Cancerous Sopes

are most frequently to be seen upon the face, neck or breast, though they are liable to appear upon other parts of the body. When they begin to spread and eat into the flesh, sharp, piercing pains are felt as the underlying tissue is destroyed and the tender nerves exposed.

"Ten years ago I had a sore on my left temple, which the doctors pronounced a cancerous ulcer; it would itch, burn and bleed, then scab over, and when never healed. After taking S.S.S. awhile the sore began to discharge, and when the poisonous matter had passed out it got well."

It is strictly a vegetable remedy, and, while possessing purifying and healing properties that no other medicine does, contains nothing that could derange the system. While cleansing the blood it also builds up the general health.

OPENS HOME FOR FRIENDLESS DOGS.

MRS. CHARLES A. WHITE.

"HOME for friendless dogs has been opened in Chicago under the general tutelage protection of Mrs. Charles A. White, a noted canine lover of the Windy City. It is Mrs. White's belief that large numbers of persons would give a good, faithful canine a home, if such a dog could be supplied to them at small cost.

And now that "friendless" canines are to be taken care of it is hoped that someone may have the additional charity to provide for friendless and homeless children. After all, if these dog lovers of Chicago come to think of it, children are not very inferior to dogs. The Master said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." It is not believed that there will be much inquiry about dogs on the last day.

SOUTH-SEA ENGLISH RAJAH.

Disaster to Sarawak Army Recalls Romance of the Kingdom. The overwhelming disaster that an unchecked spread of cholera has wrought in the army of the Rajah of Sarawak during his recent expedition against the savage head-hunters, within and in the vicinity of his domains in North Borneo, again draws attention to this wild kingdom of the South Seas.

The events that led to the establishing of an English monarch in Borneo were novel. In the early part of the nineteenth century, Sir James Brooke, an Englishman with a spirit of adventure, who had figured in many engagements of the Burmese war, set off on a roving tour among the islands of the Indian Archipelago. He visited Borneo and upon arrival there found the population, a mixture of pirates, Chinese and semi-savages, actively engaged in rebellion against the Sultan, Muda Hassim, who was making ineffectual attempts to subdue them.

Mr. Brooke lent his assistance, and after a series of terrible conflicts succeeded in crushing the insurrection. For this service he was created a Rajah and presented with a large portion of the kingdom, with Sarawak as the center. Rajah Brooke set vigorously to work reforming the people, and although obliged to contend with much opposition on the part of his subjects, finally accomplished his object to a fair degree.

The present Rajah, Sir Charles Brooke, a nephew of Sir James, joined his uncle about 1867 and, upon the death of the latter, assumed the sovereignty of Sarawak. Sir Charles received a college education in England and is now in his 74th year. His kingdom equals in extent the whole of Scotland and Wales. He has his own flag, his own army, numbering 500 highly-trained men, and recruited from the various tribes of natives under his rule. He also possesses a small but wholly adequate navy. Besides these he has many thousands of irregulars who may be called upon in emergencies, as in the case of the recent unlucky expedition.

THE NEW WOMAN.

Mrs. Emma Mitchell.

Mrs. Emma Mitchell, 520 Louisiana street, Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "For the past five years I have rarely been without pain, but Peruna has changed all this, and in a very short time, I think I had taken only two bottles before I began to recuperate very quickly, and seven bottles made me well. I do not have headache or backache any more, and have some interest in life."

The coming of what is known as the "new woman" in our country is not greeted by everyone as if she were a great blessing. But there is another new woman whom everybody is glad to see. Every day some invalid woman is exclaiming, "I have been made a new woman by Dr. Hartman's home treatment."

It is only necessary to send name, address, symptoms, duration of sickness and treatment already received to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, and directions for one month's treatment will be promptly forwarded.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

MISSOURI NOW LEADS.

Center of Apple Production Shifts Westward from Alleghenies. The center of Uncle Sam's apple bin has been shifted west of the Alleghenies, and the state that leads in the growing of the national fruit is Missouri. This is the burden of a paper read by Professor W. A. Taylor, pomologist in charge of field investigation in the United States department of agriculture before the national convention of apple shippers at Rochester, N. Y.

Professor Taylor completed his paper some time ago, but just before the time of reading it he received from the census department advance sheets of statistics bearing on the apple industry of the United States, compiled from statistics gathered for the Twelfth census, the matter being brought down to June, 1900.

According to these figures the total number of bearing trees in the United States is 210,000,000, an increase of 75,000,000, or more than 40 per cent over the apple area of 1890. The commercial area of 1900 yielded in 1890 somewhat more than 175,000,000 bushels of apples.

By districts, the north Atlantic apple section has 39,500,000 trees; the south Atlantic 25,500,000; the north central, 92,000,000; the south central, 31,000,000; and the Western district, including the Rocky mountain states and the Pacific slope, 13,000,000.

Out of the total number of trees in the country, the north and south central districts possess 23,205,000, or nearly three-fifths. These are divided among the leading states as follows: Missouri, 20,000,000; New York, 15,000,000; Illinois, 13,500,000; Kansas and Pennsylvania, a little less than 12,000,000 each.

Priceless Land in Texas. Judging from a recent report of a sale of oil lands at Beaumont, Texas, real estate in that lively and progressive commonwealth is rising to a marketable value. The report speaks of a parcel in the section named sold at a rate of $1,250,000 an acre. The same land could have been bought, it is said, before the strike of oil, for $10 an acre.

A New Attraction. A man who had been hired to write a circus announcement suddenly found himself at a loss for a fresh adjective. "See here," he said to his employer, "I don't know what to say about this panther. Have you got a thesaurus?"

The manager of the circus looked at him with suspicion. "No, sir, I have not," he said, "and I don't think I shall do anything about getting one this year. I never heard of Barnum having one, either, and he had a good show. Where are they raised anyway, I'd like to know?"

"No, sir, I have not," he said, "and I don't think I shall do anything about getting one this year. I never heard of Barnum having one, either, and he had a good show. Where are they raised anyway, I'd like to know?"

English as She's Motored.

It is little wonder that foreigners despair of learning to speak our language. One of the greatest difficulties is the way in which the same syllabic sounds have often very different meanings.

"You'll get run in," said the pedestrian to the automobilist without a light on his vehicle.

"You'll get run into," responded the automobilist, as he pushed the starting lever hard over, knocked the other down and ran up his spine.

"You'll get run in, too!" said the policeman, as he stepped from behind a tree and grabbed the reckless driver before he could get away.

Just then another scorcher came along, without his initials on his vehicle, so the policeman had to run in two.

No Compulsion. Landlord—Sorry, partner, that there ain't no bath room, but you see I am figurin' on puttin' one in next year, all right.

Tourist—I don't want to take a bath next year. Landlord—Well, of course we don't insist on your takin' one.

Definite Measurement. "Do you think the world is growing any better?" "I'm absolutely sure of it," answered the monopolist. "Whv, five years ago I made only $100,000 a year. Today I am making that much a month."

Not On Your Life. Smith—Would you advise me to take out a policy with this new insurance company? Brown—Not on your life, old man. Smith—Why not? Brown—They give nothing but accident policies.

Great Suggestion. Pat—An' phat d'yo think of them volcanoes? Tim—I dunno. Let's take a dhrup of the crater.

Some women tell me they pay more for the trimmings of their dresses than for the dresses themselves. Then we adopt a gown we will stick to that style and will stop the foolish practice of throwing away good clothes because they happen to be a little out of fashion.
