C. A. Lange, of Seattle, agent for the Postly Jail Co., of St. Louis, Mo., was in the city this week and sold the county through the County Commissioners two jail cells and a corridor to be placed inside of the present jail walls. The cells are made of the best 5-ply welded steel and iron and are warranted proof against any cutting tool or hack saw. The Commissioners showed good judgment in buying the best goods made and there is no danger of an escape with cells of this kind. A good jail is certainly needed in Klamath county.

Our attention has been called to the fact that we made an error in last issue in stating that the bond for county clerk had been reduced from $15,000 to $10,000. We wish to correct this as we find that the clerk is only required to give a bond for $10,000. It is true however, that Jas. H. Driscoll gave a bond for $10,000 with S. W. Kilgore $2000, G. T. Conner $2000, M. Hartley $10,000 and L. J. Ranman $1000. In explanation it is stated that bonds for $5000 had been secured and Hartley insisted on going the full $10,000, and they were all left on the bonds.

T. A. Brown arrived in the city Monday from a visit to Portland. While at Ager he was held as a witness on a coroner's inquest. The Yreka Journal says: Coroner Doc O'Connell was called out again last Saturday morning to Klamath, for holding an inquest on a man named Thos. Granlund, native of Michigan, aged 35 years, who was killed by the night passenger train No. 11, north-bound. From the facts elicited, the deceased left Thrall the previous evening at a late hour on horseback under the influence of liquor, and evidently was severely hurt by falling or being thrown from his horse, then crawling up the bank towards the railroad, laid down with his head on the track. The night train due soon after, midnight evidently struck his head, pushing him off the track, where he was found dead. He was well known as having been around Hornbrook, Klamath and other places in that section. Two bottles of whiskey were found in his pockets. The jury rendered a verdict of death as above stated, and the remains were brought to Yreka, for interment by Undertaker Herman.

DAIRY CLEANINGS.

A few years ago the rabbits were a plague in this county. Now there are very few. Hunters are complaining that they can not find any. This is the result of the bounty put up on their scalps by the county court.

OBITUARY.
Word was received here at 8 o'clock Monday morning by C. C. Chitwood that his sister, Mrs. Irene Hemenway had died that morning.
Mrs. Irene Hemenway was born in Marion County, Oregon, about 40 years ago. She resided there for some time, when her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Chitwood moved to Ashland. She made her home there for a number of years and then came to Klamath Falls where she remained for some time. On June 29, 1903, she was married to Dr. Stacy Hemenway, a prominent physician at Klamath Agency. She was taken suddenly ill last Thursday with apoplexy and seemed to be improving but was taken with a relapse and on Monday passed away. The remains were taken to Ashland for interment and the funeral services were held yesterday afternoon.
She leaves a husband, Dr. S. Hemenway, and sister, Mrs. S. K. Ogle of Klamath Agency, and Mrs. C. B. Watson, and brother, H. T. Chitwood of Ashland and another brother, C. C. Chitwood of Klamath Falls, to mourn her loss.
Governor Chamberlain has issued his proclamation against setting out fires in the woods and forests of the state. The fine is $20 to $1000.
Safeguard the Children.
Notwithstanding all that has been done by boards of health and charitably inclined persons, the death rate among small children is very high during the hot weather of the summer months in the large cities. There is not probably one case of bowel complaint in a hundred, however, that could not be cured by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by C. C. Chitwood.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.
"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge, of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by C. C. Chitwood.
