THURSDAY, MARCH 27, 1902.

There promises to be no dearth of applicants for the postoffice which is soon to be vacated by Mr. Castel. We have already heard of four individuals who have aspirations in that direction.

The republican convention presents an exceptionally strong ticket from top to bottom, one which merits enthusiastic and unqualified support. No apology is needed in voting for every man nominated.

In the Second congressional district is a spirited rivalry between Moody and Williamson. The result of the county conventions makes it quite certain that Multnomah county will decide the contest.

Josephine county is pulling for the office of state printer for F. W. Chasse of the Grants Pass Observer. We wish it were possible for all the newspapers in the state to have the benefit of that job simultaneously. They all need it, the Klamath county news vendors not excepted.

The result of the republican state convention next Wednesday cannot be foretold, especially with reference to the gubernatorial nomination. It is evident that Gov. Geer will not easily gain re-nomination. He has strong rivals in the persons of Judge Calk of Portland and W. J. Furnish of Pendleton. H. E. Ankeny of Eugene may also figure prominently in the race for governor. It looks as though Geer would go to the convention with most of the Willamette Valley, Furnish with a large share of Eastern Oregon and Calk with Multnomah county. The outcome is uncertain.

Large capitalists are reported to be moving to prevent the re-nomination of President Roosevelt, whose frank and fearless policies do not always harmonize with their financial interests. President Roosevelt is a strong character, who cannot be intimidated or deterred from what he thinks is right. He is not inflexible, but is unquestionably a man of good judgment and high motives and not apt to err often. He is determined to perform his duties conscientiously and impartially, truckling to no class for future political favor. If he secures a re-nomination it will be given at the instance of the masses of his party, rather than prompted by the capitalists, most of whom will doubtless regard him with disfavor.

Followers of democracy will be given freedom of the town next Saturday and April 5, the dates of their primaries and convention. It now looks as though Messrs. Driscoll and Summers would be re-nominated for clerk and sheriff respectively—whether willing or unwilling sacrifices, we haven't heard. Mr. Bennett will go after the assessorship again. Wm Terrill promises to surround the nomination for treasurer. The judgeship is annoying democratic leaders somewhat, but they will probably name some one. Geo. T. Baldwin, H. W. Keesee and P. L. Fountain are spoken of. Probably I. A. Duffy would allow himself to be led to the slaughter before letting the nomination go by default. The other places on the ticket will doubtless be duly filled, but the names of the aspirants, if there are any, we don't know.

A CAMPAIGN STORY.

A gentleman from the southern part of the county tells us that the first campaign story appeared in his neighborhood on the nomination of Postmaster Castel for county clerk, viz:

"That Mr. Castel was already getting a salary of $1,500 as postmaster, but not content with that, solicited his friends to help him to the county clerkship and thus hold both offices and the salaries of both." In reply to the foregoing, we will state:

1st: That the salary of the post-office is not $1,500 but $800.

2nd: That he was nominated for the clerkship without his solicitation.

3d: That he knew he could not by law hold both offices at the same time.

4th: That immediately on receiving the nomination for county clerk, he was notified by the P. O. department that his resignation would be sent on the 31st day of this month, that being the last day of the present quarter.

THE CANDIDATES.

The harmonious action of the county convention last Saturday in selecting candidates for county offices has resulted, as it naturally would, in giving entire satisfaction to the members of the republican party. It was a convention of able men from all parts of the county, and they endeavored to perform the duties imposed on them with discretion and in careful obedience to the wishes of their constituents. So united were they all, that several prominent nominations were made vive voce and without a dissenting voice. It was so when providing for the offices of the county clerk, sheriff and treasurer. On the county judgeship there were four candidates, all good men, and the brief contest which ensued ended by cordial congratulations from the vanquished to the victor. As to the other offices there was but slight opposition. Such good feeling on all sides was and is a most reliable assurance of success at the polls.

Let us briefly mention the worthy gentlemen who were made the nominees:

L. F. WILLITS.

L. F. Willits, the nominee for the judgeship, has been one of the active business men of the county for many years, and has resided at Klamath Falls for the past seven years. He has already filled the office of county judge for one term, and it is safe to say that there can be no man in the county who is better fitted by education, experience and natural ability for the office than he. As chairman of the county court he has taken a prominent part in the past management of county affairs, and, as is well known, has in all official acts shown that care and economy that the necessities of the case required. In brief, he has been a safe and reliable business man, whose judicious assistance in the management of county business has greatly aided in the reduction of taxes and the decrease of county indebtedness. Hence, it is to be hoped that his safe and economical methods during the past four years will be continued during the four years to come.

A. CASTEL.

A Castel, the popular postmaster of Klamath Falls, is the candidate for county clerk. Mr. Castel located in this county about seventeen years ago, and since then has been one of our best and most trusted citizens. He has been county surveyor, deputy sheriff and has had other minor offices, in all which he gave entire satisfaction. In July, 1897, he was appointed postmaster, in which, as in all his other positions of trust, he has been justly popular, and honored for his ability, honesty and his unflinching attention to official duty. So courteous and popular a man was not likely to be forgotten, and so without solicitation on his part, his multitude of friends have now determined to make him clerk of the county, and his nomination will be welcomed with shouts of joy by an overwhelming and appreciative majority.

