REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For Congressman—1st District.
HON. BINGER HERMANN, of Douglas County.

Special Election June 1, 1903

The arguments brought forth by Mr. Reames in his many "confidential" letters to both Republicans and Democrats are rather inconsistent to say the least. In one of his letters he states that the Republicans who desire to support him say they can do so without sacrificing principle. We can readily believe that, for if there are any such who so desire it can only be accounted for by lack of principle therefore we cannot see where it would be possible for them to make any sacrifice. In another he says "I am well acquainted with the needs of the state." Well, we are willing to admit that, but what does that signify. We only have his word for it and besides if that was the only qualification necessary we might as well give a seat in Congress.

Again he says "I am really in a position to do more for the state than would Mr. Hermann be under present circumstances." We conclude from that, that under the circumstances he is willing to admit that Mr. Hermann is his superior. Really, Binger ought to be flattered by this admission.

Now listen to this reason why he should be elected; he says that it would not do any harm as his election would not effect the house anyway. Of all the silly arguments set forth this certainly is the most absurd. Does Mr. Reames think that the first district wants to send a dummy to Congress, a man who himself practically admits, that in a house already largely Republican, he could not do anything as a Democrat. If he cannot do anything, rather than elect him it would be better to leave the office vacant and save the money, or is Mr. Reames in his letters to Republicans hinting that he is willing to support the administration if they will vote for him. He assures them that any good they can do in a quiet way will be appreciated. Yes, all the good the Republicans will do him will be so quiet that Mr. Reames will think he is at a funeral.

This is what he tells the Republicans CONFIDENTIALLY, but for the Democrats he has another story. He says "This is the first time for years we have had an opportunity for an election of Congressman." We hardly understand what he means by "opportunity." We always supposed that both parties had the same opportunity at every election. But if Mr. Reames means that this is their first chance to elect a congressman, we will be compelled to contradict him. We cannot see any reason why he should entertain any such idea. Further, he says that his election will depend ENTIRELY upon being able to get out the democratic vote. Wonder why he has written hundreds of letters to Republicans begging their support. Besides he claims that he already has the entire support of every Democrat and also that a great many Republicans have told him they would support him. We always like to believe a man and are willing to accept proof before we accuse him of prevarication, so we ask Mr. Reames to give us the name of one Republican who told him that he would support the Democratic party by voting for their nominee for Congress.

DANGER AHEAD.

A sense of impending danger quickens our every faculty, if one traveling by a rapidly moving railroad train should look out of the car window and observe the words of warning which heads this article, how quickly we would note any change in the conduct of those having the train in charge; how closely watch for the slightest slackening of speed and how rapidly our anxiety increase until we ascertain the cause and its probable results to us in our individual capacity. Yet if the trainmen or the boat crew are at their posts with skill and experience to aid them in the discharge of their duties we have slight apprehension of the result. How different if the crew be either asleep or in any other manner incapacitated! I desire to call attention of the voters in the First Congressional District of Oregon to the fact of impending danger. Greater, more direful and far reaching than a score of railroad disasters, viz: POLITICAL APATHY. Why so? Because it menaces the very foundation principal of our system of government. The people we choose at elections are the people's servant in a very pathetic sense, hence to the voter is intrusted the responsibility for the oversight of the State.

A hundred years ago it was a new thing in America for the people to be sovereign, and this novelty was such a stimulus that it was, that they would, of course, take eagerly to the duties which it involved. Yet John Adams, while serving in the Continental congress made the discovery that the great body of the people did not take a great deal of interest in their own public affairs. This torpor has increased, seemingly out of proportion to our growth in population. Every working politician in America can repeat anecdote of the indifference of a considerable body of the citizens to the charge, which affects each and all.

The congressional election to be held June 1st is one of most vital importance and should call out every voter in this district. The fact that our country at large is prosperous and business in our immediate locality in a healthy condition is the highest reason why we should give an unmistakable endorsement to our present Republican administration. It is not so long ago since we had an object lesson. 1892 was the most prosperous year we have had since the civil war, but what a change the following year. History repeats itself like, causes produce similar effects. Therefore, fellow citizens, let each of us do his full duty as a citizen and not only cast a vote ourselves, in favor of progress and prosperity but see that our neighbor does likewise keeping in mind the maxim "That if every man converts one man the whole world will become Christianized." A REPUBLICAN.

DISCOVERER OF CRATER LAKE.

SALEM, May 9.—R. J. Clark, president of the First National Bank of Lawson, Mo., is in Salem today for the first time in 40 years. Mr. Clark was a resident of Southern Oregon in the early 60's and was a member of the party which discovered Crater Lake. The party was led by Captain F. B. Sprague and consisted of about 25 men. The purpose of the expedition was to discover a pass for a wagon road through the Cascades.

Captain Sprague and Lieutenant O. A. Stearns were one day walking a little apart from the rest of the company, when they suddenly came into full view of a lake which spread out 2000 feet below them with a glistening surface two miles by five in area. The lake was named Lake Majesty, as an expression of the feelings which were inspired in the discoverers by the unsurpassed grandeur of the scene. Mr. Clark thinks that although the new name may be more descriptive of the geological origin of the lake, the former name was more fitting as an indication of the scenic beauty which a visitor to that region enjoys.

Mr. Clark was well acquainted with the Applegate and other pioneer residents of Southern Oregon, and if possible he will visit that portion of the state before he returns East. He left Southern Oregon in the days when the stage was the only means of transportation. He is in Oregon for the purpose of settling up the estate of the late R. H. Finch who was a wealthy resident of Missouri, and died, leaving considerable property in Marion County.

MARIE WARE IN PORTLAND.

Miss Marie Ware, of Eugene, the fair young woman over whom hang charges in connection with her conduct of the office of United States Commissioner, arrived in the city yesterday morning and took rooms at the Imperial. When an Oregonian reporter called upon her, she positively refused to say anything about her case or about her movements since she left Eugene some weeks ago.

Miss Ware spent much of the day in company with H. G. McKinley, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the charges against her. She took lunch with him, and he was with her when The Oregonian man called. It is understood that Miss Ware has taken the advice of a lawyer in regard to her defense against any charges that may be preferred, and her silence seems to be due to his advice. She declared that she had been misquoted by the evening papers, and explicitly denied the statement that she had said she was going to lunch with Judge Bellingher.—Oregonian.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Patten Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cured me.'" For sale by Chitwood & Co.

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. For sale by Chitwood & Co.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law, in Greenville, S. C., has been troubled for four or five years by a continuous cough which he says "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by Chitwood & Co.
