

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1904.

LOCAL NEWS.

L. Alva Lewis for cloths.
J. F. Adams of Tule Lake was in the city Saturday.
L. Alva Lewis for rings.
Mrs. Dan Maloy of Lakeview, is visiting her mother Mrs. E. E. Heidrich.
L. Alva Lewis for jewelry.
W. P. Rhoads, the sawmill man of Merrill and wife were in the city Tuesday.
L. Alva Lewis for vest chains.
For first class goods and prompt delivery service call on Graham & O'Neil, Phone 173.
L. Alva Lewis for wedding rings.
Virgil Conn, wife and children of Paisley, were registered at the Linkville, Friday.
L. Alva Lewis for watches.
First class shoe repairing done by up-to-date workmen. Klamath Commercial Company.
L. Alva Lewis for gold pens.
S. Ed. Martin and wife and Miss Marks came up from Merrill Saturday to remain over Sunday.
L. Alva Lewis' watch repair department.
Families can be supplied now with "Tony's Best" at the Central Dining Parlors with or without meals.
L. Alva Lewis for silverware.
Mrs. A. J. Nelson will be in Klamath Falls about October 1st, with a complete line of fall and winter millinery.
L. Alva Lewis for lockets.
New Fall and Winter stock of Ladies and Misses trimmed hats at Malone's Millinery Store. Call and see them.
L. Alva Lewis for lodge pins.
If any other watchmaker has failed to make your watch run bring it to me, if it don't, it won't cost you a cent.—H. J. Winters.
L. Alva Lewis' watch maker.
Order your lumber at the new lumber yard. Good dry lumber, flooring, ceiling etc.
Paul Brienstein, Agent.
L. Alva Lewis for scarf pins.
A big dance is being advertised at Merrill Friday evening October 7th. Good music has been secured. Supper will be served at the Riverside Hotel.
L. Alva Lewis' watch repair department.
When treating your mother-in-law you should be careful not to give her a glass of Graham & O'Neil's Iron Beer. If you do she will stay with you the rest of the year.
L. Alva Lewis for necklaces.
"A Noble Outcast" at the Opera House Saturday evening next. A play that pleases all the people all the time. Seats now on sale at Opera House.
L. Alva Lewis for watch chains.
Wm. Gunther and wife arrived from Portland yesterday enroute to Lakeview, where Mr. Gunther will engage in the harness and saddlery business with S. F. Ahlstrom.
L. Alva Lewis for cuff buttons.
On Saturday evening next Moore's Comedians will present the beautiful 4-act drama entitled "A Noble Outcast," a story that appeals to every heart. A continuous performance, no waits. Buy seats at Opera House store.
L. Alva Lewis for ladies chains.
Presbyterian Church, Sabbath School at 10: A. M. Sermon at 11: followed by the Lord's Supper. C. E. Service at 7: P. M. and sermon at 7:30 on "Saving and Losing Life." Prayer service at 7:30 Wednesday evening. All made welcome.
L. Alva Lewis for ladies watches.
The Linkville Saddlery, successors to Bradley & Gunther, have secured Mr. Harry Glazier, an expert saddler, who is familiar with the wants of this country in his line, having worked for Mr. Ahlstrom, at Lakeview, for five years. With Emile Egert making harness, and Harry Glazier making saddles, it is believed that the farmers and vaqueros can be suited.
L. Alva Lewis for gentlemen's watches.

will be assistant manager.
The carpenters are still at work on the building and radical changes are being made in the arrangement of the rooms on the first floor so that when the building is completed Klamath Falls can boast of one of the finest and best equipped hotels in Southern Oregon.
Mrs. McMillan is an ideal landlady and her long experience in the hotel business, which has extended throughout a great portion of California, gives her an intimate acquaintance with the needs of the traveling public. Manager Ross Anderson is also well known and his courteous manner will make him a general favorite among the patrons of hotels.
TOILERS OF THE COLUMBIA
Tells in the most graphic way of the wars among the fishermen of the Columbia River twenty years ago, and there is a beautiful love story and other human events told by the author, Paul De Laney, in a way that wins the reader on the start and maintains interest to the end. Those who are in good standing on our subscription list will be sure to have this story soon.

