...regulating the future school land and putting an to lieu land selections by private enterprise passed the legislature.
The Oregonian's report on the bill says: The act also prohibits the sale of any lieu land until the state's title thereto has been finally approved.
Lands hereafter surveyed are to be sold to the highest bidder, the minimum price being not less than $2.50 an acre. This act will probably create a temporary activity in the purchase of school lands, for it will not go into effect for 90 days, and people have that length of time in which to purchase at the old price.
After this act goes into effect, school sections already surveyed will be sold at $2.50 an acre and lieu lands at $5.
At the new prices the sale of land will be less rapid than at the present prices, but as the school fund is now greater than the State Land Board has been able to loan, there will be no loss on account of the decrease in sales. In a few years the actual value of the land will have increased so that it will sell at the new prices.

Last Saturday Governor Chamberlain signed the bill repealing the coyote scalp bounty law.
The California legislature will make an appropriation of $40,000 for an exhibit at the Lewis and Clark fair.
When U. S. senators are elected by direct vote of the people, legislators will have more time and thought to devote to revising and making laws.

Oregon and Washington legislatures have passed resolutions firmly endorsing President Roosevelt's stand against trusts and urging congress to pass laws in line with his policy to restrict them.
Representative Emmitt made an effort to have the fish law amended, so that people in Klamath county could catch trout during winter when they are best to eat, but the matter was crowded out of consideration in the rush of winding up the business of the session. The law remains the same as it has been.

Senator Mitchell and Representative Moody were interviewed in Washington regarding the outcome of the Oregon senatorial contest and bestowed high encomiums on the ability and character of Hon. Chas. W. Fulton, senator-elect. Senator Simon was also interviewed, but he had nothing to say.
Those who witnessed the workings of the late legislature report that Representative Emmitt was one of the leaders in that body and was so recognized by his fellow-members. He was prominent as a member of committees, as well as on the floor of the house, and performed his duties ably and conscientiously.

It requires no less a person than the hero of San Juan Hill to successfully combat with Rockefeller and his associates.
This judicial district, comprising the counties of Josephine, Jackson, Klamath and Lake, will soon have two district attorneys as well as two judges, if the bill, making such provision, and which was introduced in the legislature by Representative Emmitt, is approved by the governor. The bill provides that A. E. Reames, present prosecuting attorney for the

TENDENCY OF THE TIMES.
The tendency of medical science is toward preventative measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, can be prevented by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza (grip), and it has been observed that this remedy counteracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used during the great prevalence of colds and grip in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Pneumonia often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended until it is suddenly discovered that there is fever and difficulty in breathing and pains in the chest, then it is announced that the patient has pneumonia. Be on the safe side and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted. It always cures. For sale by Chitwood & Co.

FULTON FOR SENATOR.
At the close of the Oregon legislature, at midnight, Friday night, Hon. Charles W. Fulton of Astoria was elected United States senator to succeed Senator Simon. The opposition to Fulton stubbornly fought his election until the last, and the Multnomah delegation only fell into line for him when in the closing moments, it became apparent that either he would win or that Oregon would have but one representative in the U. S. senate during the next two years. Mr. Fulton was elected on the 18th ballot of the evening. The contest was long drawn out, but, to the credit of the state, was free from bitter animosities, all opponents uniting with his supporters in congratulating the victor.

Mr. Fulton has a high reputation for ability and integrity and there is reason to believe that he will exert a potent influence for Oregon in the United States senate.
Hon. H. W. Scott, the distinguished editor of the Oregonian, was brought forth with liberal support in the closing hours of the contest. He was not a candidate, and the effort in his behalf was very complimentary and a proper recognition of the excellent merits of the man.
Mr. Fulton was born in Lima, Ohio, August 24, 1853. He came to Portland in 1875. After teaching a term of school, he located in Astoria and began the practice of law, for which he had prepared himself before moving West. He has represented Clatsop county several terms in the state senate and his popularity as a leader has grown wherever he is known.