J. W. SIEMENS.

J. W. Siemens, the republican nominee for sheriff, is a native of Illinois, where he was born 40 years ago of German parents. He came to Klamath county in 1884 as a private in troop M, 2nd U. S. cavalry, and received an excellent discharge in 1886 while stationed at Fort Klamath. After his discharge he located at Klamath Falls where he has resided ever since. He is a gentleman of education, good habits, excellent moral character and deservedly popular with the citizens of the county. His straight and honorable character, and his sterling honesty, added to his energy and industry, are conclusive proofs that he will be one of the best sheriffs the county has ever had. He has already served Klamath county as treasurer, and without a flaw, and for the past eight years has been town treasurer. We will also mention that he has been recorder of Linkville lodge, No. 110, A. O. U. W., since 1889 continuously, and treasurer of the I. O. O. F. lodge for three terms. All these incidents of official life show the confidence and high esteem of the public. As a progressive and reliable citizen he is well known throughout the county, and his many friends will take pride and pleasure in his election.

H. H. VAN VALKENBURG.

H. H. Van Valkenburg was re-nominated for the office of county treasurer. His honesty is unquestioned and unquestionable, and his popularity and his strictness in the care of the county money are a strong sign that he will be again elected to the office he has heretofore honored. The only objection to him that can be offered is that this will be his third term, and the foolish notion that no man should hold an office but twice prevails with some. Yet on reflection this objection will be seen to be a very feeble one. The faithful manner in which he has attended to his duties is an unanswerable argument in favor of his re-election. "A public official who has been tried and not found wanting, is deserving well of the people he has faithfully served." This old maxim is especially applicable to the officer on whose honesty and vigilance the safety of the county money chiefly depends. Hence, when such a man is found, good business sense tells us to keep him and take no risks.

O. A. STEARNS.

O. A. Stearns, the candidate for county commissioner, is a prominent and prosperous farmer of Plevna precinct. He is one of the early settlers of the county, and has most acceptably served one term in the legislature. He is well informed and his long residence and thorough knowledge of the needs of Klamath county are qualifications which will greatly add to his usefulness in the office for which the convention selected him.

CHARLES DREW.

Charles Drew of Dairy precinct was nominated for assessor. He is a successful stockman and farmer, has a fine education, and as an assessor will have all the accuracy and carefulness that the most critical could desire.

A. C. LEWIS.

A. C. Lewis of this precinct, the nominee for county surveyor, is a well educated and accomplished practical surveyor, in whose competent hands the citizens of the county can safely place their business.

The foregoing brief notice of the republican candidates for county office is all that is needed at the present time. All citizens know them, and all will agree that a better or more popular list of names for the various positions, it would be hard to collect together on one ticket.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

HOTEL SAVOY, LOS ANGELES, CAL. March 22, 1902.

Editors REPUBLICAN: Since my last writing, I have been down in the celebrated San Jacinto valley, where the rain seldom falls. It is from 20 to 250 feet below sea level. It is very productive when irrigated. Irrigation is done mostly by artesian wells, by boring about 500 feet, or surface water can be found in plenty at a depth of from 6 to 35 feet, and pumped up with a gasoline engine. There is no timber nor grass on the mountains. Some small timber, somewhat like our juniper in the valley, which is about 125 miles long and from 10 to 25 miles wide. The land is not all good. The Southern Pacific R. R. Co. owns all the odd sections and they put the price up from $15 to $50 per acre. They cut 8 crops of alfalfa per year, which is now worth $15.00 per ton. The principal crop is cantaloup, or a species of small musk melon, which is very fine. It is shipped to Chicago and New York six weeks earlier than they can get them from any other part of the U. S., and for 10 cents a pound by the box or crate. One acre raises about $2,000 worth of melons. Grapes also do very well here. New towns are springing up along the R. R. It gets very warm in the summer. The Indians and Mexicans gather the melons from the 1st of June to October. Tomatoes bear two years from one planting. Some land, about 10 sections, has been thrown open to settlement. It belonged to the forest reserve, and I suppose there are probably 500 people who will try to get homesteads or desert claims on it. It will be ready for settlement the 1st of April.

People as a rule suffer more with cold here in Los Angeles than any place I was ever in. They seem to think it is warm enough without fire, so one goes to bed in a cold room, and eats, bathes and smokes in cold rooms. Some days the sun shines, then it is warm, but it has been cloudy and windy with considerable rain this winter and very cool nights, but business still goes on. Outside capital is dropped here every day to the tune of about $100,000, so parties say who are posted. This country advertises immensely, everything is advertised, and there is not a line that ever gets here from Oregon in the way of advertising that country. I could not find an Oregon paper in all Los Angeles, while I saw Oregon lumber, shingles, apples, potatoes, horses, mules and beef here and at Redlands. Still these towns are building more hotels and business houses all the time. There are over 500 hotels and eating houses in Los Angeles. Room rent is high as a rule. Board runs from $1.00 per day to $10.00 in hotels. It is very much cheaper at private houses and restaurants. More anon.

P. S. I will start home in a few days. Am getting awful homesick. RILEY.
