Chief Engineer Kinney, in the employ of the proposed railroad from Coos Bay, assures the Roseburg Review that the line will be built and that Roseburg will be the point of intersection with the Southern Pacific road.

The public schools at Sisson, Calif., have been closed on account of the prevalence there of ten cases of diphtheria. A strict quarantine is being enforced by five deputy constables and it is thought the disease is now under control.

A New York City woman en route to San Francisco created a stir at the railway station at Ashland last Friday by proclaiming her loss of $4,000 worth of diamonds while asleep in a Pullman car during the previous night.

The Medford ice plant is compelled to run night and day to supply the demand for its product. Since August 19 thirty-seven refrigerator cars have been furnished with ice from this plant, 7,000 pounds being required for each car.

A young man by the name of Hayes had the bones of his left arm dislocated and one of the bones broken by being knocked over by a horse in the Oklahoma country last Saturday. The injured man was set and dressed by Dr. Reames.

Ashland's city water supply is limited and residents are ordered to quit using it for irrigation after September 15. By absorbing more of Ashland creek, however, the town would have an ample supply for several times its present population.

Father Hickey, formerly in charge of the Catholic church at Ashland, lately of McMinnville, has been compelled to give up his work temporarily by the formation of cataracts on his eyes, for the treatment of which he has gone to Portland to remain an indefinite period.

The Mail reports that the government surveyors who are to locate the boundary lines of Crater Lake National Park, arrived in Medford on Tuesday of last week and had there secured helpers and provisions preparatory to going to the park and doing the work to hand.

Employees of the Midway Telephone company are now engaged in extending the line from this place to Merrill. After completing that work, they will return and run a line to Dairy and probably on east. Bonanza can secure connection by intersecting the main line.

Lakeview Examiner: Ivan D. Applegate, one of Klamath county's pioneer residents, and one of the most prosperous stockmen of that county, was a business visitor in Lakeview last Thursday. Mr. Applegate had a very large and high spirited horse and he rode as though he was yet a young man. He remarked as he started for his home, "yes, I am still a boy, but an old boy."

Tuesday Mr. Breitenstein started to bring to this office an immense branch heavily loaded with silver plums, as a sample of the fruit in his orchard. But while crossing the bridge a misstep joggled the branch and it broke and branch and plums went into the river, and the fine display of plums was lost.

At a dance at the McCully ranch in Lake county, on the 6th inst., a revolver was accidentally discharged, the ball striking Jim Guy in the stomach, with results that from last accounts were thought would prove fatal. Bert Mulkey had the revolver and Guy asked to see it. In handing it to him it discharged.

Three of the old-time Klamath Indian families are camped at the head of the river near here and are engaged in fishing, making baskets and picking and drying plums. They are among the survivors who can show marks of service in the Modoc war and to whom still cling primitive customs and superstitions.

The Godfrey Family, well known from former exhibitions at this place, has advertised to give a grand vaudeville entertainment under their own canvas at this place next Saturday evening. It is guaranteed to be one of the best shows on the road. A free high-wire exhibition will be given before the performance.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Klamath County Agricultural association Tuesday evening, it was decided to reduce the number of days of the coming races from four to three and make some changes in the program which was published last week. The program, as changed, appears elsewhere in this paper.

A letter from Edward Everett Young, formerly of the Baker City Republican, and who was here a couple of months the past summer, reports that he became the father of a fine 11-pound boy on the 24th ult. His Klamath Falls friends will join us in extending congratulations. Mr. Young and family are now at Hepner, Or.

J. D. Heryford, a wealthy Lake county cattleman, has been sued in the federal court at Portland for $70,000 by Beattie McCarty of Minnesota, who alleges damages of that amount for breach of promise. Miss McCarty taught school one term in the Thomas Creek district, Lake county, and during that time became acquainted with Heryford.

Last week L. M. Rhodes sold his ranch of 160 acres, one mile from town, to Louis Dennis. Mr. Rhodes sold his 360-acre ranch some time ago to Neil Sly. Having disposed of all his property in Klamath county, he expects to seek a location where there is a lower altitude for the benefit of his wife's health. The family left Tuesday for Ashland, and they are accompanied by the best of wishes from many Klamath county friends.

Roy Wright has caught four large salmon from the river at this place the past week. He pulled one out yesterday that weighed twenty-five pounds. Lots of them are in the river, he says. Salmon have not been this far up the Klamath before in ten or twelve years. We are told that dams in the lower waters have prevented the fish from running up, but are now enabled to do so by the aid of fish ladders constructed over the obstructions by order of the fish commission of California.

J. G. Pierce, who arrived Tuesday after a month's absence, informs us that the big timber sale, including the Hopkins tract, mentioned by the Ashland papers, has not been made as yet, though parties interested are working on it with prospect of closing the deal in the near future. The consummation of this deal will materially help all timber interests in the county and will stimulate growth and development along all lines. It will mean more capital, more sawmills and more people.

Medford Mail: On Tuesday of this week, about 6 o'clock in the morning, a couple of men from Tule Lake were passing W. W. Estes' place and saw some turkeys. The temptation to shoot was so great that they could not resist, and fired three shots at them, killing one. Mr. Estes had gone to one of the neighbors, and when he was notified of the fact, he started for Ashland and swore out a warrant for the arrest of the parties. Constable Long followed them to Soda Springs, where he arrested them. They plead guilty and were fined $12.50.

The atmosphere hereabouts has been heavy with smoke the past week, occasioned by forest fires. There are fires in the timber at different points along the Cascade range, the most destructive ones being those in the northwestern part of the state. Great damage has been done in Multnomah and neighboring counties. It is reported that there are fires along the headwaters of Rogue river and in the Huckleberry mountain country. In the vicinity of Dry lake timber was burning the first of the week and it was the only fire reported between here and Ashland.

Mr. D. P. Daugherty, well known throughout Mercer and Sumner counties, W. Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neighbor. He was almost hopelessly afflicted with diarrhoea: was attended by two physicians who gave him little, if any, relief, when a neighbor learning of his serious condition, brought him a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which cured him in less than twenty-four hours.