MERRILL ITEMS.
C. Swanson, the wholesale butcher of Sacramento, has been here for the last week. He bought 150 head of cattle of Straw Bros., also some 40 head of Bond Bros., of Cornell.
There have been eight bands of cattle pass through here within the last ten days, all bound for Montague and Gazelle. Most of them were consigned to the Oakland Meat Company and the large wholesale house of Poly Chayburg and Co. of San Francisco, which your correspondent understands gives a rebate of two dollars a head on the offal of steers and one dollar a head on cows. Their office is 239 Kearney St. San Francisco. Mr. A. T. Langel is their agent in this locality.
There is but little "doing" in the way of disposing of the immense crop of alfalfa hay, feeders are not very anxious to dip in unless hay is sold at $1.50 to $2, as their very disastrous experience of last Spring, when hay went skywards, makes them all hold back. Most of the cattle, from what I can learn, will be sold in the market and the balance fed in Shasta, until there is a railroad. It don't look as if the Merrill country can compete with places near the center of shipping, as the drive and heavy expense during the winter take all the profits of the feeders.
Fred Melhase bought 200 tons of alfalfa of N. S. Merrill at five dollars a ton. Mr. Swanson has the Whitney hay bought, some 800 tons.
Louis Gerber bought the crop of Orfield & Graham, about 400 tons.
Chas. Horton has about 600 tons bought near the Gap.
Mr. Martin, the miller, is doing a large business with his grist mill. He is selling flour just as fast as he can turn it out and expects to run about four months. Klamath county will furnish flour for a big portion of Lake and Modoc counties.
Merrill Sept., 26.—Occasional.—

DEATH OF PROF. HOFFMAN.
Here is to whisky as a spirit,
It sets upon the mind,
It makes a man talk
When he doesn't feel inclined.
It acts without a figure,
It acts without a role,
It makes a man think he's wise
When he is only a fool.
Here is to cold water,
Fill the glass to the brim,
For water is a glorious thing
When a fellow wants to swim.
Oh! it has quenched my weary thirst,
And soothed my sorrowed brow,
But it hasn't for a long time now.
San Francisco, Sept. 22, 1904.
Editor Klamath Republican:—
Dear Sir,—It was the request of my husband to let his friends know of his death,—yes, in a lonely spot at Montgomery Creek he is at rest. In spite of all, the dreadful consumption fastened itself upon him until he was compelled to stop in that lonely place to die. Nothing could be done to relieve the suffering of the doomed man, the end came Saturday. He said he had been a man that drank to excess, and lived a stranger to God, that if he could only tell the boys and men of the United States, what whiskey would bring a man to, that they would let it alone. He knew everything until the last and he wrote a little toast that I will enclose to you.
About 4 o'clock he knelt and taking my hand, asked God to forgive him, and then he bid all the people goodbye, and kissed me and requested me not to worry, that he was better off than he would be here. He thought a good deal of your town, as the people there were kind to him.
He was known on the stage as Prof. Frank Hoffman, but his real name was Osborn.
He was from Cleveland, Ohio and was 40 years of age.
If you see fit you can publish this letter with the warning to the boys.
Yours Truly,
Mrs. Frank Hoffman.

See the new line of shirt waists at the City Novelty.

BIG MILITARY POST. MORE SUCCESSFUL THAN EVER.

TO BE ESTABLISHED IN OREGON. Eugene and Roseburg are After the Location, Why Not Klamath County?

Major General Mac Arthur has recommended to the United States Government, the establishment of an army post at some point in the Willamette Valley to accommodate a regiment of Cavalry. All the military men affiliated with the United States Army and Oregon militia are a unit in favor of this camp. It is known that the matter of an Oregon military camp was recently brought to General MacArthur's notice by Colonel James Jackson of Eugene.
If the proposed military camp is established it will mean the expenditure of nearly $70,000 annually, in food for men and horses, in addition to construction expenses in the different camp buildings. A regiment of cavalry consists of 840 officers and men and about 1200 horses. Government reports show that the cost of keeping a horse per month is between $8 and $9, and that the cost of keeping a United States soldier per month is between $7 and $8. As to horse feed, this item of expense alone, for forage, would be an important opportunity for the local farmers.
Colonel James Jackson, retired United States Army, says: "we are all agreed as to the advisability of such a plan, whereby the Pacific Coast can get its share of armament, along with other portions of the country." We have only one military post in Oregon, Fort Stevens, devoted to coast artillery. I don't approve of military posts being located in close proximity to a large town, of course a military board will have to choose a site."

Last year some effort was made to have a central camp established in Klamath County, to be used for the annual encampment of the Oregon and Washington Militia, but another site was selected, which has not proved entirely satisfactory. The attention of the officials was drawn to the advantages of Swan Lake valley, as a location for an ideal military camp. There is no more natural or suitable site for a military camp and rifle range in the West than can be found in Klamath County. Besides Eugene, Roseburg, Ashland and other towns along the Southern Pacific all have companies of the state militia, while Klamath, Lake, Crook and nearly the whole of Southern Oregon are entirely unprotected.

