REPUBLICAN TICKET.
For Congressman-1st District.
HON. BINGER HERMANN, of Douglas County.
Special Election June 1, 1903

We urge every Republican in this district to be at the polls at the coming election. Do not deceive yourself with the belief that the surety of Hermann's election is any reason why you should stay at home. Do not think that because this is not a general election, that it is any the less important, rather, this coming election is of the greatest importance. We, as a party cannot afford to have this district go Republican by a reduced majority. This election is attracting national attention and if we fail to elect Hermann by an overwhelming majority, it would be construed by both Democrats and Republicans as a rebuke to the administration. Remember that every vote for Hermann is an endorsement of President Roosevelt. The democracy all over the nation backed by the trusts and combines are working for the defeat of Roosevelt for re-election.

SOLAR PLEXUS BLOW TO FALSE CHARGES.

President Theodore Roosevelt Endorses Binger Hermann.

The Hon. Binger Hermann joined the Presidential party at Salem Thursday, May 21, and accompanied President Roosevelt to Portland in response to the following invitation:

"To Hon. Binger Hermann, McMinnville, Or:
The President will be pleased to have you join his train at Salem and ride with him to Portland.
Wm. Loeb, Jr., Secretary to the President."

This invitation ought to finally and forever set at rest the malicious stories of his enemies that Mr. Hermann and President Roosevelt are at odds, and bears out the expression in the matter heretofore made by the President, as follows: "There is not one word of truth in the rumor that I am opposed to Mr. Hermann's election; but, on the contrary, I heartily and earnestly desire his election. I hope that every voter who believes in the principles of the party and wishes well for the Administration will cast his vote for Mr. Hermann. The rumored quarrel between Mr. Hermann and myself is without foundation. Our relations are, and always have been, cordial."

In the speeches of the Democratic nominee he makes his objections to the Republican nominee chiefly as follows:

First. That he is not in harmony with the administration, because of his differences with the Secretary of the Interior, followed by his resignation; and Secondly. That thirty years ago he retired from the Roseburg Land Office because of objections made to his entry of lands in the face of the law which prohibits such purchases.

The reply to these assaults is as follows:
First. Mr. Hermann's differences with the Secretary of the Interior arose solely and only as to policies and details affecting the administration of the land laws. No intimation has ever been made by the Secretary affecting Mr. Hermann's integrity or personal conduct. The two officials could not agree on the proper administration of the law—the one official having one view and the other official a different theory and policy; but the difference never extended to the President or any one else connected with the administration.

The Western Senators and Representatives unite in giving Mr. Hermann credit for making one of the most satisfactory administrations of the General Land Office, and no higher evidence of this exists than the word of Secretary Bliss, under whom Mr. Hermann served. The records also show that, of all the Commissioners for nearly one hundred years of the General Land Office, only two Commissioners served longer than Mr. Hermann.

The President took no part in the differences between Secretary Hitchcock and Mr. Hermann, and the relations between the President and him have always been cordial. The President is now out in a public statement, in which he refers to his cordial feelings for Mr. Hermann, and expresses his earnest desire for his election. Had Mr. Hermann not proved an efficient and competent official, no one who knows President Roosevelt, would for a moment believe he would so highly endorse Mr. Hermann as he now does.

Secondly. As a reply to the further absurd and absolutely false statement as to Mr. Hermann's retirement from the Roseburg Land Office thirty years ago, it is a fact that all friends of Senator Corbett, then in office (of whom Mr. Hermann was one) went out on the election of Mr. Corbett's successor. Collectors of Customs, Internal Revenue officials, land officers and some postmasters who were active in retaining Senator Corbett, were promptly retired on his defeat, and their places were promptly filled by the friends of the successful candidate. No charge was ever made reflecting on Mr. Hermann's discharge of his duties.

They realize only too well that his nomination means his election and a reduced Republican vote will be used as an argument to show that Roosevelt is in disfavor in this district. Let every Republican be at the polls next Monday and cast a vote for the man who has always worked for the people of the state of Oregon and thus assure the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for President.

IS REAMES GUILTY?

(Contributed.)
Is it a fact that the late district attorney for the First Judicial District had a toy gun up his sleeve, or is it just democratic campaign thunder?

