Barnyard fowls that survive the annual holiday festivities, beginning next week and ending a month later, will be in luck and have good reason to return thanks.

Recently the Catholics of Ashland had a pleasant social gathering, with refreshments and a literary and musical program, in honor of their pastor, Father J. D. Murphy.

Mrs. Fayette Cannon of Lake county was thrown out of a buggy on Wednesday of last week and had her skull fractured. She was reported in a critical condition.

Revival meetings are being held in a tent at Medford. Additions to the religious fold are thus being gained and doubtless many backsliders are being warmed over.

Judge Geo. T. Baldwin, N. S. Merrill and J. F. Adams left Saturday morning for Portland where they went to represent this county at the meeting of the Oregon Irrigation Association.

In regard to the death of C. A. Fitch, who died at Lakeview from morphine poisoning, the coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that the drug was not taken with suicidal intent.

Mr. David J. Blackmore and Miss Hattie M. Eaton, both of Klamath county, were united in marriage at Medford on Wednesday of last week. The newly wedded couple will reside at Henny, Calif.

One night last week a couple of coyotes visited Grants Pass and entertained themselves by chasing some cows up and down the streets. Their gawky was cut short when a man appeared with a shotgun.

The Oregon Irrigation association was booked to meet in Portland on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Klamath county is ably represented at the meeting and we hope much good to our future irrigation interests will result.

The police force of Ashland has been increased in order to make greater headway in ferreting out violators of the local liquor and gambling ordinances. The latter ordinance is to be amended to increase the penalty for its violation.

The Ashland Town Talk reports that Game Warden Quimby offers a reward of $50 to any one who will give him information leading to the arrest and conviction of hunters who violate the game law in killing more than fifty ducks per day to the man.

S. A. Loomis who moved from Tillamook to Ashland about a month ago, was fatally injured by falling over a precipice with a wagon and team, the result of trying to avoid a passing train. He was accompanied by his little son who escaped injury.

Rogue river valley towns are annoyed by an excess of tramps who are passing down the railroad in swarms these days, being on their way south to spend the winter. One of the very few advantages of being located off of a railroad is freedom from tramps.

Chas. Crew of Hopnalm, Wash., who was on his way home from Bly where he had located a timber claim, where he had located a timber claim, suffered a compound fracture of the right arm while stopping at Keno last Thursday. His horse kicked him a violent blow on the arm. Dr. Reames was called.

In the case of R. C. Anderson vs. J. F. Adams, tried in the circuit court last week, the jury gave the plaintiff a judgment for $901. On convening of court Monday morning, Jim Smith, who was convicted of larceny from a dwelling, was sentenced by Judge Benson to three years in the penitentiary.

L. A. Crons who was at Fort Klamath, returned to his home at Ashland recently suffering from the effects of an accident caused by the explosion of a shell, with which he was testing a new Winchester rifle. It is feared that he may lose his eye sight, and he will be removed to a Portland hospital for treatment.

The Lakeview Examiner reports that Geo. S. Nickerson, formerly of Klamath Falls, has received a surveyor's transit costing $250. That paper adds that "Mr. Nickerson will get the correct time from the sun. This will be an innovation that has long been needed in Lakeview as no two people have the same time."

Ashland Record: Whether or not Mr. Pelton of Portland and his associates on the interests of John H. Cook & Sons at Klamath and in the Jenny creek district, is not yet fully given out. At any rate they have men out yet cruising the timber lands and it is not likely that anything will be done until the insurance on the big sawmill destroyed by fire is settled.

R. W. Marple, who arrived Saturday from Ager, reports that between 700 and 800 men now constitute the Klamath Lake railroad. Mr. Marple has been led to believe that this line proposes to build to Klamath Falls and then turn north, following the eastern side of the lake, and either connect with the Columbia Southern or parallel that road and thus reach the O. R. & N.

Lakeview Examiner: Mr. Yaden is making some welcome improvements on the Western stage line and will prove a decided convenience and comfort to the traveling public. As it is always necessary to run buckboards over the mountains in the winter on account of the snow and mud, travelers are always exposed to the weather. Buckboards with tops on are the latest improvements, and foot warmers are to be carried during the winter.

