer cats. DAIRY DOINGS. (This letter was received too late for publication last week. It is therefore abridged.) Fred Peterstener will begin herding cattle next week near Carr's ranch. Miss Lena Burgdorf went to Bonanza last week to get some dentist work done. J. O. Hamaker, the U. S. Commissioner, was in town this week attending to official business. Thomas Sparks was in town over Saturday and Sunday. Dairy will not celebrate the Fourth of July this year, but will go to other places. Charles Drew has been appointed insurance agent for this section. C. H. Zevrey closed a successful term of school last Friday. C. E. J. Mrs. L. M. McHugh is now occupying the Southern Methodist church hall, where she is prepared to do first class dressmaking. Tailored suits a specialty. Call at "Van's" the jeweler, and see his stock and get prices before buying watches, clocks or jewelry.

Dyspeptics cannot be long lived because to live requires nourishment. Food is not nourishing until it is digested. A disordered stomach cannot digest food, it must have assistance. Kodel Dyspepsia Cure digests all kinds of food without aid from the stomach, allowing it to rest and regain its natural functions. Its elements are exactly the same as the natural digestive fluids and it simply can't help but do you good. J. L. Padgett & Sons, Keno.
