Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hamaker left on Wednesday's stage for the railroad. They will visit in San Francisco with S. C. Trayner and family for a short time and also take in Ben Hur, which is playing at the Grand Opera House, with 250 people in the cast.

The November term of court, which closed Friday was eventful in that there were eleven convictions for gambling in Klamath Falls besides one against W. E. Grimmett for running a bawdy house and one against Chester Wilson for stealing a calf. The fines amounted to $1075.

At the Sunday evening service at the M. E. Church, Presiding Elder Sumnerville was present. There were six accessions to the church and the baptismal rites were administered. There will be preaching next Sunday evening by the pastor; subject, "The fullness God has prepared for those who love him."

Special services are being held each evening at the Presbyterian church with a good attendance and interest. The pastor adheres closely to the truth and dares to preach the whole counsel of God. He expects in the near future to use the stereopticon to illustrate bible themes, with the hope of popularizing bible study for intellectual pleasure as well as spiritual improvement. The Sabbath services will be of special interest. Come once and you will come again.

Wm. Schlect, who has been buying timber in the northern part of the county for the Yawkey Lumber Company of Wisconsin, arrived here Wednesday from the Deschutes. He came by way of Fort Klamath and states that the storm has been something awful in the mountains. He says that there are from two to three feet of snow already and that the stockmen all predict a very hard winter as hay is scarce with them. Mr. Schlect met a party of immigrants who were on their way to Big Meadows but had got snowed in and were without feed for their horses.

Rev. George Wilbur Brown, who was pastor of the Klamath Falls Presbyterian church a few years ago, and who is well known to many of the people of Ashland, is now pastor of the Tipton, Indiana, church, and is having excellent success in his work. The Tipton church is one of the best churches in that part of Indiana and pays its pastor a large salary. Since his return to the East he has married and his home is now brightened by a bright baby boy who recently celebrated his first birthday. Mr. Brown was recently appointed examiner in Ecclesiastical History in his Presbytery—Ashland Tidings.

Judge Hanna and Court Reporter Calkins left Saturday for the railroad. The former goes to his home at Jacksonville and the latter to Ashland.

There are two kinds of whiskey. Cyrus Noble and the other kind—Houston Bros.

SMITH-BRISTOW.

Mr. Henry L. Smith, of Keno and Miss Sadie Bristow, of Portland, were married at the home of R. A. Emmitt, Wednesday, Nov. 11 1903 at 4:30 P. M. by Rev. J. P. Lee. Both the contracting parties are blind. The bride has been a teacher in the school for the blind at Salem for a number of years and is an excellent musician. The groom is a resident of Klamath County and has conducted a restaurant and confectionery store for a number of years, at Keno where he and his bride will make their future home. Those present at the wedding were Rev. J. P. Lee, Mrs. A. Castel, Mrs. R. A. Emmitt, Misses Ivy and Charmion Emmitt and Messrs. Albert Smith, Fred Diehn and Ray Anderson.

SEASON CLOSING HERE.

Moore's Comedians finished their five nights stand and also closed their season here Saturday night and the members of the company, with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. Moore, have left for other engagements on the railroad. Fred Moore had this season the strongest repertoire company on the coast and our citizens can feel proud that wherever this company have played they were spoken of as from Klamath Falls. They were certainly a good advertisement for our city. Mr. and Mrs. Burns have returned to Seattle to their old position there; Messrs. Eisen and Wheeler have gone to Portland. Mr. Eisen has engagements to deliver a number of lectures on the coast, after which he will go east. Mr. and Mrs. Jahnigen went to Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Moore and son will remain here for a short time, while Mr. Moore is making arrangements to store his show property, after which they will go either to San Francisco or Portland to join Mrs. Moore's brother, who is playing Messala in Ben Hur.

Mr. Moore informs us that he will probably put on two companies next season but has not decided just what route he will cover. He does not think he will show in Southern Oregon next year as the season is too short here, besides he has a great number of urgent requests from towns in California. We will all be truly sorry if we should lose Mr. Moore and his excellent company.

THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

It was ten years ago, Oberlin, Ohio, that the first State League was organized. Two years later a national organization was effected at Washington, D. C., by representatives of forty-seven reform bodies. Since then the number has grown to two hundred and fifty federated organizations of state or national size. The League has in its employ more than two hundred workers and expends over a quarter of a million dollars yearly to accomplish its ends. Its aim is to unite in an aggressive movement upon a non-partisan platform all who are opposed to the licensed saloon. It calls upon the friends of temperance to work for the nomination and election of candidates on all the tickets who are willing to carry out the wishes of the temperance element of society. It stands for pure politics, good government, the enforcement of law, the protection of the home, especially the boys who are being ruined by saloon influence. It is not a law and order league, but aims to build up a public sentiment in favor of the election of officers who will enact rights laws and enforce the same according to their sworn duty. It advocates local option by municipal and rural products as applied to the licensed saloon, referring the whole question to a vote of the people and letting the majority rule. This is the referendum applied to the liquor problem, or home rule. So all citizens, regardless of party affiliations, who favor this principle are asked to work for the nomination and election of men who will commit themselves to this policy, whether in the town council or state legislature. It regards officers as the servants of the people and that they should carry out the wishes of their constituents.
