THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1902.

Spain seems to be nearly if not actually in the throes of an insurrection. Having lost all of its insular possessions, because of its indisposition to give them a just government, it is now engaged in an uncertain struggle to keep its main-land together. Spain has long been degenerating, due to ignorance, bigotry and tyranny.

The village election is of sufficient importance to enlist the active interest of every citizen. A half dozen tickets, representing as many small cliques, should not be tossed into the field on the day of election. Why not hold a mass convention, to which duty should draw every property holder and citizen interested in public welfare, and nominate representative men? The fact that the town owes, as we are informed, about $7,000, aside from its bonded indebtedness, should awaken interest in the future management of affairs.

A fist fight between Senators Tillman and McLaurin of South Carolina enlivened the United States senate last Saturday. The two statesmen have been bitter enemies for a number of years, and what precipitated the hand-to-hand encounter was McLaurin's declaration, during the course of a speech, that Tillman's statement regarding him was a "willful, deliberate and malicious lie." The senate quickly dropped into executive session, and thus, obscuring itself from public view, recovered its equilibrium. It was resolved that the two pugacious senators were in contempt and should apologize, which they did.

Smallpox seems to be prevalent in all parts of the United States, though being in a mild form a comparatively small number of deaths have resulted. The East is suffering more than the West with the disease. It has gained great headway in Chicago. Sunday's Oregonian speaks of the precautions employed in that city as follows: "The manager of every one of the railroads centering in Chicago has made it a rule that every employe, from the highest to the lowest, including messenger boys and scrubwomen, must be vaccinated or lose his or her place. Every car arriving in Chicago from any direction is fumigated under the direction of the city health department before passengers are allowed to enter it again. These precautions are necessary, for smallpox is prevalent in the territory surrounding Chicago. In Wisconsin 8000 or 9000 cases have occurred within the past thirteen months."

As our readers are aware, it will soon be necessary to begin making preparations for the June election. At the republican primaries to be held on the 15th of next month, delegates will be chosen for the county convention which will nominate county officers and appoint delegates to the state and congressional conventions. At the republican county convention, (as always in all conventions of any and every party,) experience has shown that one of the greatest assurances of success is harmony. There are a host of good and capable men to select from, good, straight-forward, honorable and capable men, and republicans are not compelled to go outside their own party to find them. And when the combined good judgment of the convention makes choice, all should be content, and stand shoulder to shoulder, invincible and enthusiastic, until they are triumphant winners on election day. Neither bolters nor disgruntled politicians, nor the efforts of our friends on the other side, should disturb our serene determination to win a republican victory in a county, which already has a republican majority.

Call for Republican Convention and Primaries for Klamath Co. Or.

A Republican Convention for Klamath county, Oregon, is hereby called to meet at Klamath Falls, on Saturday, March 22nd, 1902, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m. of said day, for the purpose of nominating a county ticket and to elect 4 delegates to the Republican State Convention, and 4 delegates to the Congressional Convention of the First District of Oregon, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before said convention. The convention will be composed of 39 delegates, apportioned among the several precincts of said county as follows, viz:

Linkville 10, Dairy 4, Klamath Lake 1, Langell Valley 2, Lost River 3, Pleyna 5, Snow Valley 2, Sprague River 2, S. P. 2, Tule Lake 4, and Wood River 4.

The same being 1 delegate at large for each precinct and 1 delegate for each 14 votes and fraction thereof over one-half, cast for Hon. J. N. Williamson at the state election of 1900.

Primaries will be held at the various voting places in the several precincts on Saturday, March 15, 1902, at the hour of 2 o'clock p. m. of said day.

By order of the Republican Central Committee of Klamath county, Oregon, dated February 26, 1902.
HIRAM F. MURDOCH,
Chairman.

A WORD FOR GOVERNOR GEER.

A friend sends us for publication the following letter clipped from the Salem Statesman:
Editor Statesman: In anticipation of the coming state election next June, the political "pot" is already "simmering" and the temperature is already increasing until it will soon be at the boiling point. It is well, therefore, for conservative Republicans, who are not actuated solely by the love of office, to be casting about to determine who our standard bearers shall be in the next campaign.
In the language of Mark Hanna it is some times a good plan "to let well enough alone." It seems to me that this is one of the occasions when we should obey this injunction here in Oregon, in so far as it applies to the present Governor and state officials generally. It is a well known fact to the people of the state of Oregon, regardless of party affiliations, that the affairs of the state have never been more zealously and faithfully conducted than during the past four years. There has been no hint of corruption or betrayal of the people's interests in any of its departments. The officials have proven themselves competent, honest and faithful to their duties.