SOUTHERN OREGON WANTS IT. Oregon Development League Pass Resolutions on Military Post.
Resolved—First, that it is the sense of this League that said Military Post be located and maintained at some eligible site in Southern Oregon, convenient to the Southern Pacific line of railway, and midway to the Pacific ocean, and the country lying east of the Cascade Mountains.
Secondly, the necessity for such a post in Southern Oregon is apparent, in view of its vast area, and of its geographical position relative to the whole state, the state contiguous, and to the unprotected sea coast; the area of Southern Oregon alone, equaling that of twice the size of New Hampshire, or of the combined area of New Jersey and New Hampshire and has an approximate area of 17,000 square miles, counting from the summit of the Cascade mountains, on the north. In all this vast territory, there is not a single fort, garrison or other national defense, Fort Klamath, in Southern Oregon, having for many years been the last military post south of Portland, in Oregon. Only two companies of National Guard belong to Southern Oregon. In early years, it was the policy of the Government to maintain numerous Military Posts in this section of the State. United States troops being stationed at Fort Orford, Fort Umpqua, Fort Lane and Fort Klamath.
Thirdly, the strategical importance of a post in Southern Oregon is further shown in the many highways to the sea shore, connecting with the different harbors, and with the vast country east of the Cascade Mountains, and with California and Nevada on the South and Southeast. Several lines of railway are now in contemplation which are to connect California and Southern Oregon, by the way of the coast, and only a short distance over the Oregon and California line, a railroad from the Southern Pacific railroad has been completed into the Klamath Lake region.

TOILERS OF THE COLUMBIA.
Our great Pacific Coast story, soon to appear. Get on our star list of paid-ups and watch for the opening chapters. A story for young and old, grave and gay. It appeals to all.

BIG MILITARY POST. MORE SUCCESSFUL THAN EVER.

TO BE ESTABLISHED IN OREGON. Eugene and Roseburg are After the Location, Why Not Klamath County?

Major General Mac Arthur has recommended to the United States Government, the establishment of an army post at some point in the Willamette Valley to accommodate a regiment of Cavalry. All the military men affiliated with the United States Army and Oregon militia are a unit in favor of this camp. It is known that the matter of an Oregon military camp was recently brought to General MacArthur's notice by Colonel James Jackson of Eugene.
If the proposed military camp is established it will mean the expenditure of nearly $70,000 annually, in food for men and horses, in addition to construction expenses in the different camp buildings. A regiment of cavalry consists of 840 officers and men and about 1200 horses. Government reports show that the cost of keeping a horse per month is between $8 and $9, and that the cost of keeping a United States soldier per month is between $7 and $8. As to horse feed, this item of expense alone, for forage, would be an important opportunity for the local farmers.
Colonel James Jackson, retired United States Army, says: "we are all agreed as to the advisability of such a plan, whereby the Pacific Coast can get its share of armament, along with other portions of the country." We have only one military post in Oregon, Fort Stevens, devoted to coast artillery. I don't approve of military posts being located in close proximity to a large town, of course a military board will have to choose a site."

Last year some effort was made to have a central camp established in Klamath County, to be used for the annual encampment of the Oregon and Washington Militia, but another site was selected, which has not proved entirely satisfactory. The attention of the officials was drawn to the advantages of Swan Lake valley, as a location for an ideal military camp. There is no more natural or suitable site for a military camp and rifle range in the West than can be found in Klamath County. Besides Eugene, Roseburg, Ashland and other towns along the Southern Pacific all have companies of the state militia, while Klamath, Lake, Crook and nearly the whole of Southern Oregon are entirely unprotected.

