CATARRH CANNOT BE CURED

With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and its regular prescription.
It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh.

Colds

"I had a terrible cold and could hardly breathe. I then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and it gave me immediate relief."
W. C. Layton, Sidell, Ill.

How will your cough be tonight? Worse, probably. For it's first a cold, then a cough, then bronchitis or pneumonia, and at last consumption.
Coughs always tend downward. Stop this downward tendency by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Consult your doctor. If he says take it, then do as he says. If he tells you not to take it, then don't take it. He knows.
Leave it with him. He is willing.

MARSHALL FIELD AND CO.'S WAREHOUSE MANAGER

Cured of Catarrh of Kidneys by Pe-ru-na.

HON. JOHN T. SHEAHAN, OF CHICAGO.

Hon. John T. Sheahan, who has been for seventeen years manager of Marshall Field & Co.'s wholesale warehouse, and is corporal 2d Regiment Infantry, I. N. G., writes the following letter from 3753 Indiana avenue, Flat Six, Chicago, Ill.:

Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.
Gentlemen—Last summer I caught a cold which seemed to settle in my kidneys and affected them badly. I tried a couple of kidney remedies largely advertised, but they did not help me any. One of my foremen told me of the great help he had received in using Peruna in a similar case, and I at once procured some.

"It was indeed a blessing to me, as I am on my feet a large part of the day, and trouble such as I had affected me seriously, but four bottles of Peru-na cured me entirely and I would not be without it for three months salu-ary."—JOHN T. SHEAHAN.

Mr. Jacob Fleig writes from 44 Sumner avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.:

"I am now a new man at the age of seventy-five years, thanks to your wonderful remedy Peruna."—Jacob Fleig.

Catarrhal inflammation of the mucous lining of the kidneys, also called "Bright's disease," may be either acute or chronic. The acute form produces the symptoms of such prominence that the serious nature of the disease is at once suspected, but the chronic variety may come on so gradually and insidiously that its presence is not suspected until after it has fastened itself thoroughly upon its victims.

At the appearance of the first symptom Peruna should be taken. This remedy strikes at once at the very root of the disease.

Stop cracks in a wall with plaster of Paris, but mix the plaster with vinegar, its setting too quickly and makes it easy of manipulation.

A Good Beginning

If the blood is in good condition at the beginning of the warm season, you are prepared to resist disease and are not apt to be troubled with boils, pimples, blackheads and blotches, or the itching and burning skin eruptions that make one's life a veritable torment and misery.

Now is the time to begin the work of cleansing and building up the blood and strengthening the weak places in your constitution. During the cold winter months we are compelled to live indoors and breathe the impur-air of badly ventilated rooms and offices. We over-work and over-eat, and get too little out-door exercise, and our systems become clogged with impurities and the blood a hot-bed of germs and humors of every kind, and warm weather is sure to bring a reaction, and the poisonous matter in the blood and system will break out in boils and pustules or scaly eruptions and red, disfiguring bumps and pimples. Make a good beginning this season by taking a course of S. S. S. in time; it will not only purify your blood and destroy the germs and poisons, but promote healthy action of the Liver and Kidneys and give you a good appetite at a time when you need it most.

S. S. S. improves the digestion and tones up the stomach, and you are not continually haunted by the fear of indigestion every time you eat, or troubled with dizziness, nervousness and sleeplessness. There is no reason to dread the coming of warm weather if you have your system well fortified and the blood in a normal, healthy condition. It is the polluted, stagnant blood that invites disease germs, microbes and poisons of every kind and bring on a long train of spring and summer ailments, break down the constitution, and produce weakness, lassitude, and other debilitating disorders.
Eczema, Acne, Nettle-rash, Poison Oak and Ivy, and other irritating skin troubles are sure to make their appearance unless the humors and poisons are antidoted and the thin, acid blood made rich and strong before the coming of warm weather.

A course of S. S. S. now would be a safe precaution and a good beginning and enable you to pass in comfort through the hot, sultry months and escape the diseases common to spring and summer. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable and is recognized as the best blood purifier and the most invigorating and pleasant of all tonics.

its Diseases."

FEW DICKENS HOUSES LEFT.

March of Modern Improvement Responsible for Their Demolition.
Very few of Dickens' houses remain.
One after another of the quaint old buildings described in his novels or in which their scenes were laid are being torn away to give room to modern office buildings. "The Old Curiosity Shop," the home of little Nell, can still be identified in an old paper and junk warehouse in Portsmouth street, near the courts, and near by, at No. 58, is the home of Mr. Tulkinghorn, the lawyer in "Bleak House." It was occupied for a long time by John Forster, the biographer of Dickens. Oliver Goldsmith lived and died in No. 2 Brick court, Middle Temple Lane, up two flights of stairs, and is buried in the adjoining churchyard. Blackstone wrote his commentaries in the next building, and his room may be seen today. Thackeray and Tom Taylor lived at No. 10, and Milton spent several years in the same locality. Nearly every one of the old buildings is identified with historic characters.

