

BENEFICIAL LEGISLATION FOR OREGON.

(Oregonian.)

Commenting on the result of the session, Senator Mitchell said: "In the main I am greatly pleased, as I think the members of the delegation have been more than usually successful in accomplishing what they started in to do. Many measures of importance to Oregon have become laws. A fairly good Chinese restriction act, although not all that was desired generally by the people of the Pacific Coast; good appropriations for the various rivers and harbors; a good appropriation for the commencement of the construction of a canal and locks at Celilo, which last insures the opening of the Columbia and Snake rivers to free navigation above Lewiston, have been passed. The irrigation act is of great importance to the West generally, including Eastern Oregon and Idaho.

"The bill pensioning the old Indian war veterans is paramount to the interests of a long neglected class of early pioneers. Authority has been given to the treasury department looking to the settlement and payment to the State of Oregon of about $340,000 due on account of aid furnished by the state during the War of the Rebellion. Provision has been made by the senate for the settlement of a long-standing controversy between the Klamath Indian and the United States, and the bill will undoubtedly pass the House next session. Twenty-five thousand dollars is appropriated for the new brick dormitory for the Chemawa Indian school, and a great many private pension bills have been passed.

"The bill for a civil government of the Philippines is also a matter of vital importance. The Philippine bill also is of importance, but should be improved on. There is much more need in the interest of the Western Coast for reciprocity with the Philippines than with Cuba, although I am in favor of a fair treaty of reciprocity with Cuba that will do not merely with one product, but with many, and I am satisfied such a treaty will be negotiated, will command the support, perhaps of all republicans.

"There is one other measure I regret I was not able to make more progress with but the failure was caused by the absence almost all of the last month of the chairman and near two other members of the state committee on public lands. I say bill for the relief of the settlers in Sherman county within a wagon-road grant. Representative Moody's bill looking to their relief, which may, and I hope will bring relief to a portion of the settlers who have passed both houses and will come a law. This will only give relief, however, to those whom the wagon-road company is willing to release and take exchange, and legislation will not in any manner conflict with my bill to indemnify the settlers who have lost their property with a money indemnity. I intend to press it strongly at a next session, having obtained a favorable report from the Department of the Interior.

"And last, but not least, an irrigation canal has been provided for, which will result, if it is within financial and engineering possibilities, a in the construction of a canal on one or the other of the two routes—the Panama or the Nicaragua—which route will depend on the decision of the president as to whether a satisfactory Panama plant and property."

Representative Tongue said: "I am pleased beyond expression at the accomplishments of this session. The final enactment of the Indian war veteran bill, for which I have been working ever since I took my seat, is particularly gratifying. The creation of the Crater Lake National Park, another problem of long standing, was also accomplished after hard work. Oregon, I believe, fared as well in the river and harbor bill as any state in proportion to its population. The permanent improvement of the mouth of the Columbia, and more particularly the opening of the Upper Columbia, are matters for congratulation. Other matters of local interest, coupled with the passage of the irrigation bill, the isthmian canal bill and the Chinese exclusion act give our people much to be thankful for."

THE "DESERT" LANDS.

(Lakeview Examiner.)

The Post says that George Conn has a good stand of wheat on his "Oregon desert" ranch near Paisley. George Conn is one of the men who, by his perseverance, demonstrated that the so-called "desert" land of Southeastern Oregon is a misnomer. Dr. Withycombe, of the Oregon Agricultural College, who was in Lakeview last week, says that the name "desert" is a slander. He was surprised when he came over the "desert" country in the northern part of Lake county, and declares that the time is not far distant when these lands will be converted into prosperous farms. Dr. Withycombe informed an Examiner representative that nearly all the so-called desert land of Harney and Lake counties can and no doubt will be irrigated by the waters of the Des Chutes river.

ASHLAND CHAUTAUQUA.

Sunday's Oregonian contains the following account of the progress of the Ashland Chautauqua, now in session:

A greater interest and an increased attendance mark the progress of the meetings at the tabernacle of the Southern Oregon Chautauqua Association. The Rev. Robert McIntyre, D. D., of Chicago, in his lecture, "Buttoned-Up People," last night gave much satisfaction, and fulfilled all the promises that have been made regarding his matchless word-painting. The large auditorium was unable to comfortably hold all who went to hear him again this evening in his "Sunny Side of a Soldier's Life."