SOUTHERN OREGON WANTS IT. Oregon Development League Pass Resolutions on Military Post.
Resolved—First, that it is the sense of this League that said Military Post be located and maintained at some eligible site in Southern Oregon, convenient to the Southern Pacific line of railway, and midway to the Pacific ocean, and the country lying east of the Cascade Mountains.
Secondly, the necessity for such a post in Southern Oregon is apparent, in view of its vast area, and of its geographical position relative to the whole state, the state contiguous, and to the unprotected sea coast; the area of Southern Oregon alone, equaling that of twice the size of New Hampshire, or of the combined area of New Jersey and New Hampshire and has an approximate area of 17,000 square miles, counting from the summit of the Cascade mountains, on the north. In all this vast territory, there is not a single fort, garrison or other national defense, Fort Klamath, in Southern Oregon, having for many years been the last military post south of Portland, in Oregon. Only two companies of National Guard belong to Southern Oregon. In early years, it was the policy of the Government to maintain numerous Military Posts in this section of the State. United States troops being stationed at Fort Orford, Fort Umpqua, Fort Lane and Fort Klamath.
Thirdly, the strategical importance of a post in Southern Oregon is further shown in the many highways to the sea shore, connecting with the different harbors, and with the vast country east of the Cascade Mountains, and with California and Nevada on the South and Southeast. Several lines of railway are now in contemplation which are to connect California and Southern Oregon, by the way of the coast, and only a short distance over the Oregon and California line, a railroad from the Southern Pacific railroad has been completed into the Klamath Lake region.

TOILERS OF THE COLUMBIA.
Our great Pacific Coast story, soon to appear. Get on our star list of paid-ups and watch for the opening chapters. A story for young and old, grave and gay. It appeals to all.

BIG MILITARY POST. MORE SUCCESSFUL THAN EVER.

TO BE ESTABLISHED IN OREGON. Eugene and Roseburg are After the Location, Why Not Klamath County?

Major General Mac Arthur has recommended to the United States Government, the establishment of an army post at some point in the Willamette Valley to accommodate a regiment of Cavalry. All the military men affiliated with the United States Army and Oregon militia are a unit in favor of this camp. It is known that the matter of an Oregon military camp was recently brought to General MacArthur's notice by Colonel James Jackson of Eugene.
If the proposed military camp is established it will mean the expenditure of nearly $70,000 annually, in food for men and horses, in addition to construction expenses in the different camp buildings. A regiment of cavalry consists of 840 officers and men and about 1200 horses. Government reports show that the cost of keeping a horse per month is between $8 and $9, and that the cost of keeping a United States soldier per month is between $7 and $8. As to horse feed, this item of expense alone, for forage, would be an important opportunity for the local farmers.
Colonel James Jackson, retired United States Army, says: "we are all agreed as to the advisability of such a plan, whereby the Pacific Coast can get its share of armament, along with other portions of the country." We have only one military post in Oregon, Fort Stevens, devoted to coast artillery. I don't approve of military posts being located in close proximity to a large town, of course a military board will have to choose a site."

Last year some effort was made to have a central camp established in Klamath County, to be used for the annual encampment of the Oregon and Washington Militia, but another site was selected, which has not proved entirely satisfactory. The attention of the officials was drawn to the advantages of Swan Lake valley, as a location for an ideal military camp. There is no more natural or suitable site for a military camp and rifle range in the West than can be found in Klamath County. Besides Eugene, Roseburg, Ashland and other towns along the Southern Pacific all have companies of the state militia, while Klamath, Lake, Crook and nearly the whole of Southern Oregon are entirely unprotected.

SOUTHERN OREGON WANTS IT. Oregon Development League Pass Resolutions on Military Post.
Resolved—First, that it is the sense of this League that said Military Post be located and maintained at some eligible site in Southern Oregon, convenient to the Southern Pacific line of railway, and midway to the Pacific ocean, and the country lying east of the Cascade Mountains.
Secondly, the necessity for such a post in Southern Oregon is apparent, in view of its vast area, and of its geographical position relative to the whole state, the state contiguous, and to the unprotected sea coast; the area of Southern Oregon alone, equaling that of twice the size of New Hampshire, or of the combined area of New Jersey and New Hampshire and has an approximate area of 17,000 square miles, counting from the summit of the Cascade mountains, on the north. In all this vast territory, there is not a single fort, garrison or other national defense, Fort Klamath, in Southern Oregon, having for many years been the last military post south of Portland, in Oregon. Only two companies of National Guard belong to Southern Oregon. In early years, it was the policy of the Government to maintain numerous Military Posts in this section of the State. United States troops being stationed at Fort Orford, Fort Umpqua, Fort Lane and Fort Klamath.
Thirdly, the strategical importance of a post in Southern Oregon is further shown in the many highways to the sea shore, connecting with the different harbors, and with the vast country east of the Cascade Mountains, and with California and Nevada on the South and Southeast. Several lines of railway are now in contemplation which are to connect California and Southern Oregon, by the way of the coast, and only a short distance over the Oregon and California line, a railroad from the Southern Pacific railroad has been completed into the Klamath Lake region.

TOILERS OF THE COLUMBIA.
Our great Pacific Coast story, soon to appear. Get on our star list of paid-ups and watch for the opening chapters. A story for young and old, grave and gay. It appeals to all.