Constable W. H. Musselman arrived from Fort Klamath Saturday evening, having in custody Wm. Barclay, a half-breed, who was given into the hands of the sheriff to lay out, in the county jail, a fine of $60. Last Thursday Barclay and another half-breed by the name of Donald McKay pounded Fred Larson and otherwise disturbed the peace of Ft. Klamath. They were arrested and taken before Justice Emery who fined them $60 apiece. McKay paid his fine, but Barclay preferred to go to jail.

The Medford Mail reports that a petition is being circulated for the release of James F. Bogart from the penitentiary, whither he was sent under the name of Preston about a year ago for holding up J. L. Yaden, proprietor at that time of the Ashland-Klamath Falls stage line. The young man's father is circulating the petition for a pardon, which is urged on the ground that Preston had but a short time before been released from a California insane asylum and was mentally deranged when he committed the crime.

Ashland Record: Hon. E. V. Carter, Dr. Burnett, W. G. Kropke and John Churchman, who left Ashland Saturday on a duck hunt in the vicinity of Big Springs, Siskiyou county, Cal., had a narrow escape from drowning in Shasta river and an experience that they will have reason to remember evermore. They undertook to cross that stream, which was swollen by the recent rains, in a wagon, and were thrown into the water, which was about ten feet deep. They regained the shore with considerable difficulty but lost their guns, ammunition, etc.

J. A. McDonald of Klamath who killed Ed Loucks and Henry Hoover near Fall creek, July 21 last, was tried in the superior court at Yreka last week on one charge—that of killing Loucks—and was convicted of manslaughter. His trial for killing Hoover follows. McDonald, who has the reputation of being a hard character, was the proprietor of a saloon at Klat, stion and also kept a resort near the camp of the men employed on the Klamath railroad. At this latter place the tragedy was enacted, the two murdered men having been employed on the railroad. Hoover and a companion got into McDonald's buggy and started toward Klamath when McDonald pulled out his gun and killed him. Later Loucks overtook McDonald on the road and advised him to surrender which he said he would do. Whereupon Loucks placed McDonald under arrest, which so enraged the saloon keeper that he shot Loucks.

Francis J. Bowne, who came to the Coast about a year ago from Pipestone, Minn., and to this place last April, seeking investments in real estate, has been working on a deal here for some time and has just concluded it, being the purchase of a number of ranches along Lost river, aggregating, with a few other tracts in prospect, 2400 acres. He has bought 320 acres of T. B. Kinsman, 480 acres of D. E. Driscoll, 200 acres of John and Dave Shook, 160 acres of Mrs. Mary Sutton, 160 of A. T. Langell, 160 acres of R. F. Condit, 160 acres of E. C. Beuel and 150 acres of E. S. Terwilliger. All the land purchased lies in a body, including the original townsite of Bonanza and extending down Lost river to within half a mile of what is known as the Upper Gap. The source of the river, with its multitude of springs, is on the Terwilliger land, and the irrigating project, inaugurated by Messrs. Shook and Terwilliger a few years ago, will be developed by Mr. Bowne, and in that way he will be able to water 1000 acres. He expects to irrigate 1000 acres more from the system instituted by A. D. Harpold. Fully 2000 acres are capable of irrigation and will be made to produce large crops of alfalfa. Mr. Bowne proposes to colonize the land as soon as practicable. This is a profitable for Mr. Bowne and beneficial in developing greater productivity in an important section of the county.

The force employed by the Midway Telephone Co. completed its line to Bonanza last Saturday and returned to this place. Four phones were located in Bonanza and two at intermediate points—at the ranches of mediate pon—and the Olene Live Chas. Horton Co. on account of inclement weather, the building of the proposed line to Dairy, via Shook Bros' ranch, will probably be delayed until next spring. There are nine phones in operation between here and Merrill. About two more works of work will finish the company's extensions in this county this year, the uncertainty of the weather making it advisable to suspend further operations until spring, when O. B. Gates, general superintendent, expects to return here accompanied by his family. During the next two weeks a line will be extended seven miles south of Merrill and some improvements will be made at this place and vicinity, among the latter of which will be the running of a wire that will include the ranches between here and Lost river in the Klamath Falls circuit. The telephone system, put under construction by the Midway Co. last spring, and on which the work of extension has been steadily in progress since then, has placed different sections of the county in communicable touch with each other and enabled easier, quicker, cheaper and, in fact, more satisfactory communication with the outside world. When the system is extended next year, it is hoped Klamath Agency, Fort Klamath, Bly and other points will secure connections. Thus, in time, all parts of the county will be knit together with telephone lines, thereby facilitating business and enhancing the pleasure of life.