A new feature, "States day," was on the program this morning and afternoon. Some days in advance President Billings had announced that a banner would be given to the state with the largest representation, and friendly rivalry was keen among several of the more numerous representatives. Eastern states to rally at the headquarters, which were located in the Chautauqua grove, and where registration lists were opened. Tables were spread at noon by the representatives of each of the states, and a dinner to which over 500 persons sat down was served. At 2:30 o'clock an adjournment was had at the tabernacle, where the different states took part in a cleverly arranged literary and musical program. The Southern states, New England states, New York, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan and Missouri were represented by prominent speakers, and in songs and poems relating to them. At the conclusion the president appointed a committee to canvass the different state registrations and award the banner, which went to the State of Illinois, with a list of 122.

At tomorrow's religious services in the tabernacle the Rev. Robert McIntyre, D. D., will preach in the morning, and Miss Jessie Ackerman in the evening.

WEALTH IN CHICKENS.

A story showing what can be accomplished in raising chickens is told by L. W. Robbins of this city, who was formerly engaged in the grocery business but is now traveling for a San Francisco commission house, says the Stockton Mail.

"In the course of my travels through the northern part of the state," said he to a reporter, "I ran across a man who used to farm 1400 acres up in Yolo county. He was engaged there in raising wheat but went broke at the business. Being obliged by the force of circumstance to abandon wheat raising, he moved to another locality and settled down on five acres which was planted to alfalfa. When I met him he had 1200 full grown chickens and was making from $300 to $400 a month. He remarked that it seemed almost incredible that a person should go broke on 1400 acres and make good money off five acres, but declared that it was nevertheless true. He fed his chickens on alfalfa chopped up with a machine, boiled and mixed with millstuffs.

"I have been told by an Eastern man engaged in the chicken business, that with proper treatment it is possible to make hens lay almost the whole year around, and he declared he would want nothing better than a good chicken ranch with eggs selling at an average of 12½ cents a dozen."

Vacation Days.

Vacation time is here and the children are fairly living out of doors. There could be no healthier place for them. You need only to guard against the accidents incidental to most open air sports. No remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for quickly stopping pain or removing danger of serious consequences. For cuts, scalds and wounds. "I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for sore cuts and bruises," says L. B. Johnson, Swift, Tex. "It is the best remedy in the market." Sure cure for piles and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits.

Mother Always Keeps it Handy.

"My mother suffered a long time from distressing pains due primarily to indigestion," says L. W. Spalding, Verona, Mo. "Two years ago I got her to try Kodol. She grew better at once and now, at the age of seventy-six, eats any thing she wants, remarking that she fears no bad effects as she has her bottle of Kodol handy." Don't waste time doctoring symptoms. Go after the cause. If your stomach is sound your health will be good. Kodol rests the stomach and strengthens the body by digesting your food. It is nature's own tonic.

Poisoning the System.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dullness and melancholia at first, then unsightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. DeWitt's Little Early Risers prevent this trouble by stimulating the liver and promote easy, healthy action of the bowels. These little pills do not act violently but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress.

The Oregonian reports substantial progress in an enterprise, inaugurated some time ago, to build a railroad east from Coos Bay, the ultimate terminus being Salt Lake City. This line will pass through Klamath county and undoubtedly touch Klamath Falls. With this proposed line, and the Columbia Southern building down from the north and the Klamath Lake line building up from Laird's, we are sure of having plenty of railroad facilities in the not distant future.

The agricultural fair association has completed its organization and preparations are now going ahead for the initial fair which will probably be held here October 9, 10 and 11. Sufficient grounds have been secured from the ranch of W. A. Wright, adjoining town on the east, and a mile track and the necessary buildings for exhibits will soon materialize. The site selected is as level, accessible and generally desirable as could be found in the state. The nearby boiling hot springs will add an attraction. With the promise of aban-