Over on Holborn, one of the great arteries of trade, several of the Dickens houses may be easily found by the use of the Dickens Dictionary. Dom-bey & Son are real people and have a tailor shop in the city. Mr. Dombey's house, which Dickens says "stood on the shady side of a tall, dark, dreadfully gabled street," may be one of a dozen or more answering that description. Admiral Lord Nelson, Lord Byron and Turner, the celebrated painter, lived in the same block. Sairy Gamp and Betsey Prigg lived in a shop in Kingsgate street which is now occupied by a barber; Furnival's Inn, formerly one of the most picturesque buildings of old London, in which Dickens wrote "The Pickwick Papers," "Sketches by Boz," "Oliver Twist" and "Nicholas Nickleby," has been torn down within the last two years, and in its place now stands a magnificent structure of red brick and terra cotta belonging to the Prudential Life Insurance Company. St. Andrews' Church, across the street, is identified with Oliver Twist and Bill Sykes, who stopped and counseled under its shadow one night on their memorable burglary excursion.—W. E. Curtis, in Chicago Record-Herald.

A GENTLE PROFESSOR.

Two Anecdotes of an Old-Time Yale Instructor.

Dr. Dwight, in his "Memories of Yale Life and Men," gives many a glimpse of the gracious men who made for themselves a good name at the same time that they built up the reputation of the university. College life half a century ago was as unlike the life of to-day as the instruction now given is unlike the work of the old recitation room. Dr. Dwight tells two stories of Professor Stillman, one of which illustrates the educational and the other the disciplinary spirit of the time.

I had presented myself before him, on a certain occasion near the end of my academic course, for an examination on studies in his department. He asked me to take a chair near him, and then, in a way peculiar to himself, —a way that was very helpful, rather than embarrassing to the student,—he questioned me on various points for half an hour.

Then, rising and going to his table, he looked at some papers, and selecting one, said:
"I suppose you would like to have me give you a certificate that your examination has been satisfactory, which you may hand to the president." I gave him, of course, an affirmative answer. He then handed me the paper, saying:
"Not doubting that you would pass, I wrote the certificate before you came in."

The professor was requested to give the first vote in the decision of a matter of discipline. He took the college catalogue, which was lying on the table near him, and opening it, he said:
"What is the student's name, Mr.
President?"
"Jones," the president replied.

"Ah," said he, after turning over the pages somewhat carefully, "Jones of the junior class?"
"Yes," was the reply.
"I notice that he is from Baltimore," the professor answered. "When I was lecturing in that city his father entertained me most hospitably at his house. I think I would treat the young man as leniently as possible.

The Reasoning Child.

It was in a Philadelphia public school the other day that a class in spelling was going over a lesson in words of two syllables. One of the words was "mummy." "Children," said the teacher, "how many of you know the meaning of the word 'mummy'?" After a long silence one little girl raised her hand.

"Well, Maggie?"
"It means yer mother."
The teacher pointed out her mistake, and explained fully the meaning of the word. Presently the word "poppy" had to be spelled.
"Who knows what 'poppy' means?"
asked the teacher.
The same little girl raised her hand, this time brimful of confidence.
"Well, what's the answer, Maggie?"
"It means a man mummy," replied the child.

Consumption of Pig Iron.

The consumption of pig iron in the United States for the year is estimated at 20,000,000 tons. The furnaces have been producing on that basis, but a million tons of pig iron has been brought abroad. This has depressed the market so that a number of furnaces have blown out.

Water Rights Involed.

At the dinner of the Associated Press recently, Congressman Bede, of Minnesota, said that there was so much water in some of the present day trusts that he doubted if the stockholder could realize even the riparian rights.

We find that we are getting old, and that all our life we have been too crowded for time to read a description of a sunset.

We object to the word "wisdom" straying out of a novel to be applic-ed to any real girl.

Miss Agnes Miller, of Chicago, speaks to young women about dangers of the Menstrual Period—how to avoid pain and suffering and remove the cause by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"To YOUNG WOMEN:—I suffered for six years with dysmenrhea (painful periods), so much so that I dreaded every month, as I knew it meant three or four days of intense pain. The doctor said this was due to an inflamed condition of the uterine appendages caused by repeated and neglected colds.

"If young girls only realized how dang'rous it is to take cold at this critical time, much suffering would be spared them. Thank God for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that was the only medicine which helped me. Within three weeks after I started to take it, I noticed a marked improvement in my general health, and at the time of my next monthly period the pain had diminished considerably. I kept up the treatment, and was cured a month later. I am another person since. I am in perfect health, my eyes are brighter, I have added 12 pounds to my weight, my color is good, and I feel light and happy."—MISS AGNES MILLER, 25 Potomac Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The monthly sickness reflects the condition of a woman's health. Anything unusual at that time should have prompt and proper attention. Fifty thousand letters from women prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound regulates menstruation and makes these periods painless.