W. E. Arant, superintendent of Crater Lake National Park, and wife and son, Jay, and Surveyor E. E. Henry, Geo. Hofras, Wendell Probstel and J. Louis Condon returned last week from the park where they spent two weeks locating a new road by which to reach the lake from the main road. They have found an ascent so gradual that much of the hardship hitherto experienced in making the trip will be eliminated. The proposed road will branch off at the head of Annie Creek canyon, five miles from the lake, and will approach the lake immediately west of Castle Crag, terminating at Victor Rock. There will be a slight grade to within three-fourths of a mile of the lake. Of that distance one-quarter of a mile will have a ten per cent grade. Most of the new road will be comparatively level, so nearly so, in fact, that horses can easily trot over a great deal of it. Being on the south side of the mountain, where less snow falls, the season during which Crater Lake will be accessible will be six weeks longer than formerly. Also along the route are exceptionally fine camping grounds, with attractive scenery and an abundance of timber and grass and excellent water. Mr. Arant says work on the proposed road will begin as soon as the weather will permit next spring. Speaking of the prospects, he says parties are figuring on putting a steam launch, that will accommodate twenty-five passengers, on Crater Lake next summer. He says there is also a likelihood that a hotel and feed stable will be built near the lake and a large new hotel at Fort Klamath. Already Mr. Arant is receiving numerous inquiries from outside people who are planning to visit the great natural wonder next year. There were two feet of snow on the rim of the lake when the party left there last week.

Chas. McCumber who has been in the Silver Lake section of Lake county for several months, has returned to his home at Dairy.

Walter Brown and wife and Miss Etta Smart departed yesterday morning via Ager for Missouri, where they will spend the winter.

Edwin S. Crocker, Coral L. Faulkner and Annie E. Crocker of Portland, Emma T. Gray, Chas. M. Willey and Chas. S. Orreut of Lewiston, Idaho, were here last Saturday to make proof on timber claims.

Ashland Tidings: Hon. E. D. Briggs, F. W. Sheffield and G. E. Ingersoll returned Monday night from the Bridal Veil Lumber Co. on Klamath lake. They were quite successful and brought home plenty of evidence of their prowess.

Paisley Post: Jim Welch and Frank Farrow started for Klamath marsh yesterday with a band of cattle to be delivered to J. R. Horning for feeding through the winter. Part of the cattle belong to Welch and part to John Kelley of Sumner Lake.

TRIAL OF BETSY POPOMPKUS. The trial of Betsy Popompkus, an Indian woman, charged with the murder of her mother, Dr. Hannah, was commenced in the circuit court at this place Monday morning. District Attorney Reames and Deputy District Attorney Rutenic prosecuting the action and Attorneys Drake & Walling and Leavitt & Mills appearing for the defendant.

Dr. Hannah disappeared June 25th and her dead body was found in Lost river, near Bonanza, about the middle of July. As a result, Betsy Popompkus, who had been seen in the vicinity of Bonanza with her mother, was arrested and charged with killing her.

Monday, Tuesday and yesterday forenoon were devoted to securing a jury to decide the case. Jas. Malone, M. E. Hutchison, E. J. Phillips, B. W. Short, J. T. Patterson, John Wells, E. N. Colson, Geo. Ritter, J. P. Calahan, Willis Webber, Al. Fitch and Thos. Culbertson.

After the submission to the jury, by Attorney Reames for the prosecution and Attorney Mills for the defense, the work of taking testimony was commenced. There are numerous witnesses for each side and the remainder of this week may be required to complete the trial.

Betsy's husband, David Popompkus, is also charged with the killing of Dr. Hannah and is awaiting trial.