Since the nominations of Binger Hermann and A. E. Reames for Congress in this district the democratic newspapers have published considerable "stuff" tending to reflect upon the administration of the General Land Office by the Hon. Binger Hermann, an appointee of the Hon. Wm. McKinley, deceased, and also to the effect that Hermann was not in harmony with the present administration. Since the latter bubble has been exploded by a personal interview with President Roosevelt and the remaining charge tends to reflect upon many, it seems a proper resentment may consistently be made.
It is probably useless to say that every intelligent person knows that a patent from the United States for land can not be acquired unless upon the personal signature of the President of the United States and the endorsement of the Secretary of the Interior. Now can any one explain how lands can be acquired wrongfully from the United States without false affidavits and perjured testimony unless it be in cases where there is an appeal from the Commissioner to the General Land Office to the Secretary of the Interior, and I know of no important case where the Secretary has reversed Hermann, except the case in Lake county where the Hon. Secretary took a large tract of land from the homesteaders and gave it to a corporation.

If false affidavits have been made and perjury has repeatedly been committed in Jackson, Josephine, Lake and Klamath counties and lands have been acquired by those means then, why is it that Mr. Reames, the democratic candidate for Congress and district attorney of this Judicial District, sworn to enforce the laws of this state and of the United States, did not prosecute such cases and send the wrongdoers if any there be to the penitentiary long before their affidavits and filings had time to pass the local land office or the general land office in Washington or before the Secretary of the Interior recommended patents to issue thereon?
If Reames answers that no one made any complaint to him then he simply casts the blame on the voters of the counties, or should he contend that it was the business of the United States District Attorney at Portland to look after those class of cases, then he simply lays the blame on other broad shoulders and again if he maintains that it was a matter which the General Land Department of the United States should attend to, then we say he, as a paid officer of the State of Oregon whose sworn duty was to punish criminals, might of at least made complaint to the United States District Attorney at Portland, be stolen but these charges fall due upon issue joined for all the machinery of the land department has been at work in every portion of the state and not a single case of fraud is found. Then this doughty politician bethought him of a plan, he fills all the mail bags with stereotyped letters addressed to the individual voters ground out (not copyrighted) on two different machines, one kind of argument for supposed democrats and an entirely different prescription for republicans; to the latter the plea was made that Hermann had been put out of the general land office and was not in favor with the present administration; Mr. Reames was an innocent, pure young man, of course being opposed to the administration being politically could offer no promise of being able to accomplish anything for the people of his state, but ought to be elected as a rebuke to that obnoxious man Hermann.

"The devil can cite scripture for his purpose.
An evil soul producing holy witness Is like a villain with a smiling cheek; A goodly apple rotten at the heart; Oh, what a apple outside falsehood bath!"

Of course no sensible thinking person ever believed these statements, but if any lingering doubt lurked in the mind of the voter it was effectually and forever dispelled by that "snap shot" reproduced on May 22nd in the Oregonian, showing Mr. Hermann in friendly converse with the President by special invitation of the latter. Hence this last ingenious, but fine spun theory being exploded, the enemy's ammunition exhausted, no scars visible, the Republican candidate has come through the battle unscathed.
Another significant fact developed by the campaign is that not a single word has been, or could be said to the disparagement of Hermann's ability or integrity as a representative; indeed, his past record in the Halls of Congress forbade it, having been through our delegate in the congressional convention chosen from among a number of worthy and able aspirants for the same position, BROOKS HENNING as our standard bearer, with the unimpeachable evidence before us of the cordial relations existing between him and the administration, we who believe in Republican principles of progress and continued prosperity can do much toward the continuation thereof, not merely by electing Mr. Hermann, but by an increased plurality.

Certainly every person in any way or manner interested in developing the timber and lumber industry in Oregon regardless of past party affiliations owes Hermann his individual support.
REPUBLICAN.

RIGHTS OF VOTERS
Any qualified elector in the 1st Congressional District, may vote at the coming election to be held next Monday, in any precinct and in any county in the District, by making the prescribed oath and furnishing the requisite affidavits of his qualifications.

While this is in strict accord with the election law, it is recommended that wherever practicable voters should vote in their respective voting precincts, but attention is called to the above provisions to enable all who are entitled to vote to avail themselves of the privilege, also to dispel doubts and possible controversies.