I met a lady acquaintance on a street car in Salem recently, and during our conversation she asked me if I did not think that we had a fine Governor? I, of course answered in the affirmative. She said that in the performance of her religious duties she was called to the state prison once each month, and that she found the affairs of the prison conducted in a humane and Christian-like manner, so far as it was possible to be. She spoke in very complimentary terms of Superintendent Lee, Warden Janes and other employees there.

There is some opposition to Governor Geer's re-election, but it is mostly confined to parties who are disappointed office seekers. It is unfortunate that it has not been possible for the governor to provide positions for each friend in his own precinct and county, but he found himself long on friends and short on positions. So somebody had to be disappointed.

I remember that in 1864 the great Lincoln met with strong opposition within his own party for re-election, mostly from disappointed and "disgruntled" office seekers. This was carried to the extent of calling a national convention and nominating a candidate for president (John C. Fremont) in opposition to Mr. Lincoln, but he cut a sorry figure indeed in the result of the election, which resulted in Mr. Lincoln's re-election over both Fremont and the Democratic candidate by a great majority.

Governor Geer is a native Oregonian, has lived most of his life in Marion county, was educated at our great home college, the Willamette University. Prior to his election was a farmer and hard worker all his life, and knows how to sympathize with the laborer. Oregon has never had a Governor who has been more devoted to her interests or more faithful in the performance of his duties. The writer of this has never received or asked any favors at the hands of the present state officials, except being favored as other citizens of the state with good government. Respectfully,

Saved Him From Torture.

There is no more agonizing trouble than piles. The constant itching and burning make life intolerable. No position is comfortable. The torture is unceasing. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salves cures piles at once. For skin diseases, cuts, burns, bruises, all kinds of wounds it is unequalled. J. S. Gerall, St. Paul, Ark., says: "From 1865 I suffered with the protruding, bleeding piles and could find nothing to help me until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes completely cured me." Beware of counterfeits.

PUNGENT PARAGRAPHS.

"Is it true we're made of dust, auntie?" "Yes dear." "Then why don't we turn muddy when we drink?"
—Sketch.

"Miss Smilax out? Didn't she get my note this morning?" "Sure, sor, I thought it was a bill from the face she made."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Eyebright—"Well, I've got to begin wearing glasses." Skidmore—"Troubled with your eyes?" Eyebright—"Certainly. Didn't think I was going to move to Boston did you?"—Town Topics.

Taking No Chances.—Boarder—"Are you sure, Bridget, that there are no lodatooks among these mushrooms?" Servant—"I don't know, sor. They was bought for the missus' table, but she told me to try them on th' boarders first."—Boston Herald.

On He Went.—"Oh, my!" exclaimed the deadbeat, who had been ostentatiously fishing for his fare. "I've lost my last nickel. I'm not as well off as I thought I was." "No," replied the wise conductor, as he rang the bell to stop, "but you're really better off."
—Philadelphia Press.

Guff—"I thought you said if he insulted you you'd strike him quick as lightning." Bluff—"I did say that, didn't I?" Guff—"Yes, you did, and although he called you a liar and a thief you haven't struck him yet." Bluff—"Well—you never heard of lightning striking at this season of the year, did you?"—Catholic Standard and Times.

The Last Heard Of It.

"My little boy took the croup one night and soon grew so bad he could hear him breathe all over the house," says F. D. Ransdell, Marshfield, O. "We feared he would die, but a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved him and he went to sleep. That is the last we heard of the croup. Now isn't a cough cure like that valuable?" One Minute cough cure is absolutely safe and acts immediately. For coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis and all other throat and lung troubles it is a certain cure. Very pleasant to take. The little ones like it.

See the notice of the county clerk to all voters to register. The registering for the election two years ago, will not suffice for the election next June, but must be done again or the voter will lose his vote.
