Bruette of Portland was inspecting Klamath county timber Tuesday. F. S. and G. W. Brandon of Merrill were Klamath Falls visitors Saturday. David Haynes, a resident of Poe valley, is quite ill with a complication of diseases. The leaden skies and intermittent squirts of rain made Sunday a day of unusual gloom. J. B. Moore has moved with his family into the residence east of the store of The Duffy Co. Harrison Brown, one of the Klamath's rich Indians, arrived from Yainax in the week. Nellie E. Purvis, Calla J. Westfall and Susie E. Schone of Klamath Agency were in town Tuesday. Mr. Bradley of this place caught in the river near the sawmill a trout on Sunday, weighing 15 pounds. Take the little folks to see Master Albere, the boy mental wonder, at the opera house Saturday evening next. J. M. Moore has let the contract for the building of a large, new dwelling on his lots in Ewauna addition. Frank Orr of Portland arrived Sunday on his return from a trip to Lakeview, and left Monday morning for home. Rev. C. A. Stockwell departed on Monday morning's Ashland stage for Hillsboro to attend the annual M. E. conference. Dr. Reames reports that Rev. J. W. Bryant's daughter, Sarah, aged 14 years, is suffering from an attack of appendicitis. Klamath county is not the only locality visited by rain the past week. Storms have been general west of the Rocky mountains. County tax money has been pouring into the sheriff's office these days. For instance, the receipts on Saturday amounted to $1,000. Geo. W. Bailey of Shake was married at Jacksonville on the 17th inst. to Margaret J. Dingham, who is a recent arrival from Des Moines, Ia. The fair held at Ashland last week is reported to have been unsuccessful in both attendance and exhibits. There seems to have been a lack of interest. Mr. and Mrs. James B. Moore of this place had the pleasure of welcoming to their family circle on Tuesday morning, a son weighing 11 pounds. Chester DeLap fell from an apple tree last Thursday and fractured his left arm below the elbow, the two bones being broken. Dr. Reames was called. Dr. Straw reports that a young man by the name of Hilberts had one of the fingers of his right hand badly cut in a shingle mill at Swan lake last week. The sociable in the opera house Friday evening in honor of Rev. C. A. Stockwell, who has closed his pastorate here and left for the district M. E. conference, was largely attended, and many were the regrets expressed over the congenial pastor's departure. Music and recitations were followed by refreshments of ice cream and cake. Don't fail to witness the performance of the "Arabian Nights" by the home company on Saturday evening next. It is the funniest comedy you ever saw. Specialties between each act. Mr. Goeller is putting in on his lots near his sash and door factory, an extensive stone foundation for a planing mill, which will be commenced as soon as the foundation is completed. From the Lakeview Examiner we learn that on Monday of last week a most destructive fire broke out in Warner valley and 15,000 acres of meadow and grazing land outside of enclosures, were burned over. On September 21 Judge Benson adjourned court at Jacksonville until October 7, at which time some equity cases will come on for trial. This will necessarily defer his presence here to open court as early as expected. Mr. and Mrs. C. Cunningham of Fort Klamath arrived here Monday. Mr. Cunningham returned home Tuesday while Mrs. Cunningham remains here to spend several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. H. T. Chitwood. Medford Mail: Mr. and Mrs. Philip Loosley came over from Klamath county last Saturday and on Sunday they left for the good Samaritan hospital, at Portland, where Mrs. Loosley is to receive treatment for cancer. Word has been received from T. H. Moore, who is to embark in the grocery business in the store of the Duffy Co. at this place, that he will arrive here some time next week to receive his new stock and prepare for business. The Chicago Portrait Co. has been delayed in delivering their orders in this county owing to the sickness at Lakeview of their collector, R. O. Rowley. However, he is now here busily engaged in distributing some 100 portraits. Among the appointments made by the Methodist church, South, at its conference in Medford last week, was that of Rev. J. W. Craig, until lately of this place, who will supply Independence and Lewisville. Klamath Falls will be supplied. Remember the county teachers institute which meets at this place October 7, 8 and 9. The law requires teachers to attend, and they may feel assured, from the fact that able instructors have been secured, that the session will be pleasant and profitable throughout. Allan C. Chitwood, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Chitwood of this place, died Sunday morning after a short illness, being aged 18 months. The funeral was held from the house Sunday afternoon. In their sorrow, the bereaved parents have the cordial sympathy of many friends. Announcement has been received here of the marriage in Chicago on the 13th ult. of Frank M. Fairfield to Fannie Thompson. Mr. Fairfield formerly resided in Klamath Falls, where he is well and favorably known. He is now practicing law in Chicago and doing well. His friends here will wish him much happiness. G. T. Conner will have a grand ball and supper on the night of October 4, when his new hotel at Merrill will be formally opened. The orchestras of Klamath Falls and Poe valley have been engaged for the event. The musicians selected from here are Fred Moore, Geo. Hurn, Geo. Blehn, Carrey Ramsby and Otto Heidrick. G. M. Meiss of Ball's Ranch, Siskiyou county, Cal., has been at this place and vicinity the past few days. Yesterday he bought 1,440 fine sheep of I. D. Applegate and will have them shipped as soon as possible to the Sacramento market. The stock will pass through Klamath Falls en route to the railroad this afternoon or tomorrow morning. The news from the oil well company at Ashland is that very favorable symptoms are being met with. The drill is now down about 400 feet, and oil in small quantities is being found, thus indicating a paying well at no great distance below. If a good oil well is found, it