SHOT HIS FOOT OFF. Meets With Serious Accident.

Eleven Year Old John Stankey Meets With Serious Accident.

Last Sunday morning A. E. Stankey of this city and his two young sons went down the river, in a boat, hunting. When about five miles below town, Mr. Stankey, seeing some ducks, reached for the gun which was laying in the bottom of the boat. The two boys were sitting in the rear with their feet close together. As Mr. Stankey picked up the gun, the trigger caught in the boat and the gun was discharged, the contents entering the foot of the older boy. The gun was so close that the shot tore the flesh and scattered pieces of bone in the boat. Quantities of rubber and cloth were driven into the flesh remaining. Mr. Stankey rowed back to town as fast as possible and the boy was taken to Dr. Hargus' office, where later in the day the foot was amputated above the ankle.
The boy displayed a wonderful amount of nerve during the long ride. He is doing nicely since the operation, although he suffers a great deal during the nights.

FAIRBANKS AT PORTLAND. Meeting Will Have Largest Attendance in the History of the State.
Although the Fairbanks-Dolliver meeting is practically one week off, the request for seats has become so great that it is doubtful whether the Armory will hold all who wish to listen to Republican doctrines as enunciated by the candidate for Vice-President on October 1.
Seats have been cared for to the extent of 2300 by the committee appointed by Chairman Baker, of the State Central Committee, and music will lend its charms, as a like committee has secured some of the best talent in the city.
Outside districts are knocking at the door for admission and a given amount of room. Every county in the state has notified Chairman Baker through the committee that it wants room for some of its people, and in a number of instances county chairmen asked what could be done for them in the way of getting special trains.
From the county replies are coming in just as thickly, but each letter is a plea for seats, for "we don't want to miss the big meeting" is the cry.
Mr. Baker is depending on Major Mc Donnell to seat the people, and if all cannot be accommodated there will be an overflow meeting with the slogan, "30,000 for Roosevelt and Fairbanks."

TOWN TREASURER'S NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that there are funds in the town treasury for the redemption of the following warrants: 1116, 1117, 1118, 1119, 1120, 1121, 1126, 1122, 1123, 1124, 1125, 1126.
Interest will cease from this date. Dated at Klamath Falls, Or., this 15th day of September, 1904.
J. W. SIEMENS, Town Treasurer.

THE NEW STORE. I am now located in my new store next to THE DUFFY COMPANY. I have the finest line of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry and Optical Goods in the county. New Goods at Right Prices. Be sure and see me before buying elsewhere for I can save you money.
H. J. WINTERS, Watchmaker and Optician. Repairing a specialty.

TOILERS Of the Columbia. The Great Pacific Coast Story By PAUL DeLANEY. Starts in This Paper Soon.
Better be enrolled on our Paid-in-Advance List and read this FAMOUS NOVEL. Andy Hose has wool of all kind for sale. Andy Hose sells hay and grain.

WILLITS DRY GOODS GROCERIES BOOTS AND SHOES Sugar and Salt BEDROCK PRICES ELECTRIC CASH STORE

BISHOP'S EXCLUSIVE FURNITURE STORE is the place to save money. Call and see my stock before sending out for your goods. I will take pleasure in showing you around and will give you prices that will justify you in buying at home. Complete line of iron and wood beds, springs and mattresses, chairs, tables, etc., etc.

This Space is Reserved for the Lakeside Inn, MRS. M. McMILLAN, Prop'r. Formerly The Linkville Hotel.

$250.00 REWARD. The Klamath County Live Stock Association will pay the above reward for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons found guilty of stealing or altering live horses, or brands of any stock belonging to any member of this association. Address Chas. Horton, President or J. O. Hamaker, Secretary.

GET THE HABIT BUY YOUR CIGARS AT MANNING'S A GENTLEMAN'S SMOKE -- GASTON -- I Also Carry the Following Brands of Choice Cigars: La Florence, James Lewis, Bella Vista, Red Buoy, La Belle Creole, Key West Havana, Major Domo, Panetelas, Hoffman, Creomo, Rendezvous, Sweet's, El Espada, Pretty Swede, Archimedes, Belle of the Falls.

UP-TO-DATE MILLINERY. Hats altered and trimmed to order. Mrs. G. W. Fish.

AMERICAN HOUSE. J. L. ARNETT, PROP'R. FIRST CLASS ROOMS AND GOOD BOARD. RATES, $1.00 AND $1.25 PER DAY.