CONGRESSMAN MEEKISON, OF OHIO.

Hon. David Meekison is well known, not only in his own state, but through out America. He began his political career by serving four consecutive terms as Mayor of the town in which he lives, during which time he became widely known as the founder of the Meekison Bank, of Napoleon, Ohio. He was elected to the Fifty-fifth congress by a very large miajority, and is the acknewledged leader of his party in his section of the state.

Only one flaw marred the otherwise complete success of this rising statesman. Catarrh with its insidious approach and tenacious grasp, was his only Miss Oldun-I don't suppose you unconquered foe. Matrimonial agents in France are jubilant. The law which up to the present has dealt somewhat severely with them and refused to consider as binding contracts made by them is apparently beginning to take up another attitude. At any rate, this was the case recently when the Chambre des Requetes had to consider an action from Toulouse. Some time back a solicitor living in the neighborhood of that town, engaged the services of a local matrimonial agent, who, in due course found a suitable wife for his client. The marriage took place and the agent applied for his commission, but the solicitor did not appear inclined to pay the sum agreed upon. He first declared that the amount was out of proportion with the services rendered, and subsequently refused to pay anything whatever, says the Paris Messenger. The parties then went to law, and the local civil court dismissed the agents' claim on questions of fact. He appealed, and the Appeal Court also decided against him, holding that "money payments for matrimonial negotiations were immoral and illegal." The plaintiff next appealed on a point of law to the Chambre des Requetes, which decided in his favor and ordered a fresh trial of the action by the Civil Court. A passage in the speech made by the Advocate General is well wonth quoting. After showing that marriage had always been considered as the basis of society, he said: "How can the fact of facilitating a them. marriage, of placing two families in relationship, of procuring a companion for the man who wishes to create a family be declared a priori, ipso facto, an act contrary to morals, to law and to public order? The contrary is the case. A priori and on principle, it is a meritorious action, and it cannot be considered too favorably. Must the nature of this meritorious and moral action be changed because the intermediary has not been a disinterested person? By no means. A disinterested intermediary may commit a detestable action, while an interested one may commit an excellent one. Every-

The title of "doctor" was invented in the twelfth century and conferred for the first time upon Inerius of the university of Bologna, states the Metaphysical Magazine. The first "doctor of medicine" was Gulielmo Gordenio, who received the honor from the college of Aosti, also in Italy, in 1229.

In a recent lecture at Gresham College, Dr. Symes Thompson, in speaking of the effects of climate, remarked that it had become necessary to sublet English government work in Egypt because it was found that the natives would only work when chastised, and it was a rule that a British officer must not strike a native. FOR THE COMPLEXION

Phoenix, Ariz., the center of Salt River valley, was a few years ago a sagebrush desert. It has now twentyfive thousand inhabitants, with an assessed property valuation of $10,000,-000. All this is due to water, which, brought in canals from streams fed mainly from San Francisco and other Arizona reserves, has turned the desert into a fertile valley, covered with ranches and dotted with small towns.

The Most Valuable Book.

The most valuable work in existence is said to be a copy of the Koran now treasured in the Mohammedan city of Isonan-Ruza, Persia. The covers, nine and one-half inches by four inches, are of solid gold an eighth of an inch thick, while precious stones set in symbolic designs figure in the center and at each of the corners. The book is written upon parchment, and this part of the work is valued at $125,000.