will encourage oil men to see whether there is not oil in Klamath county also. Deputy District Attorney Rutenic went to Merrill Sunday and on Monday prosecuted Fred Lipton before Justice Wilson on a charge of making threats. G. T. Conner was the complaining witness. Lipton was bound over to keep the peace, bond being fixed at $300, in default of which he was brought to Klamath Falls and placed in custody of Sheriff Summers. W. W. Stone, ex-governor of Pennsylvania, and Edward S. Wetmore, both of Warren, Pa., and R. D. Merrill of Hoquiam, Wash., arrived here Saturday morning to investigate Klamath county timber with a view of buying. They were accompanied by a cruiser, F. W. Brown of Tacoma. They are large capitalists and extensive dealers in timber. They left for the railroad Monday morning. Ashland Tidings: C. C. Chitwood came in from Klamath Falls, Tuesday, and left on the evening train for Marshfield, where he will have charge of a drug store for several months to come. Geo. T. Baldwin, of Klamath Falls, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Maud, arrived in Ashland, Tuesday afternoon, from a visit to San Francisco. Miss Baldwin will remain to spend the winter in this city. The ranch of D. E. Driscoll near Bonanza was visited by a destructive fire last week, and a valuable barn was consumed together with the hay, grain, and farming implements stored there. In addition to the above property belonging to Mr. Driscoll, a thrashing machine owned by Dick Hamaker was also burned. The total value of the property lost is estimated to have been not less than $2,500. There was no insurance. G. H. Meiss of Ball's Ranch, who has been here this week buying live stock, tells us that he has a telephone line running 40 miles from Montague to his ranch. To that ranch, 40 miles from here, Klamath Falls could build a line and be placed in telephone communication with every point of importance on the Coast. Wouldn't it be a big advantage to the live stock and other business interests of the county to further such an enterprise? Last Friday night a horse and saddle were stolen from the ranch of Albert Otey, in what is known as the Hole in the Ground in Siskiyou county, Cal. Mr. Otey came to Klamath Falls, and being duly deputized by Sheriff Summers, followed the property to the Yainax reservation where he found it in possession of a man giving his name as Ed Dougherty. Dougherty was arrested and on Monday taken to Siskiyou county, where his case will doubtless receive proper attention. It would richly reward the hotel men, merchants and business men generally of Klamath Falls and Fort Klamath, to take stock in the project of building a nice, stylish and up-to-date steamer on the upper lake. Such a boat would insure to those towns the bulk of the patronage and trade which now crosses the mountains to Medford from the Wood river country. Will the business men here and at Fort Klamath reflect on the many advantages of keeping business at home? Medford Mail: A. G. Clemens and J. S. Morgan, who with their families, have spent the past two months in the hay fields of Klamath county, returned to Medford last Sunday. The latter part of their stay was at Will Nicholson's ranch, where in less than two weeks these two gentlemen, with one assistant, put up 104 tons of hay. They were then treated to an oyster supper—a delicious repast prepared by Mr. Nicholson himself, which was greatly enjoyed by the whole party. At the Memorial services held at Grants Pass on Thursday, Judge H. L. Benson was the speaker of the day and delivered an address, the eloquence of which elicited most hearty applause from the large audience present. The Observer says that Judge Benson's address "was eloquent to the extreme, and the audience listened in rapt attention from the first to the last word of his speech. His eulogy on the life of Wm. McKinley, the good, the great, the honored, the beloved, the brutally assassinated man, touched every heart. Mr. Benson said that anarchy is treason and should be treated as such in our courts. Exile he thought, is the lightest punishment that should be meted out to those within our borders who follow the red flag of anarchism." Ashland Record: Henry Loftus and family have been visiting their old home in Ashland, putting up their winter's fruit and supplies and visiting friends. They started last week for their home at Lakeview. As they were going down the hill going to Bailey's it was getting dark, when they ran on a rock that runs across the road. Mr. Loftus did not see it and when the wheel dropped over, Mrs. Loftus and the babies pitched forward on their heads, and how they escaped the wheels and death is a mystery. Mrs. Loftus was badly dazed and considerably bruised on the body and face, and one of the children was also seriously injured. The infant escaped without a scratch. They laid over at Shake awaiting Mrs. Loftus' recovery. Ashland Tidings: There are at present time between seven and eight hundred men engaged in the work of improvement going on on the track and roadbed of the Southern Pacific Company between Ashland and Dunsuir. A most exasperating delay has been caused in the receipt of 80-lb. steel rails on account of the great strike going on in the

ARABIAN NIGHTS.

At Houston's opera house Saturday evening, September 28, the Klamath Falls Dramatic Co. will produce for the first time here the very funny farce-comedy in three acts, entitled "The Arabian Nights" or the "Gutta Percha Girl." The piece was written by Mr. Sidney Grundy and was first played at the Globe Theatre, London, in 1887. It is one long, loud laugh from the time the curtain rises on the first act until it falls on the last, being full of very funny scenes and situations. All married men should witness this performance, as it will teach them how to appreciate a mother-in-law, who so kindly takes care of them in the absence of a loving wife. Young men should also avail themselves of the opportunity, and thereby learn what might be in store for them. All ladies should see the play, and we are sure by so doing their faith in mankind will from that moment grow stronger. Specialties between the acts by Fred Moore and Master Albere Moore, the boy mental wonder.
