OREGON TIMBER.

"There is one thing I want to impress upon the people of Oregon," says the Hon. Thos. A. Tongue, "and that is for them to be careful not to throw away their timber lands. They are fast becoming of great value, and the day is not far distant when their owners will be as independent as the millionaires. That day will be when the lumbering men are knocking at their door, ready and willing to pay any price for this timber."

"Do you know that here in the Northwest are the virgin forests of the country; here is practically the only place in the United States where can be found timber untouched by the woodmen. Nearly every other section has been cut over, and now the crop is what might be called second growth."

"In Wisconsin they are paying $10 or $15 per thousand for stumpage. Do you know what that means here?
Why one-half that price is a fortune to the man who holds a 160 acre claim. If he has that claim 15 years hence, I honestly believe that he will not have to worry about his future life."

Now in these states that are called lumbering states the timber is small and we would not use it for firewood.
Some time ago while in the East I read an account of a lumber mill being burned and the newspapers laid great stress upon the destruction of a piece of lumber 27 inches broad and two inches thick. Trees yielding lumber over 18 inches broad had almost entirely disappeared. Now what do we in Oregon think of a thing of that kind. We can get scrub pine that will yield larger lumber than that. There is no use talking, I do not like to see our people throw away grand opportunities like this."

"Another thing, I think there is an unwarranted waste of lumber around the mill yards. Some day that lumber will be as valuable as the great timbers they are now turning out. I wish there could be something done to prevent this thoughtless waste."

FOR SALE: Fine cooking apples.

SUPPLEMENT.

VOL. 7.

KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1902.

RULES FOR PARK.

The secretary of the Interior has issued regulations for the management of the Crater Lake National Park, to become effective immediately. Saturday's Oregonian publishes the substance of them as follows:

The park will be placed in charge of a superintendent, yet to be appointed, who will, for the present, at least, be its only official. Under the regulations mineral locations may be made in a manner not detrimental to the park, but all prospecting is prohibited. Persons wishing to locate mineral claims must file with the superintendent of the park a description of the land desired to be located, together with evidence that they are qualified entymen. Before entering the park to make locations, they must obtain a permit from the Secretary of the Interior. Lands in the park upon which valuable deposits of mineral have been found may be located and worked under the mining laws by any person duly qualified and holding a permit.

These persons may use, for mining purposes, such timber and stone found upon the land located, as in the judgment of the superintendent may be used, without damage to the park. Within 30 days after the location of any mining claim, and before development work is commenced, satisfactory evidence must be filed with the superintendent showing that the discovery of a valuable mineral deposit has been made within the limit of the location, and if it be a placer location, that every ten-acre tract embraced therein has been found to contain valuable deposits of mineral. Locators will not be permitted to acquire title to mining claims within the park, and will forfeit all right upon breach of the regulations or when they do not appear to be acting in good faith, and may also be ejected from the park.

The herding or grazing of loose stock or the driving of such stock over the park is forbidden, except where authority is granted by the superintendent. Horses, cattle and other livestock running at large or being grazed within the park without authority will be impounded by the superintendent, and if not claimed by the owner within 30 days shall be sold at public auction. Funds so arising will be held for six months, subject to claim of the owner, who must pay all costs attending the impounding, and if not then called for, will go into the general park fund.

A number of customary prohibitions, such as the destruction of natural curiosities, cutting of timber, except for construction of places of entertainment and for mining purposes, the abandonment of fires, killing of game, fish, except by rod and line, selling of intoxicating liquors, posting of advertisements or general obnoxious behavior within the park are to be enforced. Permission to reside in the park must be obtained from the superintendent, who also has authority to appoint guides.

A Remarkable Record.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for over thirty years, during which time many millions of bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Chittwood & Co.

NOTICE OF ASSESSMENT.

The subscribers to the capital stock of the Klamath County Agricultural Association are hereby notified that the board of directors of said corporation at a regular meeting of said board held on Monday, August 25th, 1902, levied an assessment of four dollars and fifty cents per share on the capital stock of said corporation, due and payable to the secretary of the association on or before the 15th day of September, 1902.

Take Care of the Stomach.

The man or woman whose diges-tion's perfect and whose stomach performs its every function is never sick. Kodol cleanses, purifies and sweetens the stomach and cures possibly and permanently all stomach troubles, indigestion and dyspepsia.
It is the wonderful reconstructive tonic that makes so many sick people well and weak people strong by conveying to their bodies all the nourishment in the food they eat. Rev. J.
H. Holladay, of Holladay, Miss., writes: "Kodol has cured me. I consider it the best remedy I ever used for dyspepsia and stomach troubles.
I was given up by physicians. Kodol saved my life. Take it after meals."

Beware of the Knife.

No profession has advanced more rapidly of late than surgery, but it should not be used except where absolutely necessary. In cases of piles for example, it is seldom needed.
DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures quickly and permanently. Unequalled for cuts, burns, bruises, wounds, skin diseases. Accept no counterfeits. "I was so troubled with bleeding piles that I lost much blood and strength," says J. C. Phillips, Paris, Ill. "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me in a short time." See the heals.

COOK IN HEAT OF VOLCANOS.

New Zealanders Make Use of Subterranean Heat in a Singular Manner.

The Maoris of New Zealand cook their potatoes and other vegetables in volcanic heat. There are a few volcanoes in New Zealand, and some of the Maoris live up in the mountains near them. They make the volcanoes do several useful things for them, but the queerest is the cooking, says the Detroit Free Press. A few of the volcanoes have sort of periodic action. They heat up the ground in the fall and then lie idle the remainder of the year. Those volcanoes are of a quiet disposition and never break loose, but they heat the ground just enough to do the native cooking.
The plan of the Maoris is to dig a pit about five or six feet deep and bed it with straw. Then they put in their vegetables, filling up the pit quite full, and then cover it over with more straw and then a layer of earth. And then they go away and lie low. Then the volcano begins to heat up and gets in its fire work, and the potatoes and mangoes cook. The natives then stay there for a long time after the heat departs from the earth, take them out whenever they want them, and eat them. So the earth is at once a stove and a storehouse.

HOME-MADE PURE AIR.

Novel Idea for the Treatment of Family Afflicted with Pulmonary Complaints.

A Philadelphia inventor has introduced the genuine product, which is claimed to be beneficial for persons with lung or throat trouble. His object is to bring the healing pine woods to the patient when the patient cannot go to the woods. The apparatus acts on the principle of a heating furnace. Inside the furnace layers of pine wood are alternated with layers of a slow-burning material. When the fire is introduced and the furnace closed the mass smolders for weeks at a time. The vapors emanating from the burning pine are caught in a tank, cleansed thoroughly and the purified vapor is conducted through pipes to rooms all over the building. The vapor is said to have an invigorating effect on those who inhale it and seems to have all the qualities of the air from the pine forest. In purifying the vapor a liquid is obtained which is said to be very healing.

England Builds 1,200 Vessels.
The shipbuilding statistics of Great Britain for 1901 show that 1,233 vessels were launched in the United Kingdom, representing 1,797,675 tons and 1,476,818 horse-power, compared with 1,348 vessels, 1,660,709 tons, and 1,237,626 indicated horse-power in the year 1900. These launchings included 270 ships representing 857,690 tons, for foreign and colonial owners. The output of the Clyde shipyards for the last year was the largest on record.
For the first time it totaled over 500,000 of tonnage. The total launchings in the United Kingdom for home, foreign, and colonial service in 1901 shows an excess of 161 vessels and 260,922 tons over the figures for the previous year.
